Director of Athletics Bill Byrne

On behalf of the Nebraska Athletic Department, and all the wonderful fans in the State of Nebraska, welcome to Memorial Stadium for today's game.

Marilyn and I continue to be impressed by our wonderful Husker fans. It is this unbelievable "Big Red" support that enables Nebraska to continue its NCAA-record sellout streak, which will extend to 239 at the end of this season.

The Athletic Department is proud of the sincere sportsmanship extended by our fans. One of the noted traditions that sets Nebraska apart from most institutions is the warm and courteous welcome visiting teams and their fans receive. Tough competition and outstanding sportsmanship are vital components of intercollegiate athletics and our goals at the University of Nebraska.

On behalf of all Nebraskans, I would like to welcome visiting teams, fans, their coaches and student-athletes who will meet the Huskers on the field today. We hope that you enjoy your visit and the competition.

Huskers Look for Ninth Win Against Colorado

Today's Matchup

Today's Game: No. 10 (AP/Coaches) Nebraska (8-2) vs. Colorado (3-7)

Series History: Nebraska leads 42-14-2

Last Meeting: Nebraska won, 33-30 (OT), at Colorado on Nov. 26, 1999

Coaches: Nebraska - Frank Solich (29-7, Third Season); Colorado - Gary Barnett (10-12, Second Season at CU; 53-68-2 in 11 Seasons)

Husker Records

- 39 consecutive winning seasons
- 31 consecutive nine-win seasons
- 31 consecutive bowl bids
- 321 consecutive weeks ranked by the Associated Press
- 239 consecutive sellouts in Memorial Stadium

(Due to time constraints caused by the Thanksgiving holiday, the stories in the game program were written before Nov. 18.)

By Shamus McKnight

The Nebraska football team will try to extend one of the most impressive streaks in all of college football as the Huskers close the regular season by playing host to Colorado today.

With a victory, the Huskers can extend their streak of nine-win seasons to 32, the longest streak in NCAA history. Nebraska has won nine or more games every year since 1969, including 18 seasons with 10-or-more wins.

Today is also a special day in the Husker program, as 27 seniors play their final home game at Memorial Stadium. The members of the senior class have a 42-7 record, winning a national title in 1997 and two Big 12 titles during their career. A win over Colorado would also give the seniors their third perfect home season in the last four years and a 24-1 record at Memorial Stadium.

Both the Huskers and the Buffaloes are looking to bounce back after disappointing losses two weeks ago. The Huskers, who dropped to 10th in both Nov. 12 polls, lost an opportunity to clinch the North Division title with a 29-28 loss at Kansas State. In that game, the Huskers rallied from a 23-13 fourth quarter deficit behind the running of I-back Dan Alexander, who rushed for 103 of his 130 yards in the fourth quarter. The senior, who became the first Husker to reach the 1,000-yard mark in a season since 1997, scored on runs of 19 and 45 yards to give the Huskers a 28-23 lead before KSU scored with 2:52 remaining. Alexander is one of eight semifinalists for the Doak Walker Award, honoring the top running back in college football. The loss overshadowed an outstanding defensive effort from linebacker Carlos Polk, who made a career-best 15 stops, including eight solo tackles.

Colorado enters today's game with a 3-7 record after a 35-27 loss to Iowa State on Nov. 11. In that game, the Buffaloes led 20-9 midway through the second quarter before Iowa State scored 23 unanswered points en route to the victory. In the loss, CU quarterback Craig Ochs completed 25-of-34 passes for 307 yards, with nine of those passes going to senior split end Javon Green for 167 yards.

A true freshman, Ochs has completed 120-of-204 passes for 1,524 yards and six touchdowns since taking over the starting job five games into the season. On the ground, Cortlen Johnson is Colorado's top rusher with 467 yards and five TDs. Johnson, who rushed for 135 yards in last season's overtime loss to Nebraska, rushed for 73 yards and three touchdowns against ISU and has missed part of the season with injuries.

Green is CU's top receiving threat, hauling in 43 passes for 642 yards and four touchdowns, while John Minardi is close behind with 42 catches for 502 yards.

Defensively, defensive back Michael Lewis leads the CU defense with 106 tackles, including 71 solos, while linebacker Jashon Sykes is close on his heels with 97, including 3.5 sacks for 21 yards. Sykes has recorded double-figure efforts in each of the last two games against the Huskers, making 14 tackles and recovering three fumbles in a losing effort last season.

Nebraska, which holds a commanding 42-14-2 series lead, has history on its side, not losing back-to-back regular-season games since 1976 and only one time to a team with a below .500 record since 1973.

Although Nebraska has won the last eight meetings, the series has been hotly contested, as the Huskers have won the last four meetings by a combined 13 points. Last season, the Huskers, behind a 180-yard, three-TD performance from Alexander, built a 27-3 lead before Mike Moschetti rallied the Buffaloes by throwing three touchdown passes in the fourth quarter to send the game into overtime. Eric Crouch's one-yard touchdown gave the Huskers the victory and the Big 12 North Division title. Crouch rushed for 123 yards on 19 carries, as the Huskers rushed for 356 yards in the win. The Huskers also received a heroic effort from punter Dan

This Week In Husker Sports

The top-ranked Husker volleyball team concludes its regular season with a 7 p.m. match at Kansas State this Saturday evening, Nov. 25, at 7 p.m. The Huskers will likely play host to the first two rounds of the NCAA Tournament next weekend. Check on Huskers.com following the announcement of NCAA pairings this Sunday, Nov. 26.

The Husker men's and women's basketball teams will both be in action this week. The NU women take on Southeastern Louisiana this Saturday, Nov. 26 at 7:05 p.m., while the Husker men, which are featured on pages 162-163 of this week's program, will play host to Winthrop Monday, Nov. 27 at 7:05 p.m.

The Nebraska rifle team will host its only home match of the 2000-01 season next Saturday, Dec. 2, as the Huskers will take on UMKC and Wyoming beginning at 8 a.m. at the NU Indoor Rifle Range (located next to the NU Coliseum).

Hadenfeldt, who set an NU single-game record with a 57.6 yard average on seven punts, placing the Buffs inside their own 20-yard line five times.

Two years ago, the teams locked up in a defensive struggle before the Huskers prevailed 16-14. Clint Finley scored Nebraska's only touchdown, returning an interception 42 yards, as the Blackshirts recorded six sacks and forced three turnovers in the win.

Husker Honors

Congratulations are in order for several Huskers for their accomplishments on and off the field. In addition to Alexander being named to the Doak Walker semifinal list, center Dominic Raiola was recently selected as one of four finalists for the Lombardi Award, while Eric Crouch and Tracey Wistrom also made semifinal lists for the Davey O'Brien and John Mackey Awards, recognizing the top quarterback and tight end, respectively.

From the Desk of Harvey Perlman

Graduates of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln find success in all walks of life. One way to judge the quality of a university is by the achievements of its alumni. On that basis, Nebraska ranks among the best. Our graduates are prepared to tackle graduate or professional school or simply to take on and meet the challenges of careers as diverse as marine biology to television anchorperson. It's easy to be proud of them.

For instance, former Husker football player Jon Kelley is an anchor for Fox Sports Network in Los Angeles. This 1988 graduate of the College of Journalism and Mass Communications earned his degree in broadcast journalism, and has worked at KOLN-TV in Lincoln, KMTV in Omaha and KTIV in Sioux City, Iowa, and was weekend sports anchor at WDAF-TV in Kansas City before moving to WMAQ in Chicago where he won a Chicago/Midwest Emmy Award for hosting Sports Sunday, a weekend highlights show. He also served as the station's sports anchor and sports director. Now with the national Fox Network, Kelley is a Lincoln native. The College of Journalism honored him last year with its Outstanding Broadcasting Alumnus Award.

In 1997, Stephanie Watwood graduated from UNL with a degree in biology. Since then, she's entered a five-year Ph.D. program in biological oceanography at MIT. Armed with a grant from National Geographic to study dolphin communication through a joint project of MIT and the Woods Hole Oceanographic Institute, Watwood spends hours at sea with other scientists tracking and recording dolphins. While at UNL, Stephanie did independent research with Dr. John Janovy in his lab and also spent time at Cedar Point Biological Station. As an undergraduate at UNL, Watwood had a summer internship at Moat Marine Laboratory and Aquarium in Sarasota, Florida. It led to her interest in graduate studies research at Moat. A participant in the UNL Honors Program, Watwood was an active student member in UNL Red Cross while on campus.

Bradshaw native Ed Wiley graduated in 1994 with a degree in mathematics. He went on to earn a master's degree in educational psychology from UNL and subsequently a Ph.D. from Stanford University. This year, Wiley is working as a Lieberman Fellow at Stanford and also working for the American Institutes of Research in Palo Alto, Calif., as a research scientist, analyzing state and national educational policies. He is also a consultant for the California governor's office on educational initiatives. While at Nebraska, Wiley was homecoming king and was involved in New Student Enrollment, Innocents, his fraternity and the advisory board that planned for renovation of the Nebraska Union.

With a B.A. in psychology, earned in 1998, and a master's in educational administration earned in 1999, Robyn Seals is now a seminar leader and analyst for Gallup International in Lincoln, where she received the Gallup Partnership Award from the University of Toyota and untitled awards for having perfect ratings from her education seminar participants. Seals is no stranger to education; she worked in seven different offices at UNL and as an undergraduate, was active in New Student Enrollment, was an ASUN senator for the College of Arts and Sciences, and participated in MANRRS (Minorities in Agricultural Natural Resources and Related Sciences). She was a member of Diversity Players, was a residence hall orientation team member and a volunteer tutor for the Lincoln Action Program. A native of Ogallala who moved to Omaha in the seventh grade, Seals was nominated for the Outstanding Student Leader Award conferred by the UNL Office of Student Affairs and the Shades of Leadership Outstanding Student Leader Award conferred by the Culture Center/Student Involvement.

After earning her B.S. in biology in 1996, Erica Peterson enrolled in medical school at Duke University Medical Center in North Carolina, earning her M.D. in 2000. Now, she's doing a four-year residency in internal medicine and pediatrics at Duke. Along the way, she also earned a master's degree in public health and epidemiology at the University of North Carolina. Also a participant in UNL's Honors Program, Peterson, like Watwood, spent summers conducting research at Cedar Point Biological Station, pursuing projects of interest to her. Active in her collegiate sorority, Peterson also was active in UNL Red Cross.

These graduates are making a difference in the world. And they got their start at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln. Their stories are not so very different from the success stories that we hear every day from our graduates around the world. You can be proud that the University of Nebraska-Lincoln gives young people the chance to widen their horizons.

Alexander Steps Up On Field, In Community

Dan Alexander

By David Wilson

He has improved his speed, strength and size. In five seasons at Nebraska, he's become more agile. He sees the holes easier. He has gone from being a back-up fullback to the Huskers' starting I-back and a Doak Walker Award semifinalist.

But the things that will stick with Dan Alexander when he leaves Nebraska have little to do with finding holes or following blocks.

"Probably the most important thing I'll take from the university is just being involved with the community,"

Alexander said. "Being part of the Nebraska football team forces you to become more active in the community, to care more about others and be a role model. It has taught me more ways to give back to my community, taught me to be more of a servant and be a giver instead of a taker."

Alexander's service to the Husker community began on his official recruiting visit in 1995, when he opted to join a handful of Huskers on a trip to a homeless shelter and a local burn center – rather than spending the evening with a player host and other players. Since then, Alexander has become one of the most dedicated Husker volunteers ever to grace the university.

A team captain on this year's Husker squad, Alexander is the only four-time honoree on the Brook Berringer Citizenship team, and he has been recognized twice by the Big 12 Conference with the Bank of America Community Champion Award. He is involved with the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and has been a regular speaker at the "School is Cool" Jam, which impacts thousands of youth throughout the state of Nebraska.

"Like he's a complete back, Dan is a complete person as well," Nebraska Running Backs Coach Dave Gillespie said. "I think he realizes that there's a lot of different aspects of being a person in terms of your social life, your community life, your spiritual life, your family life. He is a guy that is committed in all phases."

On the field, Alexander – who came to Nebraska as a fullback – has started all 10 games for the Huskers this year at I-back, running for a team-high 1,056 yards on 166 carries. He currently ranks 12th on Nebraska's all-time rushing list with 2,358 yards, and has averaged 6.1 yards-per-carry through his career.

Alexander's 105.6 yards per game ranks among the nation's best, while the Husker rushing attack ranks first in the nation at 354.6 yards per game. The Wentzville, Mo., native has produced seven 100-yard rushing games in 2000, including a 130-yard effort against Kansas State.

"I never thought for a moment that I would ever be the starting I-back when I first came in," Alexander said. "I came in as a fullback and I saw all the great fullbacks ahead of me, plus I came in with Willie Miller. I was just hoping to be a contributor at fullback, much less a starter. I wanted to start, and you always have that drive, but when you look at things realistically, you say, 'Hey, this may not happen, but I'm going to try my hardest.' My goal was to contribute."

Alexander redshirted in 1996 before practicing at both fullback and I-back in the spring of 1997. In the spring game that year, Alexander suffered a torn left ACL. He returned to action just four months after surgery and took 16 carries for 68 yards in 12 games in the fall of 1997 as the Huskers won a share of the national title. Alexander took one carry for one yard in the Orange Bowl against Tennessee.

As a sophomore in 1998, Alexander scored his first career touchdown in NU's season opener against Louisiana State. He continued to improve each game and averaged 17.4 yards per game on 4.4 carries through the first five games, then came off the bench against Kansas to run for 90 yards on 15 carries. He ran for a season-best 110 yards and three touchdowns in his first career start against Iowa State before suffering a right knee strain against Kansas State the following week. Alexander missed the season finale and bowl game, finishing with 368 yards on 70 carries.

He returned in 1999 and took over the starting I-back duties in game three, then started every game

Noting Alexander:

A three-year letterwinner, Alexander has started all 10 games at I-back for the Huskers this season, rushing 166 times for 1,056 yards. His career total of 2,358 yards ranks 12th on Nebraska's all-time chart.

Senior Develops As An I-back, As A Person

except one (Texas A&M) when Nebraska opened in spread formation. He also started at fullback against Kansas.

Alexander finished the season as Nebraska's second-leading rusher with 865 yards, behind quarterback Eric Crouch's 889. He scored eight rushing touchdowns, five 100-yard games and averaged a team-best 6.5 yards per carry.

Against Tennessee in the Fiesta Bowl a year ago, Alexander took 21 carries for 108 yards and scored a touchdown as the Huskers topped the Volunteers, 31-21. Alexander recorded a personal-best 180 yards in a win over Colorado.

He also had four catches in 1999 for 56 yards – another area that Alexander has improved on.

"When I came here, I really couldn't catch at all," Alexander said. "I think as the years have progressed, I've gotten better and better at catching. I never got the fundamentals down when I was a kid. I never played little-league football. I never played catch in the yard with my dad. So it was a hard road coming here and being able to overcome that lack of experience that a lot of other players have."

Gillespie said he has seen Alexander improve significantly in many areas on the field over the last five years.

"I think Dan has made a lot of strides," Gillespie said. "He has really developed into a complete back. Obviously, he's always had the ability to run the ball with power, but I think he's also developed the ability to do some things in the open field."

His running style has changed since he was a fullback in high school. As a senior at Wentzville High School, Alexander powered his way to 1,522 yards and 18 touchdowns en route to earning all-state honors.

"All I did in high school was run straight ahead," Alexander said. "There was no reading the line, you just ran to a certain place and hoped there was a hole there. At Nebraska, we have 14 variations of a straight-ahead running play. You have to know which blocks you're looking for and be able to read those. It has definitely changed my running style."

But Alexander isn't quite your typical I-back either. At 6-feet, 245 pounds, he is a little bigger than most option I-backs. The 1997 Nebraska Lifter of the Year, Alexander also possesses great speed and strength.

Gillespie said Alexander has used his size and strength to his advantage.

"You try not to put any weight limitations on the I-back position," Gillespie said. "It's more of an ability limitation. If a guy that's 250-pounds can do the things that Dan does, the things that are required of an I-back, there's certainly nothing wrong with that. It's just a little rare to find a guy that big that possesses that kind of speed and ability."

"Just with the physical nature of that position, you're going to take a lot of hits, but you are also going to be in a position to deliver a lot of hits – to get yards after contact and to help soften defenses up, so that by the third and fourth quarters, they're just kind of tired of taking him on."

Despite his size, opponents and teammates probably won't hear Alexander screaming and yelling on the field. But he does show leadership in his own way.

Aside from helping people in the community, Alexander also takes pride in spending time with teammates in need of someone to talk to.

"I'm not a leader in the traditional sense,"

Alexander said. "I think of myself as more of just an emotional leader. I'm always out there just trying to have a good time. I'm not on the pump-up videos before the game, yelling and screaming trying to get guys fired up. I work better one-on-one. When I see a guy that needs some one-on-one attention, I take people aside. I think that's my biggest asset to the team."

And people have noticed Alexander's assets, asking for him to speak at events, asking him to listen or just asking him to talk about his on-field play.

"I don't think I've ever met a finer person," Omaha World-Herald Football Writer Mitch Sherman said. "You can tell he is a nice guy just by talking to him."

Alexander's mother, on the other hand, has never seen Alexander speak in public.

"She can't picture me speaking to little kids about anything," Alexander said. "I was a real shy kid when I was younger and didn't really say anything to anybody. I really kept to myself. I was not very vocal. Being here and getting into that limelight has forced me to come out of my shell and become more active. I still have some shy qualities, but at the same time, I'm able to go out there and overcome things like stage fright and things that could potentially hold me back later in life. I thank Nebraska for that."

The University of Nebraska Department of Intercollegiate Athletics, as an integral part of the University's educational mission, is committed to a comprehensive athletics program, Dedicated to Excellence.

Bill Byrne

Director of Athletics Eighth Year

When Director of Athletics Bill Byrne came to the University of Nebraska in 1992, he had a vision. His plan was to balance the budget, provide a stable financial base to build successful programs into the next millennium, provide complete and integrated services for Husker student-athletes, improve NU's aging facilities for the benefit of student-athletes and fans, and make Nebraska the best athletic program in the nation.

Now in his eighth year at NU, Byrne continues to passionately pursue his vision.

Improving facilities to pave the way to success has been a priority. Facility upgrades were not only needed to recruit the nation's top athletes, but to provide improved fan amenities and fan safety. The 1999 season unveiled NU's biggest project yet, the $36.1 million Memorial Stadium Improvement Project, which includes much more than just 42 skyboxes and a press facility. Most impressively, the project provides a sound financial base for the future. Memorial Stadium improvements began with the addition of two HuskerVision replay boards in 1994, allowing Nebraska to become the first collegiate-owned venue to feature replay boards for its fans. Memorial Stadium was renovated to include an expanded training room, improved locker rooms, a new public address system, expanded restrooms, improved concession areas and improved seating for disabled fans. Complete waterproofing and concrete repair will continue throughout the stadium into the next decade.

Facility updates do not end with the football program. The University of Nebraska-Lincoln, the City of Lincoln and Lincoln Professional Baseball broke ground on a new $32.1 million baseball/softball complex in April. Byrne led fund-raising efforts for the complex, which will house the NU baseball and softball teams as well as a new Northern League franchise. Opening in the spring of 2001, the baseball stadium will boast a capacity of 6,000 and will feature 16 skybox suites. The softball stadium, opening during the fall of 2001, will have a capacity of 2,500.

The Bob Devaney Sports Center has received more than $7.9 million in improvements, including the addition of HuskerVision screens. The project also included improved fan amenities, better seating for disabled fans and a complete upper concourse renovation with a Hall of Honor, Husker Timeline and other exhibits commemorating a century of NU athletics.

The track and field program benefited from the $2 million Ed Weir Outdoor Track Project completed before the 2000 outdoor season. Track and field will also receive a $2.9 million indoor track renovation at the Devaney Center next year.

In 1998-99, the Abbott Sports Complex received a new press facility, which helped secure three home games in the NCAA Women's Soccer Championships in 1999. The women's rifle program also kicked off its first season with a new shooting range. In 1997-98, the NU Softball Complex received a new press box and exit plaza. The NU Coliseum received a new volleyball ready room, and new infield turf was installed at Buck Beltz Stadium.

Over the past five years, the Athletic Ticket Office relocated to the Stadium Drive Parking Garage, along with the Huskers Authentic retail store, and the Athletic Marketing and Development offices moved to the South Stadium Office Building. Improvements and reorganization of the offices within the athletic department have helped make Nebraska more user-friendly and better utilizes Byrne's plan of "one-stop shopping" for fans and student-athletes. He also reorganized Nebraska's fund-raising efforts and started an integrated marketing and licensing program, which quickly took its place among the top five revenue-generating programs in the country. Byrne orchestrated these improvements while balancing the budget. NU had a $2.5 million deficit when Byrne arrived in 1992. While operating on a $39 million budget, the deficit is gone and the athletic program now provides more than $40 million in economic impact to the Lincoln community each year.

He has made 10 coaching hires in the last seven years, and his knack for recognizing young, charismatic talent is evident. Byrne hired Dan Kendig in 1994 for women's gymnastics (advanced to the NCAA Championships in five of the last six seasons, including a school-best fourth-place finish in 2000); women's soccer coach John Walker in 1994 (advanced to the NCAA Championships four straight seasons, including Elite Eight finishes in 1996 and 1999); Paul Sanderford for women's basketball in 1997 (earned NCAA tournament berths each of his first three seasons); Bill Straub for women's bowling in 1997 (won the national title in 1999); Dave Van Horn to lead the baseball program in 1998 (won back-to-back conference tournament titles in 1999 and 2000 and advanced to the NCAA Super Regionals in 2000); football coach Frank Solich in 1997 (guided Nebraska to a Big 12 title and No. 2 final ranking in 1999) and Karen Anthony for women's rifle in 1998 (finished third at NCAA Championships in program's second season). Volleyball coach John Cook, wrestling coach Mark Manning and men's basketball coach Barry Collier will all begin their first seasons at NU during 2000-2001.

During Byrne's tenure in Lincoln, Nebraska became only the second school in NCAA history to win three national football titles in a four-year span. NU has produced six national championships (women's bowling, volleyball, men's gymnastics and three football), 53 regular-season league titles, and 10 conference tournament titles under Byrne's leadership. He has helped increase Nebraska's conference-leading athletic program to 24 sports with the additions of women's soccer (1994), women's bowling (1997-98) and women's rifle (1998-99) and has been a strong supporter of complying with Title IX without hurting Nebraska's century-old men's programs. In the past six years, Byrne has promoted three women to senior administrative positions. Nebraska is the only school in the nation with a woman in charge of football operations and one of just a handful of Division I football schools to have a woman directing its sports information department.

Byrne has continued to make great strides in helping Nebraska improve its rank among the nation's elite, even though the Huskers entered the powerful Big 12 Conference in 1996. During the 1999-2000 season, Nebraska:

- finished in the top 20 nationally in 16 sports (football, volleyball, soccer, baseball, bowling, women's cross country, women's golf, men's gymnastics, women's gymnastics, women's indoor and outdoor track, rifle, men's and women's swimming, wrestling and softball).
- recorded its fifth consecutive top-15 finish in the Sears Directors' Cup standings with a sixth-place showing in Division I.
- won seven regular-season Big 12 championships (football, soccer, volleyball, men's indoor and outdoor track and women's indoor and outdoor track) and three Big 12 tournament championships (baseball, soccer, and softball).

Byrne was hired to replace legendary coach and athletic director Bob Devaney on June 26, 1992, becoming the 11th Nebraska Director of Athletics after 10 successful years at the University of Oregon. Highly respected among his peers, Byrne was named the Central Region NACDA/Continental Athletic Director of the Year along with being recognized by the American Football Coaches Association in 1999. Byrne was vice-president and secretary-treasurer of the College Football Association and has served on the NCAA Special Committee on Marketing and Licensing and the Committee on Special Events.

Byrne is recognized as a national leader in collegiate athletics and continues to make an aggressive effort to place conference officials on key NCAA committees to represent Big 12 institutions. In 1999, he served as the chairman of the Big 12 Conference Board of Athletic Directors and has had an active voice in conference planning.

Before coming to Nebraska, Byrne became one of the youngest directors of athletics in Division I, assuming the top job at Oregon in May 1984. He established fund-raising offices in Portland and southern Oregon and set up a full-time marketing and promotions operation, which blossomed to encompass the Oregon Sports Network for statewide in-house production of Ducks games on radio and television. Byrne led the $19 million fund drive that resulted in new homes for Oregon's football team and athletic offices. He was responsible for the construction of a new press box, sky suites and total renovation of Autzen Stadium in 1991. Two years later, the facility's Hall of Champions was dedicated in Byrne's honor.

Byrne grew up in Idaho and attended Idaho State. He was the student body president and received bachelor's and master's degrees in business from Idaho State in 1967 and 1971. Before going to Oregon in 1982, he was assistant athletic director at San Diego State (1980-82), executive director of the New Mexico Lobo Club (1976-79) and director of alumni relations at Idaho State (1971-76).

Byrne's wife, Marilyn, is the dean of graduate studies in educational leadership at Doane College and earned her Ph.D. in higher education administration from NU. The Byrnes have two sons and two grandsons. Greg and Regina Byrne and their sons, Nicholas, 5, and Davis, 3, live in Junction City, Ore., where Greg is an associate athletic director at Oregon State. Bill is a vice president for Visa in its world-wide computer center located in San Mateo, Calif.

Frank Solich

Head Coach Third Year

Few college football coaches have faced a more daunting task than the one that greeted Frank Solich when he took over the Nebraska football program in 1998. After all, the Husker program had won three national titles in four seasons and posted an unprecedented 29 straight nine-win seasons.

But while his challenge was great, there was no other coach as prepared for the task as Solich, a veteran assistant in the Nebraska program. Solich is a product of the Nebraska football program that has been the model of stability, consistency and excellence in collegiate athletics for nearly 40 years. Those qualities were established by Coach Bob Devaney, then carried on for a quarter century by his successor, Tom Osborne.

That stability was the primary reason that on Dec. 10, 1997, just moments after Osborne announced his retirement, Solich was named the 26th head coach in Nebraska's 110 years of football tradition. Solich fits the Husker model for success. Just as Osborne was groomed by Devaney to be the head coach, Solich was Osborne's heir-apparent. He served on Osborne's staff for 19 seasons, first for four seasons as the head freshman coach and for 15 years as running backs coach. His last seven years as an assistant, Solich had the additional duties of assistant head coach.

Now entering his third season as head coach, he has proved to be the right choice to lead one of the nation's elite football programs. Solich has guided the Huskers to a 21-5 record in the past two years, the most wins by a Nebraska coach in his first two seasons at the helm. In fact, the 31-21 win over Tennessee in the 2000 Tostitos Fiesta Bowl tied Solich for third all time in victories in the first two seasons of a college coaching career.

The 2000 season is one of great anticipation for the Husker staff, players and fans as Solich's squad appears primed for a national title run. Nebraska returns 20 starters from last year's 12-1 campaign, including 11 on the offensive side of the ball.

Last year was a special one for Solich and his team. A midseason loss at Texas damaged Nebraska's national championship hopes, but Solich rallied his troops for an impressive stretch run. Nebraska faced possibly the nation's toughest five-game slate to end the season, but the Huskers answered with authority.

Nebraska shut out defending Big 12 champion Texas A&M, 37-0, then came back a week later to rout previously unbeaten Kansas State, 41-15. Against a dangerous Colorado team in Boulder, Solich led the Huskers to a gutsy overtime win, setting the stage for Nebraska's most impressive outing of the 1999 campaign.

The Huskers avenged their only loss of the season with a dominating 22-6 win against Texas in the Big 12 Championship game in San Antonio. The win made Nebraska the first team to capture two Big 12 titles and gave Solich his first league crown in just his second season.

Solich's Huskers completed their late-season charge with a show of force against Tennessee in the Tostitos Fiesta Bowl. Nebraska manhandled the No. 6 Volunteers with a rushing attack that churned out 321 yards, including 238 after halftime and wore down a talented Tennessee defense. The Huskers finished the season ranked second nationally by the Associated Press and third in the USA Today/ESPN Coaches Poll.

The Huskers' 1999 team success was largely attributed to Solich's calm and confident direction. He confidently made tough on- and off-field personnel decisions early in the season, then watched as the Huskers responded by developing cohesive offensive and defensive units, as well as exceptional special teams forces. Solich's role in Nebraska's championship season was recognized. He was chosen as Big 12 Coach of the Year by both his coaching peers in the conference and the Associated Press.

The 1999 Huskers were dominant on defense, ranking in the nation's top six in all four major defensive statistical categories, including fourth in total defense. Nebraska wasn't far behind on offense. The Husker ground game captured the league rushing title for the 12th straight season and ranked fourth nationally, averaging 265.9 yards per game. And like Osborne's teams and Solich's first squad, the Huskers boasted a strong special teams unit, ranking 12th in the nation in net punting and recording 10 blocked kicks during the season.

Nebraska's 12-1 season marked the seventh season with 12 or more wins, its fourth in the 1990s and sixth in Solich's 21 seasons on the Husker coaching staff.

In Solich's first season as head coach, the Huskers posted a 9-4 record, the 30th straight season Nebraska had won nine or more games. In addition, Nebraska's appearance in the Culligan Holiday Bowl marked the 30th straight year the Huskers had played in a postseason contest. Solich's nine victories in 1998 equaled the totals of his two Hall-of-Fame predecessors, Devaney and Osborne, who each won nine games in their first season as Nebraska's head coach.

Nebraska's success in 1998 came in the face of a great deal of adversity that could have made a lesser program shake. The Huskers opened the season with one of their least experienced squads in many seasons. Throughout the year, Solich's leadership was tested by a rash of injuries that hit the 1998 team. In all, nine projected starters missed a total of 45 games, forcing Solich to put a different starting lineup on the field nearly every Saturday.

Despite the youth and injuries Nebraska's four losses were by a total of just 24 points and all against teams who finished the season ranked among the nation's top 15.

Nebraska's first-year transition from Osborne to Solich as head coach was very smooth. Like Osborne, Solich served as his own offensive coordinator and like all of Osborne's teams, the 1998 Huskers were among the 12-best, averaging 253.8 yards per game on the ground and ranking sixth nationally in rushing.

Nebraska's defense was strong in 1998, ranking 22nd in total defense, 16th in rush defense and 11th in scoring defense. The Huskers also boasted a strong special teams unit, ranking seventh in the nation in net punting.

The most important aspect of Solich's promotion to head coach may be that it kept the veteran Husker coaching staff intact. All of Osborne's assistants remained on Solich's first staff. The current Husker coaching staff has a combined 132 years of experience at Nebraska and entering his third season, Solich has had to hire just two assistant coaches, including one to replace himself. That experience allowed Solich to begin his head coaching career surrounded by familiar faces and ideas.

The 55-year-old Solich can trace his ties to the Nebraska football program back to the beginning of the Devaney era and the turnaround of Nebraska football. Solich was part of Devaney's first recruiting class at Nebraska and became a standout fullback for the Huskers in the mid-1960s, lettering in 1963, 1964 and 1965. His playing career earned him induction into the Nebraska Football Hall of Fame in 1992.

While some remember Solich for his playing days, most Husker followers are more familiar with his work on Osborne's staff. Noted as one of the nation's top assistant coaches, Solich was tabbed Athlon Magazine's Assistant Coach of the Year before the start of the 1993 season.

Solich has been one of the primary factors in making Nebraska the model for the running game in college football. In nine of Solich's 15 seasons as running backs coach, Nebraska led the nation in rushing and finished in the top four every year. In the same period, the Huskers led the conference in rushing 13 times, including each of the last 10 seasons, and finished second in 1986 and 1987. In fact, NU churned out more than 350 yards per game while Solich guided the running backs.

Solich, who recruited and coached 1983 Heisman Trophy winner Mike Rozier, produced at least one all-conference running back in 13 of the 15 seasons he tutored that position.

In 1997, Solich's final season as running backs coach, Nebraska won its fifth NCAA rushing title in the 1990s, averaging 392.6 yards per game. Leading the way was junior I-back Ahman Green who earned All-Big 12 and second-team All-America honors. Green rushed for 1,877 yards, the second-best single-season total in NU history, and 22 touchdowns and capped his season with an Orange Bowl record 206 yards rushing against Tennessee. Green opted to turn pro after his junior year, but his 3,880 career yards rank him as the No. 2 rusher in NU history behind Rozier.

Green's 1997 season continued a run of excellent seasons by Husker I-backs. However, it is not just the I-back position that makes the Nebraska running game strong.

Husker fullbacks have been equally important to the ground game for the last three decades, dating back to Solich's playing days in the 1960s. NU's fullback play has never been stronger than in 1997 and 1998, when Joel Makovicka manned the position. Under Solich as a junior, Makovicka rushed for 685 yards and tied the Husker fullback record with nine touchdowns. In 1998, Makovicka broke the school record for career touchdowns by a fullback.

In 1996, Solich had a stable of running backs that combined for more than 2,000 yards, despite a series of injuries. Green was a third-team All-Big 12 selection as a sophomore, rushing for a team-high 917 yards. True freshman DeAngelo Evans chipped in 776 yards and scored 14 touchdowns. In 1995, Green broke the school's freshman rushing record with 1,086 yards and earned first-team All-Big Eight honors. He was also named the league's offensive newcomer of the year.

Green was the final addition in a long line of running backs who earned postseason honors and racked up record numbers under Solich. Green became the seventh Husker I-back to be a two-time all-conference selection under Solich, joining Rozier (1982-83), Doug DuBose (1984-85), Keith Jones (1986-87), Ken Clark (1988-89), Derek Brown (1991-92) and Calvin Jones (1992-93). In addition, Lawrence Phillips earned first-team All-Big Eight and second-team All-America honors in 1994, en route to the third-best single-season rushing total in school history. Solich-coached running backs own 20 of NU's 28 200-yard single-game rushing performances, while he accounted for one of the other eight himself. In addition, Solich tutored seven of the top eight performers on the school career rushing list, including each of the top four.

The dominant Husker running game has keyed an offense that has helped make Nebraska the most successful college football program in the last 30 years. Osborne won 255 games in his 25 years, with Solich on the staff for the last 200 of those victories. In fact, Nebraska teams that Solich has been a part of for the last 21 years have posted an amazing 221-38-1 record, for an .852 winning percentage.

In Solich's 19 years as an assistant on the NU staff, the Huskers captured three national championships, all while Solich was assistant head coach. In the same period, he was on the staff of 11 conference championship teams, 19 postseason bowl squads and 15 teams that finished the season ranked in the nation's top 10.

Nebraska running backs have succeeded by developing the same work ethic that made Solich a standout fullback. Despite weighing less than 160 pounds, Solich was an All-Big Eight fullback and co-captain of the Huskers' 1965 team.

Solich holds the NU single-game rushing record for a fullback with a 204-yard outing against Air Force in 1965. In fact, that performance stood as the NU game record by any player for 10 years, and Solich still ranks 48th on NU's career rushing chart with 1,010 yards. He rushed for 444 yards as a junior in 1964 and was second on the team in 1965 with 580 yards. Solich still holds the Orange Bowl record for return yards with 166 in 1966.

The teams Solich played on started the winning tradition Nebraska has enjoyed for the last 37 years. The Huskers posted records of 9-2, 10-1, 9-2 and 10-1 while Solich was on the roster, won three conference titles and played in four straight bowl games. The 1965 Husker team completed the regular season unbeaten and in position for a national championship, but lost 39-28 to Bear Bryant's Alabama team in the Orange Bowl.

Solich also lettered in baseball for the Huskers in 1965.

A native of Cleveland, Solich prepped at Holy Name High School where he earned all-state, All-America and all-scholastic honors. He received his bachelor's (1966) and master's (1972) degrees from Nebraska.

After his playing days, Solich began his coaching career in the Nebraska prep ranks. He was the head coach at Holy Name High School in Omaha in 1966 and 1967. His Holy Name teams were 8-8 in two years and the 1967 team was state runner-up. After two seasons in Omaha, Solich moved to one of the top high school programs in the state at Lincoln Southeast. With Solich in charge of the Knight program, Southeast compiled a 66-33-5 record in 11 years. His Southeast teams captured back-to-back Class A state titles in 1976 and 1977. For his efforts, Solich was named the Lincoln Journal Star Nebraska boys prep coach of the year in 1978. A number of Solich's players at Southeast moved across town to play for Nebraska.

Solich himself made the move to Nebraska before the 1979 season. His first assignment on Osborne's staff was head freshman coach. In 1979, the young Huskers were 4-1, losing only at Missouri. Solich's 1979 team won its final game, beginning a 24-game winning streak for the freshmen that stretched to 1984. Solich finished his four years as freshman coach with a 19-1 record, before taking over as coach of the running backs in 1983.

With Solich coaching the backs, Nebraska's running attack had unparalleled success in college football. The biggest honor for a Solich-coached back came in the 1983 season when senior Mike Rozier captured the Heisman Trophy after rushing for 2,148 yards and 29 touchdowns. While no one has matched Rozier's season, Nebraska consistently produced some of the nation's top backs under Solich.

In 1984, Nebraska had two first-team All-Big Eight runners as sophomore

"One of the things you look for in a head football coach is leadership. But the thing I think that sets Frank apart is not only the leadership he has, but the genuine respect that our coaches, our staff and our athletes have for him. Frank has maintained the continuity and stability of the program, which is exactly what every school in the country is striving to attain."

Bill Byrne,
Nebraska Director of Athletics

Doug DuBose and senior Jeff Smith combined to rush for 1,975 yards and 15 touchdowns. As a junior, DuBose gained 1,161 yards to rank ninth nationally in rushing. His 1985 season earned him all-conference and second-team All-America honors. DuBose's backfield running mate in 1985, fullback Tom Rathman, was also an All-Big Eight selection, as he gained 881 yards, a single-season record for Husker fullbacks.

DuBose was primed for a run at the Heisman before a knee injury ended his Husker career in 1986 fall camp. In his absence, Keith Jones earned all-league honors by gaining 830 yards and scoring 14 touchdowns. Jones became Solich's second two-time All-Big Eight selection in 1987 by gaining 1,232 yards and 13 TDs and averaging a whopping 7.3 yards per carry.

Solich's I-back excellence continued in 1988 and 1989 with Ken Clark, who earned back-to-back first-team all-conference honors. Clark posted the then-third-best junior season in NU history in 1988, rushing for 1,497 yards and 12 touchdowns. In 1989, he added 1,196 yards and 14 touchdowns to rank fourth on the Husker career rushing list with 3,037 yards.

After one season without an all-league back, the Husker "we-backs" hit the scene in 1991. Sophomore Derek Brown ran through the opposition for 1,313 yards and 14 TDs to earn first-team All-Big Eight and third-team All-America honors. Also in 1991, Calvin Jones was named Big Eight Freshman of the Year after rushing for 900 yards, including an NU single-game record 294 yards and six touchdowns at Kansas.

In 1992, Brown and Jones shared time in the Husker backfield and both earned all-league honors. Brown rushed for 1,011 yards, while Jones had 1,210 yards and 14 touchdowns.

After Brown moved on to the NFL following his junior season, Jones was left to carry the load in 1993. Despite an early-season knee injury that ended his Heisman hopes, Jones earned all-league honors by rushing for 1,043 yards and 12 scores and helping the Huskers to within a missed field goal of a national title. Jones finished his career with 3,153 yards to rank third in career rushing at Nebraska. He also captured the Big Eight rushing crown his final two seasons, the fourth player to earn that title under Solich, joining Rozier (1983), DuBose (1984) and Keith Jones (1986).

Calvin Jones' early departure to the NFL left the I-back duties in the hands of sophomore Lawrence Phillips in 1994. Phillips responded in record fashion, running for a Nebraska sophomore record 1,722 yards and 16 touchdowns to earn All-Big Eight and second-team All-America honors. He also finished eighth in the Heisman trophy balloting, the highest for a Nebraska player in 10 seasons.

In 1995, Solich started four different players at the I-back spot, including Ahman Green, who set the Husker fresh rushing record. Despite the unsettled situation at I-back, the Huskers didn't miss a beat, averaging just less than 400 yards per game and racking up an NCAA bowl-record 524 yards rushing in the Fiesta Bowl win over Florida.

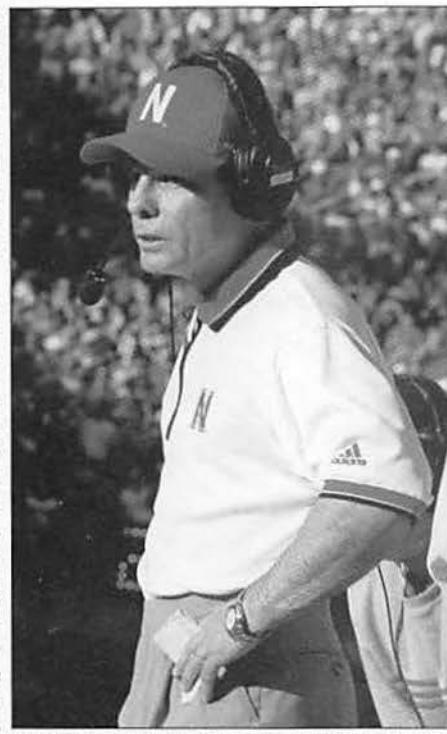

In his 22 years on the Husker staff, Solich has been one of the nation's top recruiters. As an assistant, Solich primarily recruited the eastern part of the United States, but he also has recruiting experience in the Midwest. He has routinely brought prep All-America players to the Heartland. Several players Solich recruited to Nebraska have gone on to professional careers, including Irving Fryar, Brian Washington, Mike Croel, Tyrone Legette, Donta Jones and Doug Colman. Solich's ability to bring top talent to Lincoln has been evident in his first three recruiting classes as head coach. Solich's first three classes have included a combined 31 prep All-Americans and players from 18 different states, plus Canada. All three classes have been ranked in the nation's top 20, including the 2000 class, generally regarded as a top 10 class.

Solich's duties as an assistant coach under Osborne included several administrative roles. From 1983 to 1997, Solich was the director of the University of Nebraska Football Camp and the director of the University of Nebraska Football Coaches Clinic.

Since Solich took over the camp in 1983, the Husker camp numbers tripled to the current enrollment of 1,700 athletes per summer. Solich's work has also made the Nebraska coaches clinic one of the nation's largest events of its kind. When he took over the project in 1983 the average attendance was about 200 high school coaches. The 2000 clinic attracted more than 1,200 coaches from across the nation.

As Osborne's assistant head coach for seven seasons, Solich was the No. 2 spokesperson for the football team. He represented the Husker football teams in meetings with the NCAA, Big Eight and Big 12 conferences, as well as media gatherings.

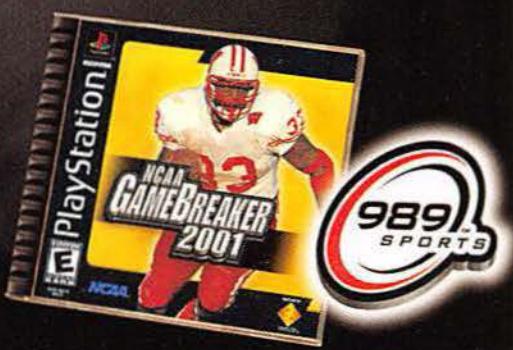

Solich is married to the former Pamela Wieck of Beatrice, Neb., and they have two children, Cindy and Jeff (wife, Chara). Cindy and her husband, Jon Dalton, have a 5-year old daughter, Catherine, and a 3-year old son, Aaron. Jeff and Chara gave the coach and Pam their third grandchild with grandson Cade, who will celebrate his first birthday this October.

Solich's 21 wins in his first two seasons at Nebraska ranks ahead of NU Hall of Fame coaches Bob Devaney (19) and Tom Osborne (18).

From the option attack and wing T formations, to the fight songs and crowd chants of 115 Division I-A teams, we've captured the rivalry and spirit of college football. It'll get in your head and stay there.

Husker Football Assistant Coaches

Craig Bohl Defensive Coordinator/ Linebackers

Craig Bohl enters his sixth season as a Nebraska assistant, prepared for added responsibility this fall. Bohl will continue to coach the Husker linebackers, as he has the past five years, but in 2000 he takes over for Charlie McBride as NU's defensive coordinator.

Bohl, a Lincoln native, rejoined the Nebraska football family in the spring of 1995. He played for Nebraska under Tom Osborne from 1977 through 1979 and served as a graduate assistant coach for the Huskers from 1981 through 1983. The 15-year collegiate coaching veteran is one of five former Husker players on staff.

In Bohl's five seasons on Nebraska's defensive staff, the Huskers have ranked no lower than 22nd nationally in total defense. During the 1999 season, Nebraska finished sixth or higher nationally in all four major defensive categories, including fourth in total defense at 252.3 yards per game.

A strong recruiter, Bohl recruits Houston, as well as much of the Pacific Northwest, both areas with ample talent.

Bohl spent the 1994 campaign as Duke's defensive coordinator and inside linebackers coach, and was instrumental in one of college football's biggest turnarounds. Bohl helped the Blue Devils to an 8-4 record (a five-game improvement from a 3-8 mark in 1993) and a berth in the Hall of Fame Bowl, the school's first postseason appearance since 1989.

Before moving to Duke with Coach Fred Goldsmith, Bohl spent five seasons as Goldsmith's defensive coordinator at Rice. During his Rice tenure, three of his linebackers earned All-Southwest Conference honors.

Before his stint at Rice, Bohl spent two seasons (1987-88) at Wisconsin as linebackers coach, a pair of campaigns (1985-86) as the linebacker mentor at Tulsa and a season (1984) as the secondary coach at North Dakota State.

Bohl is married to the former Deanna Hauptman of Nebraska City, and they have 9-year-old twin daughters, Mallory and Morgan, and a 6-year-old son, Aaron. Deanna graduated from Nebraska in 1983 with a marketing degree.

Nelson Barnes Rush Ends

Nelson Barnes enters his fourth season as a Husker assistant coach, charged with continuing Nebraska's long tradition of outstanding defensive ends.

In his first three seasons on the Nebraska staff, Barnes has been a part of outstanding defenses that helped the Huskers to a Big 12 and national title in 1997 and a conference title last season.

Barnes, who came to Nebraska after three seasons at the University of Texas, is the only person in the Big 12 Conference with three league football championship rings. He collected his first ring when the Longhorns defeated Nebraska for the inaugural Big 12 title in 1996.

The 1996 title season was Barnes' third and final campaign on Coach John Makovic's Texas staff.

In 1999, Barnes' rush ends helped the Huskers to a school-record 53 sacks and 112 tackles for loss. The Husker defense ranked in the nation's top six in all four major defensive categories, including fourth in total defense.

Barnes plays an integral part in Nebraska's recruiting success. His primary areas of recruiting responsibility include Houston, southern Louisiana, as well as other parts of the Southeast.

Barnes was familiar with Nebraska not only from his years at Texas, but from the 1993 season he spent at Kansas State. In Manhattan, he served as the defensive line coach for head coach Bill Snyder. In 1993, Kansas State posted a 9-2-1 record and recorded the school's first bowl victory at the Copper Bowl.

Before his one-year stay at K-State, Barnes spent the 1991 and 1992 seasons as the defensive line coach at Western Illinois and assisted the 1991 team to the I-AA playoffs. He also served in the same role at Missouri Western in 1990.

Barnes' college coaching experience began at North Texas. He served as the defensive line/linebackers coach at the Denton, Texas, school from 1983 to 1989 and was a graduate assistant at the school in 1981 and 1982.

Barnes played at North Texas under Coach Hayden Fry and was a three-year starter for UNT on the defensive line. He helped North Texas to back-to-back 9-2 records in 1977 and 1978. Barnes earned a bachelor's degree in industrial arts from North Texas in 1982.

A native of Alvin, Texas, Barnes married the former Cydney Young on July 1, 2000.

Ron Brown Receivers

Ron Brown enters his 14th season as the Huskers' receivers coach. Although the Nebraska offense features a strong rushing attack, Brown's receivers have been an integral part to the Huskers' overall offensive success.

The Husker receiving corps has led the conference in touchdown receptions three times in his tenure.

Twenty-two of Brown's former pupils have gone on to professional careers, including tight end Johnny Mitchell, the New York Jets' 1992 first-round draft pick, Tyrone Hughes, who was a two-time NFL Pro Bowl selection with the New Orleans Saints and tight end Sheldon Jackson, who was a seventh-round pick of Buffalo in the 1999 NFL Draft.

Brown covers a key area for Nebraska's recruiting efforts, handling much of the western United States. In recent years, Nebraska secured a number of players from Arizona, Colorado, Utah and other western states, all Brown's areas of responsibility.

Brown joined Nebraska's staff after a four-year stint at Brown University in Providence, R.I. He spent one season as the Bears' head freshman coach in 1983, then moved up to the varsity staff and tutored the defensive backs for three seasons. He also served as the assistant to the athletic director in 1986.

A standout defensive back at Brown in the late 1970s and a member of the school's Sports Hall of Fame, Brown received his bachelor's degree from Brown in 1979, then earned his master's degree in health administration from Columbia University in 1982. He began his coaching career as defensive coordinator for the semi-pro New Jersey Rams in 1982, before moving to his alma mater in 1983.

Coach Brown hosts two statewide Christian radio shows. He has authored several books on Christian character and growth. His newest book "Miracle in Missouri" is scheduled to be released this fall.

Brown and former Husker Stan Parker are co-founders and co-directors of a statewide Christian ministry called "Mission Nebraska." The organization continues to run several Christian camps for lower income children throughout Nebraska.

Brown is married to Molvina Carter of San Diego, Calif., and they have two daughters, Sojourner Elaine, 5 and Bronwyn Pearl, 2.

George Darlington Defensive Backs

George Darlington, the dean of the Nebraska football coaching staff, is the only remaining member of Tom Osborne's original Husker staff. Darlington is beginning his 28th season at Nebraska and his 15th as the Huskers' secondary coach after tutoring the defensive ends for 13 seasons.

Darlington was a recipient of a 1998 All-American Football Foundation "Top Assistant Award." This summer the veteran assistant picked up another coaching honor, as his home state of West Virginia honored the Charleston native with the first-ever George Cafego Award for distinction in the coaching profession. Cafego was a West Virginia native who was a consensus All-America halfback at Tennessee and finished fourth in the 1939 Heisman voting.

Darlington's secondary had a banner season in 1999 as seniors Mike Brown and Ralph Brown both received first-team All-America honors. Husker opponents completed less than 43 percent of their passes and the NU defense intercepted 18 passes, while allowing just 11 passing touchdowns.

Darlington plays a major role in bringing top talent to the Nebraska campus. The veteran assistant has been vital to landing top players from the state of California for several years and recently, Darlington has started a pipeline from the Hawaiian islands to Lincoln.

Before joining Osborne's staff in 1973, Darlington spent four seasons as an assistant coach at San Jose State. He coached two years at Johnson Regional High School in Clark, N.J., then started his collegiate coaching career at Lebanon Valley (Pa.) College, followed by one year at Dartmouth before going to San Jose State.

A 1961 graduate of Rutgers University with a bachelor's degree in history and physical education, Darlington earned his master's degree from Stanford in 1962. While at Rutgers, Darlington lettered in football in 1959 and 1960, and lettered twice in lacrosse, earning third-team All-America honors in 1961. George and his wife, Susan, have three children, Lisa, David and Julia, and four grandchildren.

Turner Gill Quarterbacks

Former All-Big Eight Husker signal caller Turner Gill enters his ninth season as Nebraska's quarterbacks coach.

In 1999, Gill tutored Eric Crouch to one of the top seasons ever by a Husker quarterback. Crouch compiled 2,158 yards of total offense, the fourth best in school history and tops by a Husker sophomore.

Gill's development of excellent quarterbacks is far from his only asset to the Husker staff. He is regarded as a strong recruiter, covering parts of Texas and Louisiana and all of Arkansas. Along with Dan Young, Gill also heads up the "Hire a Husker" program, which matches NU student-athletes with local businesses for summer employment.

As Nebraska's starting signal caller from 1981 through 1983, Gill led the Huskers to a 28-2 mark, including a 20-0 league record, and three conference titles.

A three-time All-Big Eight pick and a second-team All-American as a senior, Gill was the key to the Huskers' high-octane offense in 1983, a season in which NU I-back Mike Rozier won the Heisman Trophy and Gill finished fourth in the voting for collegiate football's top award. The 1983 team finished 12-1 and second in the final polls. In his four-year career (1980-83), Gill completed 231 of 428 passes for 3,317 yards, 34 touchdowns and a .540 completion percentage and rushed for 1,317 yards and 18 TDs. He is sixth on NU's all-time total offense chart with 4,634 yards.

A talented all-around athlete, Gill spent two seasons with the Canadian Football League's Montreal Concordes (1984-85) and three years (1986-88) in the Cleveland and Detroit minor league baseball systems. He left baseball and returned to his native state to the University of North Texas in 1989, where he was a volunteer assistant football coach and earned a B.A. in behavior analysis in 1990.

Gill returned to Nebraska in 1990 and served as a graduate assistant on the Husker staff, then moved to SMU as a graduate assistant for the 1991 campaign. He served as the Mustangs' receivers coach for that season and was elevated to a full-time coaching position, but returned to Nebraska in August of 1992. Gill has taken graduate courses at both Southern Methodist and Nebraska.

He is married to the former Gayle DeBrie, of Kearney, Neb., and they have two daughters, Jordan, 10 and Margaux, 6.

Dave Gillespie Running Backs

Dave Gillespie is beginning his third season on the Husker coaching staff. While he is the newest member of the Husker offensive staff, Gillespie is certainly a familiar face in the Nebraska camp.

Gillespie was hired in the spring of 1998 to take Head Coach Frank Solich's position as the assistant coach in charge of running backs. In addition to his on-field duties, Gillespie also serves as Nebraska's recruiting coordinator.

The Nebraska running game has not missed a beat with Gillespie. Nebraska has captured consecutive Big 12 rushing titles the past two seasons, including the 1999 team that gained 265.9 yards per game on the ground to finish fourth nationally.

Gillespie's Nebraska ties are strong. He was a running back for the Huskers early in Tom Osborne's coaching career from 1974 to 1976. Gillespie began his coaching career in the Nebraska high school ranks, serving as an assistant coach at Lincoln High School from 1978 to 1981 before moving to Hastings High as head coach from 1982 to 1984. Gillespie rejoined the Nebraska staff as a graduate assistant for Osborne in the 1985 season and served as the Huskers' administrative assistant and recruiting coordinator from 1986 to 1993.

He returned to Nebraska after four seasons on the staff at the University of Kansas. He served as a Jayhawk assistant for three seasons (1994-96) under Glen Mason. He worked with the tight ends in 1994, before serving as defensive line coach in 1995-96. In 1997, Gillespie served as an administrative assistant for first-year Jayhawk coach Terry Allen.

During his eight-year span as recruiting coordinator at Nebraska (1986-93), Gillespie assisted in the recruitment of 15 All-Americans, which included three Outland Trophy winners (Will Shields, Zach Wiegert and Aaron Taylor), one Butkus Award winner (Trev Alberts), one Heisman Trophy runner-up (Tommie Frazier) and one Lombardi Award winner (Grant Wistrom). His last recruiting class (1993) posted a 60-3 five-year record, winning three national championships.

His strong record in overseeing Nebraska's recruiting efforts made Gillespie a natural fit to take over Solich's previous recruiting territory. Gillespie directs the Husker recruiting efforts in the majority of the eastern part of the United States, as well as Canada. In 1999, he also took over the talent-rich state of Florida.

Gillespie earned three letters as an I-back for the Huskers and earned his bachelor's degree from Nebraska in 1977. He received his master's degree in educational administration from the University of Nebraska in 1986.

Gillespie is married to the former Anne Van Pelt and they have three daughters, Katie, 19, Nicole, 16, and Emily, 13. Gillespie was born in the San Jose, Calif., area and graduated from Westmont High School in San Jose in 1973.

Jeff Jamrog

Defensive Line

Former Husker defensive end Jeff Jamrog is the newest member of the Nebraska coaching staff. He replaces Charlie McBride as defensive line coach. Jamrog will coach the Husker defensive tackles and nose tackles.

Jamrog spent the last three years as defensive coordinator and inside linebackers coach at New Mexico State.

At the Las Cruces, N.M., school, Jamrog helped Head Coach Tony Samuel, a former Husker assistant, turn around a program that had just two winning seasons in the previous 31 years until 1999. Last year, the Aggies went 6-5, the first winning season at NMSU since 1992. Jamrog's defense ranked first in the Big West Conference and 14th in the country in pass efficiency defense. The Aggies ranked second in the conference in scoring defense and total defense, holding four opponents to a touchdown or less.

From 1994 to 1996, Jamrog was the defensive coordinator at Nebraska-Omaha under head coach Pat Behrns. His first year, Jamrog coached the defensive line, then moved to inside linebackers for the last two seasons. Jamrog helped the Mavericks win their first outright North Central Conference championship in 1996 and helped UNO make a turnaround from a 3-8 season in 1995 to a school-best 10-2 mark and No. 4 national ranking in 1996.

Prior to his stay at UNO, Jamrog spent four seasons as an assistant at South Dakota (1990-93), first under Coach John Fritch, then under Dennis Creehan. Jamrog helped Coach Creehan turn South Dakota around from a 1-8 season in 1991 to a 6-5 mark in 1993. At USD, Jamrog coached inside linebackers, was the special teams coordinator and also served as the academic coordinator.

Jamrog began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Nebraska during the 1988 and 1989 seasons, earning his master's degree and an NCAA postgraduate scholarship. His duties included serving as the special teams coordinator and coaching the inside linebackers.

A former walk-on for the Huskers, Jamrog played for the freshman team in 1983, redshirted in 1984, then lettered three years as a defensive end playing for Coach Samuel, his position coach. As a senior, Jamrog had 66 tackles including 47 solo stops, eight sacks and 13 tackles for loss. He earned the Guy Chamberlin Trophy, given to the senior player who has contributed to the betterment of the University of Nebraska football squad by his play and actions, in 1987.

Jamrog earned his bachelor of science degree in business administration from UNL in 1987 and his master's degree in business administration from UNL in 1990. He is married to the former Connie J. Hoeven and together they have three children, Elizabeth, 9, Brett, 7 and Jared, 4.

Milt Tenopir

Offensive Line

Milt Tenopir heads into his 27th campaign as the Huskers' offensive line coach, the second-longest tenure on the NU staff. No college football program can boast the honors that Nebraska's offensive linemen have piled up during Tenopir's tenure.

In 1999 the Nebraska offensive line paved the way for yet another Big 12 rushing title, as NU averaged 265.9 yards per game on the ground.

The Huskers have won an amazing 11 NCAA rushing titles with Tenopir on staff, the most recent in 1997. That veteran unit paved the way for Nebraska to lead the nation in rushing for the fifth time in the 1990s, rushing for an average of 392.6 yards per game.

Tenopir's "Pipeline" played a major role in back-to-back national titles in 1994 and 1995. The 1994 unit keyed the Husker offense to 340.0 rushing yards per game. The 1983 Husker offense is recognized as one of the best in college football history. Nebraska averaged a school-record 401.7 rushing yards per game in that season.

Under Tenopir's guidance, Nebraska has produced six Outland Trophy winners and a pair of Lombardi Award honorees. In all, Tenopir has coached 18 All-Americans, 11 academic All-Americans, six NCAA Today's Top Eight Award winners and 46 all-conference selections. The Huskers have had at least one first-team all-conference lineman in each of Tenopir's 26 seasons on the sideline, while his O-line has had at least one academic all-conference selection for 22 straight years. From 1981 to 1983, the Huskers produced an unprecedented three straight Outland Trophy winners in Dave Rimington (1981-82) and Dean Steinkuhler (1983).

Tenopir has long been a strong force in Nebraska's recruiting success. He was the leading figure in Nebraska breaking the University of Oklahoma's stranglehold on the talent in the Sooner state. Tenopir also handles the recruitment of Kansas and west Texas. The veteran assistant is in charge of Nebraska's spring coaching clinic, which this past April brought about 1,200 high school coaches to campus.

He is the father of three grown children, Kim, Todd and Pamela, and has five grandchildren. Tenopir is married to the former Terri Richardson, and is the stepfather to Dana and Daniel.

Dan Young

Offensive Line/Kickers

Dan Young enters his 18th season on the Nebraska coaching staff and his 15th as the Huskers' offensive line and kicking coach.

Under Young's guidance the Nebraska kicking game has been at its best, boasting the top place-kickers and punters in school history.

Young's punting team is consistently among the nation's best and ranked among the nation's top six in net punting from 1992 to 1994.

Young also played a key role in the coaching of a 1999 Husker offensive line that guided Nebraska to the Big 12 rushing title and No. 4 national ranking, averaging 265.9 yards per game. While Young has assisted with the offensive line, the Huskers have won eight NCAA rushing titles and three NU offensive linemen have won the Outland Trophy.

The veteran assistant heads up Nebraska's in-state recruiting efforts, in addition to recruiting several other Midwestern states. In the last three years, Nebraska has signed 22 in-state players to scholarships. Young also directs the Husker summer football camp, which annually attracts more than 1,700 prepsters to Lincoln. Young and fellow assistant Turner Gill also head up the "Hire a Husker" program, matching Husker student-athletes with summer employers.

Young became an offensive line coach with Milt Tenopir when Cletus Fischer retired from coaching after the 1985 season. Young spent three years (1983-85) as head freshman/junior varsity coach, posting a 14-1-0 record, before joining the varsity staff.

Young came to NU after six highly successful seasons as the head coach at Omaha's Westside High School, where his Warriors were 55-11-0 from 1977 to 1982, reached the state championship game three times and posted back-to-back 12-0-0 state title seasons in 1981 and 1982. Young began his coaching career as head coach at Barneston (Neb.) High School from 1962 to 1964. After a year as an assistant coach at St. Paul (Neb.) High School, he served as an assistant at Westside for 11 seasons.

A graduate of Primrose (Neb.) High School, Young received his bachelor's degree from Kearney State in 1962. He has done graduate work at Nebraska, Nebraska-Omaha, Missouri and Reed College and earned his master's degree in liberal studies from Reed in 1972.

He has a son, Jeff, a daughter, Kris and five grandchildren. Dan and his wife, Ronda, were married in the summer of 1995.

Heisman Trophy.

breaking away

While a pair of quarterbacks was leading Nebraska and Florida on a collision course in the national championship game, Eddie George was making history at Ohio State.

The powerful halfback carved out a worthy name for himself among the great runners in Buckeye history with a 1995 season that earned him the Heisman Trophy. Although OSU would finish the year 9-3 and spend precious little time in the national title hunt—unlike the Cornhuskers' Tommie Frazier or the Gators' Danny Wuerffel—George's senior season in Columbus was still a magical one.

The Philadelphia native entered '95 as a formidable player, after gaining 1,353 yards as a junior. But he wasn't considered a serious Heisman candidate, largely because the Buckeyes had such a balanced offense.

Senior quarterback Bobby Hoying had thrown for 2,335 yards the previous year, the second-highest total in school history. There just wasn't thought to be enough opportunity for George to make a run at the trophy.

That talk changed in the season's second week, when George gained 219 yards against Washington. Two weeks later, he piled up 207 yards in a nationally televised, 45-26 rout of Notre Dame. All of a sudden, George's name was on the lips of Heisman voters. It made its way to their ballots on Nov. 11, when he set a school record with 314 yards in a rout of Illinois. George concluded the season with an OSU-best 1,927 yards and 24 TDs, and set a Buckeye mark for receptions by a back with 47. It was quite a resume. But it almost wasn't enough.

In Lincoln, Frazier was authoring a remarkable season. Just one year after being sidelined with a blood clot in his leg, he amassed 1,966 total yards to lead the Huskers to a school record for offensive output (5,476 yards) and touchdowns produced (79). Nebraska rolled to an 11-0 record, topping the 50-point mark on five different occasions and scoring 70 or more twice. The Huskers were a juggernaut, and Frazier was clearly the team's engine.

At Florida, Wuerffel was proving himself a worthy candidate, too, leading the Gators to an undefeated season and Southeastern Conference championship with his mastery of coach Steve Spurrier's Fun-n-Gun offense. Although Wuerffel would finish third in the Heisman balloting, he won the award the following season.

Frazier put up a good fight, but '95 belonged to George. His margin of victory was relatively small (264 votes), but the trophy was his. ■

The Strength of Nebraska

Husker Women's Golf

Sarah Sasse

As the 2001 season approaches, expectations for the Nebraska women's golf program have risen to an all-time high.

NU Coach Robin Krapfl doesn't lie awake at night and wonder why. The Huskers produced a school history-making season in 2000 in which their list of accomplishments included a third-place Big 12 Conference finish, a ninth-place showing at the NCAA West Regional and an NCAA Tournament bid.

The question, Krapfl said, is whether the Huskers can improve upon last season's historic performances. The 13-year coaching veteran thinks they can.

"The girls have been to the NCAA Tournament," Krapfl said. "They know what it's like now, and they're going to want to get back there. I don't want to put too much pressure on them, but if everyone improves as they should from year to year, we will be an even stronger team than last year."

The Huskers have reason for optimism. Four of Nebraska's top five players from the 2000 NCAA Tournament squad return, including junior all-Big 12 Conference honoree Lincoln product Sarah Sasse.

Sasse, the 2000 Nebraska Women's Amateur Golf Association Stroke Play Champion, led the Huskers with a 75.97 stroke average in 2000 and ranked sixth in the Big 12 in that category (76.37 regular-season average). The Lincoln High product placed eighth or higher in five of seven spring appearances in 2000. Sasse followed her successful spring with a second-place finish at the 2000 World University Golf Championships in Northern Ireland in July.

Other returning NCAA participants are Amy Roux, Cathleen Fogelberg and Amanda Sutcliffe. Krapfl said the Huskers will turn to Roux, the lone senior on the squad, for leadership. The Kearney High product finished third on the team with a 78.84 average last season.

Fogelberg, who became a go-to player for the Huskers early in the spring when she placed 12th or higher in three straight meets, will also likely remain in the Husker lineup, as will Sutcliffe, who ranked fifth on the team as a sophomore with an 80.82 stroke average.

Sophomores Amanda Krane and Stephanie Schaefer and freshman walk-on Lesley Vaughn round out the squad. As a freshman, Krane cracked the Husker lineup twice during the spring and started for NU four times during the fall of 1999. Krapfl said all three golfers have the ability to contribute significantly.

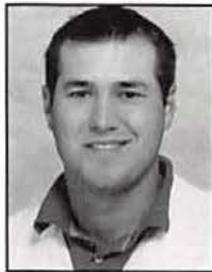

Nebraska will compete in six tournaments during the fall before kicking off the 2001 season Feb. 23-25 at the Midwest Classic in Dallas, Texas. The Huskers will compete in six tournaments in the spring, including the April 23-25 Big 12 Championships hosted by Iowa State in Ames, Iowa.

"We have a solid schedule," Krapfl said. "We'll face a lot of teams that have NCAA Regional experience or that will compete for a regional bid, and that will only help us."

Husker Men's Golf

Seth Porter

During the 1999-2000 season, the Nebraska men's golf team went through some serious growing pains. The Husker squad consisted of four freshmen (Rob Arthur, Jim Troy, Marty Smith and J.J. Sullivan) and sophomore Seth Porter after four of NU's best golfers completed their eligibility after the 1999 season.

Now, with a year of experience under their belts, the young and talented Huskers should show marked improvement in 2000-2001.

"I knew heading into the season that with how young we were it was going to be a tough year," NU Coach Larry Romjue said. "So it was disappointing but not unexpected. When you lose four seniors it makes things hard, and I had no choice but to play some guys that I would have liked to redshirt. From that though, the team gained a lot of quality experience that will help us improve this season and in the seasons to come."

The Huskers have everyone back from the 1999-2000 team that was headlined by Arthur and Porter, who played in the No. 1 and No. 2 spots for NU all season.

Porter's best outing was in the Missouri/Purina Bluffs Invitational in St. Louis, Mo., where he tied for second with a three-round total of 208.

Arthur showcased his talent at the Southwest Classic in Victoria, Texas with a sixth-place finish, firing a three-round total of 220.

Troy, a native of Clarendon Hills, Ill., ended his 2000 season on a high note by placing 43rd at the Big 12 Championships. He was the highest-placing Husker and ended the championships with a three-round total of 231, including a first-round low of 71.

Both Smith and Sullivan had strong freshman campaigns. At his first collegiate competition, Sullivan tied for eighth at the Fairway Club Invitational. Smith didn't join the team until the beginning of the second semester but was able to contribute right away, helping the Huskers defeat Texas-Pan American in a dual competition on Feb. 13th in Edinburg, Texas.

Rounding out the squad will be transfer Blake Humbles and Kearney native Jonathan Aten. Both will join the Huskers this fall.

"With all the guys we have coming back and the addition of a couple of recruits, I fully expect to have a better year," Romjue said. "I will be very disappointed if they don't use the knowledge they gained last year and improve this season. But I do know how tough the Big 12 Conference is and how difficult it is to move up. So I won't have unrealistic expectations for the team, but I do expect to see significant improvement."

Athletic Endowments

The Devaney Society

The University of Nebraska Athletic Endowment Program was established to ensure the quality of student-athletes who will represent the University in the future. In the past, Nebraska has been able to attract some of the best, brightest and most dedicated individuals to its academic classrooms and athletic programs by providing them with scholarships funded through athletic department revenue. To help offset the rising costs of supporting quality student-athletes, the Nebraska Athletic Endowment Program has established the Devaney Society, named in honor of Hall of Fame Coach Bob Devaney.

The following 12 scholarships have been established through the Nebraska Athletic Endowment Program specifically for Nebraska football team members.

The Brook Berringer Memorial Scholarship

The Brook Berringer Memorial Scholarship was endowed in memory of former Nebraska quarterback Brook Berringer, who died in a plane crash on April 18, 1996. Brook was the epitome of a backup quarterback-patient, but always prepared, both mentally and physically to take over when needed.

Berringer served as Tommie Frazier's backup in 1994 until the starter's season ended because of blood clots. With poise and grace, Berringer calmly led Nebraska to eight consecutive victories and to the national championship game against Miami in the Orange Bowl.

An excellent student, Berringer graduated in December 1995 with a degree in business administration. He was expected to be selected in the 1996 NFL Draft on April 20-21, possibly as the fifth or sixth quarterback chosen, but did not get to live out his dream.

The Husker football program has established an award in his honor called the "Brook Berringer Citizenship Team."

The endowment was established by a benefit concert given on Aug. 27, 1997, by the members of the country singing group Sawyer Brown, who were friends of Brook Berringer.

Nebraska student-athletes who continued with graduate school received more than $86,500 in postgraduate scholarship money in 1999. NU football players accounted for $57,000 of that total.

Memorial Stadium / Tom Osborne Field

Nebraska's continuing NCAA record of consecutive home sellouts passed the 200-mark in 1994 and is expected to reach 239 with six home sellouts in 2000. On Homecoming, Oct. 29, 1994, against the University of Colorado, Nebraska celebrated its 200th consecutive sellout. In 1999, Nebraska set a single-season home attendance record by averaging 77,729 fans for six home games, breaking the old record average of 76,342 set in 1988.

The string of consecutive sellouts started on Nov. 3, 1962, when 36,501 showed up for the Homecoming contest vs. Missouri. The last non-sellout in Memorial Stadium was Oct. 20, 1962, when the Huskers and Kansas State drew 30,701.

With the new additions for the 1999 season, the Cornhuskers' Memorial Stadium will have a seating capacity of 74,031, up from 72,700. Home attendance has averaged over 75,000 for the past 27 years, as NU has ranked in the top six nationally in attendance for many years.

In the fall of 1922, a drive for $430,000 in stadium construction funds was undertaken by faculty, students, alumni and friends of the University of Nebraska. The quota was over subscribed. The Stadium was named Memorial Stadium to honor all Nebraskans who served in the Civil and Spanish-American Wars; the 751 Nebraskans who died in World War I; the 3,839 in World War II; the 225 in Korea; and the 422 in Vietnam. Construction was completed in a few more than 90 working days and Memorial Stadium was dedicated on Oct. 20, 1923, at the Homecoming game in which Nebraska was held to a scoreless tie by Kansas.

Inscribed on the four corners of Memorial Stadium and preserved despite construction is the following words, written by former UNL professor of philosophy Hartley Burr Alexander:

Southeast: "In Commendation of the men of Nebraska who served and fell in the Nations Wars."

Southwest: "Not the victory but the action; Not the goal but the game; In the deed the glory."

Northwest: "Courage; Generosity; Fairness; Honor; In these are the true awards of manly sport."

Northeast: "Their Lives they held their countrys trust; They kept its faith; They died its heroes."

As part of the continuing improvement of athletic facilities at the University of Nebraska, several major projects have been completed throughout the past 76 years enhancing the facility. The $1 million Hewitt Center performance buffet/study hall area was opened in March of 1985, underneath the West Stadium adjacent to the massive strength complex. The weight room and the Hewitt Center were expanded and remodeled in 1989. The artificial turf was replaced again in 1992.

Prior to the fall of 1994, Nebraska installed two 17' feet high, by 23' feet wide replay boards, now known to Nebraska faithful as HuskerVision screens.

Following the 1997 season, construction began on a $36-million improvement project which was completed for the start of the 1999 season. Included in the improvements were the addition of a new press box facility and 42 skyboxes, each of which houses 25 spectators on game day. In addition, club seating rose from approximately 350 to 1,500 per game. The improvement project also tripled the number of restrooms on both the East and West sides of the stadium, doubled the number of concessions in both East and West concourses and included concrete repair and waterproofing throughout the stadium. The renovations raised the capacity of Memorial Stadium from 72,700 to 74,031. It is also noted that the original four inscriptions will remain visible for the generations to come. The 1999 season also marked the debut of a new artificial surface called FieldTurf, making Nebraska the first Division I program to use the new surface.

Seventy-Seven Years in Memorial Stadium

Nebraska football teams for the past 77 years have been glad to call Memorial Stadium home. Evidence for this is a 317-99-13 (.754) record posted by the Huskers in their home since it was opened in 1923.

Under the Lights

Nebraska's first night football game was Nov. 30, 1951, at Miami's Orange Bowl when the Huskers lost to the Miami Hurricanes, 19-7. Ironically, Nebraska's first night football game at home was the 1986 opener against another team from the "Sunshine State," Florida State. Nebraska is 41-13-3 all time under the lights, including 9-1-0 at home.

Memorial Stadium as it appeared in 1931, just eight years after the original construction of the facility. The project required $430,000 in funding.

The finishing touches of the latest Memorial Stadium improvement project were applied over the summer of 1999.

Memorial Stadium's newest renovations include a new media facility, enabling some 200 media officials to visit Lincoln every Saturday, as well as 42 state-of-the-art skybox suites.

Memorial Stadium/Tom Osborne Field Landmark Dates

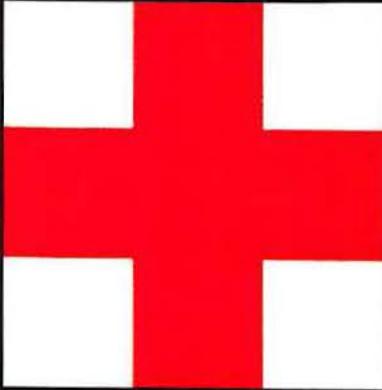

Here is the chronological order of Memorial Stadium expansion and improvement from the original 31,000-seat structure built in 1923:

- 1946--Completion of Schulte Field House at north end of stadium (construction began in 1941, but was interrupted by World War II)
- 1964--South end zone section installed, making the stadium a horseshoe, raising capacity to the 48,000 mark
- 1965--Center portion of north end zone section added, raising capacity to more than 53,000
- 1966--Both wings of the north end zone added, raising capacity to more than 65,000 and making Memorial Stadium into a bowl
- 1967--New press box, with guest section added, providing a beautiful and practical press facility
- 1970--Installation of AstroTurf
- 1972--South end zone extended, 9,400 seats added, raising capacity to 73,650
- 1973--Athletic office building completed, housing dressing and training facilities for varsity football
- 1977--Installation of new AstroTurf replacing the 1970 turf, and a new scoreboard over the North Stadium
- 1980--Completed top deck of press box for additional photo and visiting radio TV space
- 1981--New West Stadium weight room and new visitor's locker room in Schulte Field House
- 1982--Expansion of Schulte Field House indoor practice area
- 1984--New artificial All-Pro Turf playing surface installed
- 1985--Completion of Hewit Center (dining area/study hall) in West Stadium
- 1989--Expansion of strength complex and Hewit Center
- 1992--New Astroturf-8 artificial turf installed
- 1994--Installation of Mitsubishi Instant Replay boards and remodeling of Section 14 to accomodate disabled, reduced seating to 72,700
- 1995--South Stadium training room remodeled and new interview room and player lounge completed during season
- 1997--Groundbreaking began on a $36-million stadium improvement project to take place over a two-year period. East concourse was renovated with new restrooms and concessions and the stadium lights were installed on the east side.
- 1998--Stadium was rededicated and the football field was named in honor of Hall of Fame Coach Tom Osborne on April 24, who retired as the winningest active coach in college football with a 255-49-3 career record. Lights installed on the west side.
- 1999--Stadium Improvement project completed, including 42 skyboxes, a club seating area, stadium view lounge, new media facility and renovated concourses, concessions and restrooms, raising the capacity to 74,056. FieldTurf was installed in August, making Memorial Stadium the first Division I collegiate program to use the synthetic surface.

Husker Women's Swimming and Diving

Therese Alshammar

After placing third at the 2000 Big 12 Championships, the Nebraska women's swimming team will look to regain a place among the conference elite this season.

The Huskers return 13 letterwinners from last season's squad which placed 20th at the 2000 NCAA Championships, extending NU's streak of top-20 finishes to eight straight years, the longest streak in the program's history.

The Huskers return a trio of NCAA qualifiers in senior Shandra Johnson and sophomores Lindsey Hightstrom and Elvira Fischer.

Johnson, an eight-time All-American, is one of the most successful swimmers in the program's history, earning conference swimmer-of-the-year honors in 1998 and 1999. Hightstrom earned All-America honors on NU's 4x800-meter freestyle relay as a true freshman, while Fischer, who will compete for Austria in the Sydney Olympics, swept Big 12 titles in both the 100 and 200-meter backstroke, earning All-America status in the 100-meter backstroke.

In addition to the returnees, the Huskers also regain the services of Therese Alshammar, who sat out the 1999-2000 season to train for the Olympics. One of the world's top female swimmers, Alshammar broke four world records in three days at the 1999 European Short Course Championships and is a potential medalist at this year's Olympics. The Stockholm, Sweden, native placed fourth in both the 50 and 100-yard freestyle at the 1999 NCAA Championships, and the 14-time All-American's return this season greatly enhances the Huskers' hopes for another top-20 NCAA finish.

Annually, the Huskers compile one of the nation's toughest schedules to prepare for the Big 12 and NCAA meets. NU will play host to perennial powers Virginia and UNLV, along with Division II Drury and Division III Kenyon, at the annual Husker Shoot Out and the adidas Sprint Classic in November.

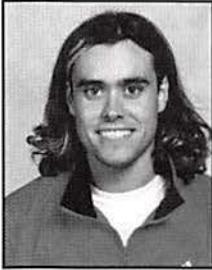

Perhaps the biggest non-conference challenge comes in February when Georgia, the two-time defending women's NCAA champion, and Michigan visit the Bob Devaney Sports Center Pool for a rare late-season triangular meet with the Big Red.

"We face a difficult schedule," Bentz said. "If you look at years past, and you see the people we've invited in and the places that we have traveled to, you'll see a high level of competition."

Husker Men's Swimming and Diving

Javier Botello

To some, the 2000-2001 Nebraska men's swimming and diving season may appear like a chance to rebuild.

Gone are names synonymous with the program during the last four years, perhaps four of the most successful seasons in school history. Olympians Adam Pine, Carlos Asarta, Valery Kalmikovs and Michael Windisch all completed their eligibility. Gone, too, is All-America diver Erik Cook.

However, a closer look reveals that many of the key cogs of NU's 14th-place finish at the 2000 NCAA Championships remain.

Anchoring the squad will be senior Peter Fry and juniors Anthony Rogis, Carlos Oliva and Javier Botello. A total of 20 letterwinners return, including NCAA qualifiers Erik Wiken and Bert Locklin.

Although there will be many members of the team not competing for NU during the first semester due to their participation in the 2000 Olympics, Coach Cal Bentz doesn't think the team will be negatively affected.

"Once you change one area of the dynamic, the whole dynamic changes," Bentz said. "That will have to be an area that we focus on. As people come back to the team, we will integrate them into the team."

Couple the returning lettermen with the incoming freshmen, and the Huskers will bring a solid team to the table.

"We expect to have a much better team this year than we have had in years past," Bentz said. "Along with our returning players, we have some real strong recruits coming in."

Among the returning lettermen are five swimmers who garnered All-America honors in 2000 (Botello, Rogis, Fry, Wiken and Oliva). Of the five, Botello grabbed three All-American nods last season, while Rogis and Fry received two each.

Again this season, the Huskers will face a difficult schedule with defending national champion Texas, as well as top squads from SMU, UNLV and Virginia.

"Our goal is to always schedule the best teams," Bentz said. "We have to schedule teams that are at the level that we want to be at. It helps us stay at this level."

The Huskers will head to Austin, Texas, March 1-3 to compete at the Big 12 Championships. The season will conclude with the NCAA Championships in College Station, Texas, from March 22-24.

Husker Bowling

Bill Straub

The Nebraska women's bowling team left the millennium as a candidate for the team of the 1990s after winning four national championships in 1991, 1995, 1997 and 1999, its second year as a varsity sport.

When the Huskers make their 2000 debut in October, NU Coach Bill Straub doesn't expect a letdown from his young but talented squad.

"Despite our young talent, we hope to make a run toward another successful season, and to keep adding to our trophy case," Straub said.

Straub knows the road leading to another national championship will challenge the Huskers. Nebraska, ranked No. 1 in the preseason poll, will face a difficult schedule. The Huskers will meet at least one top five team at each of their 11 tournaments. NU will face the No. 2 team in the country, Morehead State, five times.

The 2000-2001 NU squad consists of four returning letterwinners: juniors Diandra Hyman, Amanda O'Hayre, and Christine Couvillon, and sophomore Kari Schwager.

Leading the way is Hyman, one of the most celebrated bowlers in school history. Last year, Hyman averaged a national-best 212.57 per game and earned the 1999-2000 Collegiate Bowler-of-the-Year award. The reigning U.S. National women's amateur champion, Hyman is a two-time first-team All-American and a member of the U.S. National Team.

Coach Straub is not only looking to Hyman for an exceptional 2000-2001 season, but also to O'Hayre, who averaged 201.53 in her 12 tournament appearances. Couvillon and Schwager.

"They (O'Hayre, Couvillon and Schwager) have developed to where they will be major contributors to what I feel will be a very good team for the upcoming season," Straub said.

Other players contending for top spots include sophomore Ashleigh Hicken, junior Amanda Yost, and two redshirt freshman, Christina Perez and Suzanne Medwell.

"Perez and Medwell will push to replace returning starters and garner some well-deserved playing time for themselves," Straub said.

Straub is also optimistic about Nebraska's incoming freshmen. NU nabbed the 2000 U.S. High School Player of the Year, Shannon Pluhowsky from Phoenix, Ariz. and the Pennsylvania High School Player of the Year, JoAnn Schmidt of Middletown, Pa.

Songs of the University of Nebraska

The Alma Mater

Refrain:

Nebraska, Nebraska
We pledge you our true loyalty
Nebraska, Nebraska
A good life for you and for me.

Verse 1

We have scarlet and cream as our colors
And we wear them proudly to our games
For the Pride of the Cornhusker legend
And for the school that we cherish to remain.

Refrain

Verse 2

Here to learn for an undiscovered future
And to build from a classical past
We are proud of our dear Alma Mater
We'll support her to help her always last.

Refrain

Verse 3

When the moon shone bright on the colors,
And those memories make you say,
When we kissed on that night at the columns
And the sun shone bright on Ivy Day.

Refrain

There Is No Place Like Nebraska

There is no place like Nebraska,
Dear old Nebraska U,
Where the girls are the fairest,
The boys are the squarest,
Of any old place that you know.
There is no place like Nebraska,
Where they're all true blue,
We'll all stick together in all kinds of weather,
For dear old Nebraska U.

Hail Varsity

Hail to the team,
The stadium rings as everyone sings,
The scarlet and cream.
Cheer on for victory
Echo your loyalty,
So on mighty men,
The eyes of the land,
Upon every hand are looking at you.
Fight on to victory,
Hail the men of Nebraska U.

The Official Field Song for Nebraska

Come a runnin' boys,
Don't you hear that noise
Like the thunder in the skies,
How it rolls along
In the good old song,
For the sons of Nebraska.
Now its coming near with a rising cheer
That will sweep all foes away.
So, with all our vim,
We will fight to win,
And we're going to win today.

Chorus

For Nebraska and the Scarlet,
For Nebraska and the Cream,
Tho they go through many a battle,
Our colors are still seen.
So in contest and in victory,
We will wave then for the team,
And 'twill always stir a Cornhusker,
The Old Scarlet and Cream.

Husker Volleyball

John Cook

The Nebraska volleyball team will bear a totally new look in 2000, but Husker fans are optimistic the results will be the same.

After 22 years as Nebraska's head coach, Terry Pettit retired from coaching after winning his 20th Big Eight/Big 12 Conference title and leading Nebraska to its 18th consecutive NCAA Tournament appearance before handing the reins over to one of college volleyball's top young coaches, John Cook. After building Wisconsin into a top 10 program, Cook left the Badgers to take the position as associate head coach for the Huskers in 1999.

Cook's new staff, consisting of Staci Wolfe and Craig Skinner, is poised to take the Huskers to the NCAA Final Four for the seventh time in school history.

Cook's biggest challenge will be replacing two-time All-American Nancy Meendering, who will redshirt this season after training with the U.S. Olympic Team during the offseason. The result will be a more balanced offense, directed by sophomore Grechaly Cepero.

The Puerto Rican native will handle the sole setting responsibilities after the Huskers ran a two-setter offense in 1999. The Big 12 Freshman of the Year, Cepero earned first-team All-Big 12 honors as an outside hitter and will give Nebraska a sixth attacker in the lineup this season.

She will have a pair of talented middle blockers as her primary targets in 6-2 junior Jenny Kropp and 6-4 sophomore Amber Holmquist. Arguably the best blocking tandem in the Big 12, Holmquist ranked second in the league in blocks per game as a true freshman, while Kropp ranked fourth. An honorable-mention All-Big 12 selection, Holmquist also led the conference with the top hitting percentage, a .377 mark in conference games.

Senior Kim Behrends, sophomore Laura Pilakowski and freshman Anna Schrad will staff the outside hitter position. Senior Angie Oxley, a three-year starter at outside hitter, will move to the right side this season in order to give the Huskers an experienced, steady attacker to fill in for Meendering.

Sophomore Lindsay Wischmeier, who shared the setting duties as a freshman, will take over as a defensive specialist this season. Senior setter Jill McWilliams, will give the Huskers experience on the bench and will be ready to take over at any point in a match.

Sophomore middle blocker Pam Krejci will also be counted on after a strong offseason, while freshman outside hitter Rachel Baumstark will likely redshirt.

HuskerVision: Enhancing Husker Fans' Excitement

Seven years ago, Nebraska Director of Athletics Bill Byrne had a "vision" to make Memorial Stadium the first college football stadium in the country to have big screen replay boards. Some people doubted that a college venue could make a project this big a reality, and they wondered if the screens would detract from the game itself.

However, when HuskerVision became a reality in 1994, Byrne's vision proved to be correct, as the big screen replay boards were an instant hit with the fans, enhancing their Husker game-day experience.

With its replay boards, the University of Nebraska became the first college football team in the country to have instant replay boards at an exclusive college venue. The only other college games which previously had boards available were those played in stadiums which are home to professional football teams.

The screens stand 17 feet high, by 23 feet wide, (388 square feet), and each screen is formed by more than 90,000 lighting dots. These dots form 5,632 lighting elements, units and module cabinets, plus video processing electronics are manufactured by Mitsubishi Electronics. The cost of the system is being paid entirely by commercial sponsorships.

Beside the obvious advantage of being able to view replays and game action on two huge screens, HuskerVision has made several other changes to game day at Memorial Stadium.

First, the screens are the most important ingredient to one of the most dramatic team entrances in all of sports. Along with a 30,000 watt sound system, the replay boards help make "The Tunnel Walk" part of the atmosphere of Nebraska football.

HuskerVision's contributions to Memorial Stadium have not gone unnoticed by Nebraska fans. In a survey of season ticket holders, fans mentioned HuskerVision as one of the most worthwhile additions to Memorial Stadium in many years.

Like the Husker football team, the HuskerVision crew spends the week before a home game developing its own game plan. Starting on Sunday before a home game, the crew produces features for Saturday's game and spends much of the week preparing graphics, mug shots and other clips and features which appear on the boards throughout the game.

Game day is showtime for the HuskerVision crew. On a home Saturday, Director of HuskerVision Jeff Schmahl is in charge of eight control room personnel as well as five other members of the staff who are operating cameras on the field. Also operating in conjunction with much of HuskerVision's features is public address announcer Rich Schwieger as well as producer/director's Kirk Hartman, Michelle Glover, and Brandon Verzal and engineer's Shot Kleen and Jon Barnett. 24 University of Nebraska broadcast journalism students make up the majority of the HuskerVision staff.

HuskerVision is housed in the state-of-the-art Michael Grace Production Studio located on the concourse level of West Stadium. Made possible by a generous donation in honor of former football player and NU Foundation fund-raiser Michael Grace, this area includes office space to accommodate four full-time employees and a staff of interns and student assistants. In addition, a broadcast quality control room, nonlinear editing room and a television production studio allow the HuskerVision staff to produce a multitude of video productions.

Last year, HuskerVision produced more than 100 television shows, including the Frank Solich Show, the Nebraska Football Kickoff Show, as well as coaches shows for men's and women's basketball, volleyball and the Olympic sports at Nebraska.

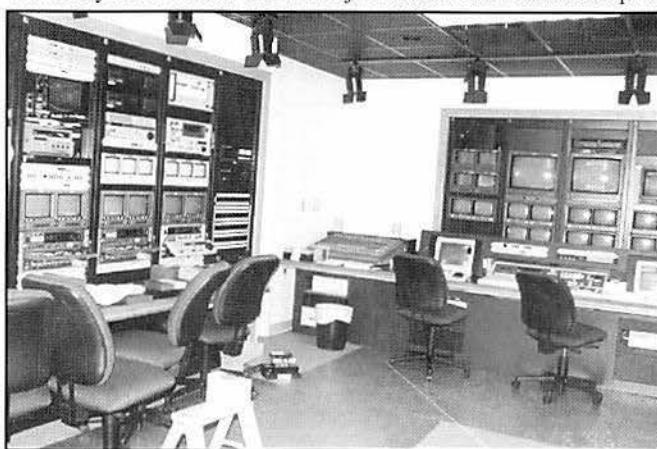

This season, The Frank Solich Show will be produced Saturday night after each game for a statewide broadcast on Sundays. In addition, The Husker Football Kickoff Show and Husker Volleyball Show will also be aired during the fall. During the basketball season, The Barry Collier and Paul Sanderford basketball shows will be broadcast on a statewide basis. Throughout the year, the Husker Show, an Olympic sports magazine program, features many of Nebraska's 24 varsity programs.

HuskerVision's duties also include the production of highlight tapes for all 24 varsity sports and running the new video board in the Bob Devaney Sports Center. The HuskerVision crew has annually produced and marketed highlight tapes on the Nebraska football season. Over the past six years, more than 100,000 tapes have been purchased by NU football fans.

Last fall, HuskerVision expanded to the Bob Devaney Sports Center. Two giant replay boards were installed on the East and West upper ends of the Sports Center that gave Husker fans a chance to view replays, features and other entertaining elements made possible by big screens. The Devaney Center HuskerVision boards are nearly the same size in terms of square footage as the screens in Memorial Stadium. The Devaney screens are among the largest indoor boards in the world, measuring 15 feet high and 26 feet wide, which makes their size comparable with the new HDTV wide screen format. These wide screen aspect ratio screens are part of a 162-foot wide display system on each end of the Devaney Center.

HuskerVision uses "cutting edge" technology to get their signal from the control room to the screens. The current control room in Memorial Stadium is used to send the signal to the Devaney Center screens. This is possible via fiber optic cable which allows multiple video and audio signals to travel long distances using this new technology.

Long known for having one of the best atmospheres in all of college football, Memorial Stadium has become an even better venue for fans with the addition of HuskerVision, making it one of the best stadiums in all of college football.

The state-of-the-art Michael Grace Production Studio, located on the West Stadium Concourse, helps the HuskerVision crew produce more than 100 shows during the year.

Bowl Championship Series Information

Starting in 1998, the Bowl Championship Series (BCS) determined the Division I-A National Champion in football. In the BCS's first season, Tennessee defeated Florida State, 23-16, in the Fiesta Bowl to claim the national title. Last year, it was Florida State's turn as the Seminoles topped Virginia Tech, 46-29, in the Sugar Bowl for their second national title in seven years.

The BCS Series consists of the Rose Bowl, Sugar Bowl, Orange Bowl and the Fiesta Bowl. Conferences with automatic berths include the Atlantic Coast, Big East, Big Ten, Big 12, Pac-10 and the Southeastern conferences.

At the conclusion of the 2000 regular season, the Orange Bowl will host the national championship contest. The game will be played on Jan. 3 at 7 p.m. in Miami. The Orange Bowl shall select the top two teams ranked in the BCS final regular season standings.

This past January, BCS members voted to extend the BCS agreement with ABC through the 2005 regular season and 2006 bowl season allowing each of the four bowls to host two national championship games.

The BCS also notes the importance of regional consideration regarding team selection. Specifically, as a member of the BCS, the Rose Bowl will host the Big Ten and Pac-10 champions in those years in which either the Rose Bowl does not have the national championship game or the Big Ten and Pac-10 champion is not ranked No. 1 or No. 2. Other "regional consideration" tie-ins include the SEC champion in the Sugar Bowl, the ACC or Big East champion in the Orange Bowl and the Big 12 champion in the Fiesta Bowl.

Any Division I-A independent team or the champion of any Division I-A conference which is ranked sixth or higher in the BCS standings, will also be eligible for the Bowl Championship Series.

A year ago, over 1.2 million fans attended college football's 23 bowl games. This season, there will be 25 post-season bowl games, from the 87th Annual Rose Bowl, to the first-year galleryfurniture.com Bowl in Houston, Texas and the Silicon Valley Bowl in San Jose, Calif.

Other BCS games following the 2000 regular season include Rose Bowl on Jan. 1 at 4 p.m. CST, Fiesta Bowl on Jan. 1 at 7:30 p.m. CST and the Sugar Bowl on Jan. 2 at 7 p.m. CDT.

HUSKERS IN THE PROS

NFL Pipeline

The Huskers are not only some of the nation's best prepared players for collegiate competition, but Nebraska's student-athletes are prepared for life after college as well. Nebraska consistently beats the odds by sending more than the national average to the pros. Nebraska tied for the Big 12 lead last year with 33 former Huskers active in the NFL.

Sheldon Jackson

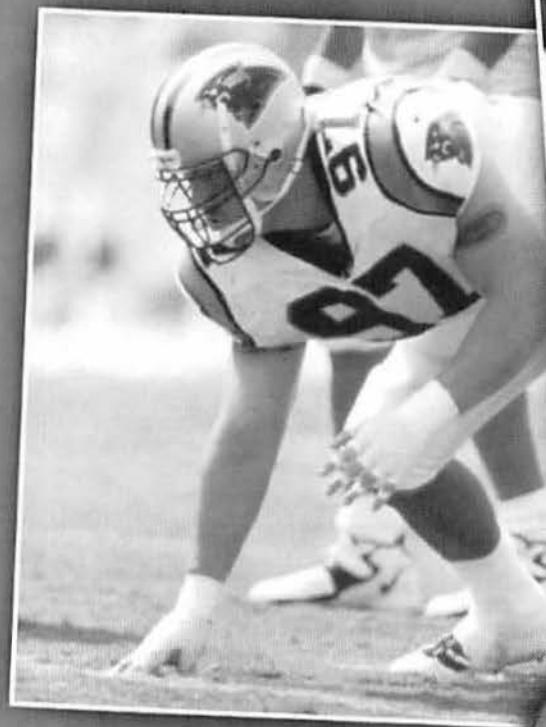

Grant Wistrom, Nebraska's fourth Lombardi Award winner, was a defensive leader on the 2000 Super Bowl Champion St. Louis Rams. Wistrom made 32 solo tackles, including 6.5 sacks, and returned two interceptions for touchdowns in 2000.

Pittsburgh Steelers' kicker Kris Brown tied an NFL record when he opened his career with 13 consecutive field goals in 1999. Brown ranks as Nebraska's all-time leading scorer.

Husker NFL Facts

- In the Bob Devaney, Tom Osborne and Frank Solich era, NU has had 242 players drafted, increasing the average to 6.5.
- Nebraska is tied for 10th on the NFL's all-time first-round draft list with 30, including 11 first-round selections in the last 14 drafts.
- Mike Brown and Steve Warren were both selected in the first three rounds of the 2000 NFL Draft.
- In the 90s Nebraska saw 66 players drafted to NFL teams.
- In addition to the numerous ball carriers and interior blockers NU has provided to the NFL in the last 11 years, the Huskers have had 20 receivers drafted or signed as free agents, and 16 defensive backs have been selected in the last eight drafts.

HUSKER ATHLETICS

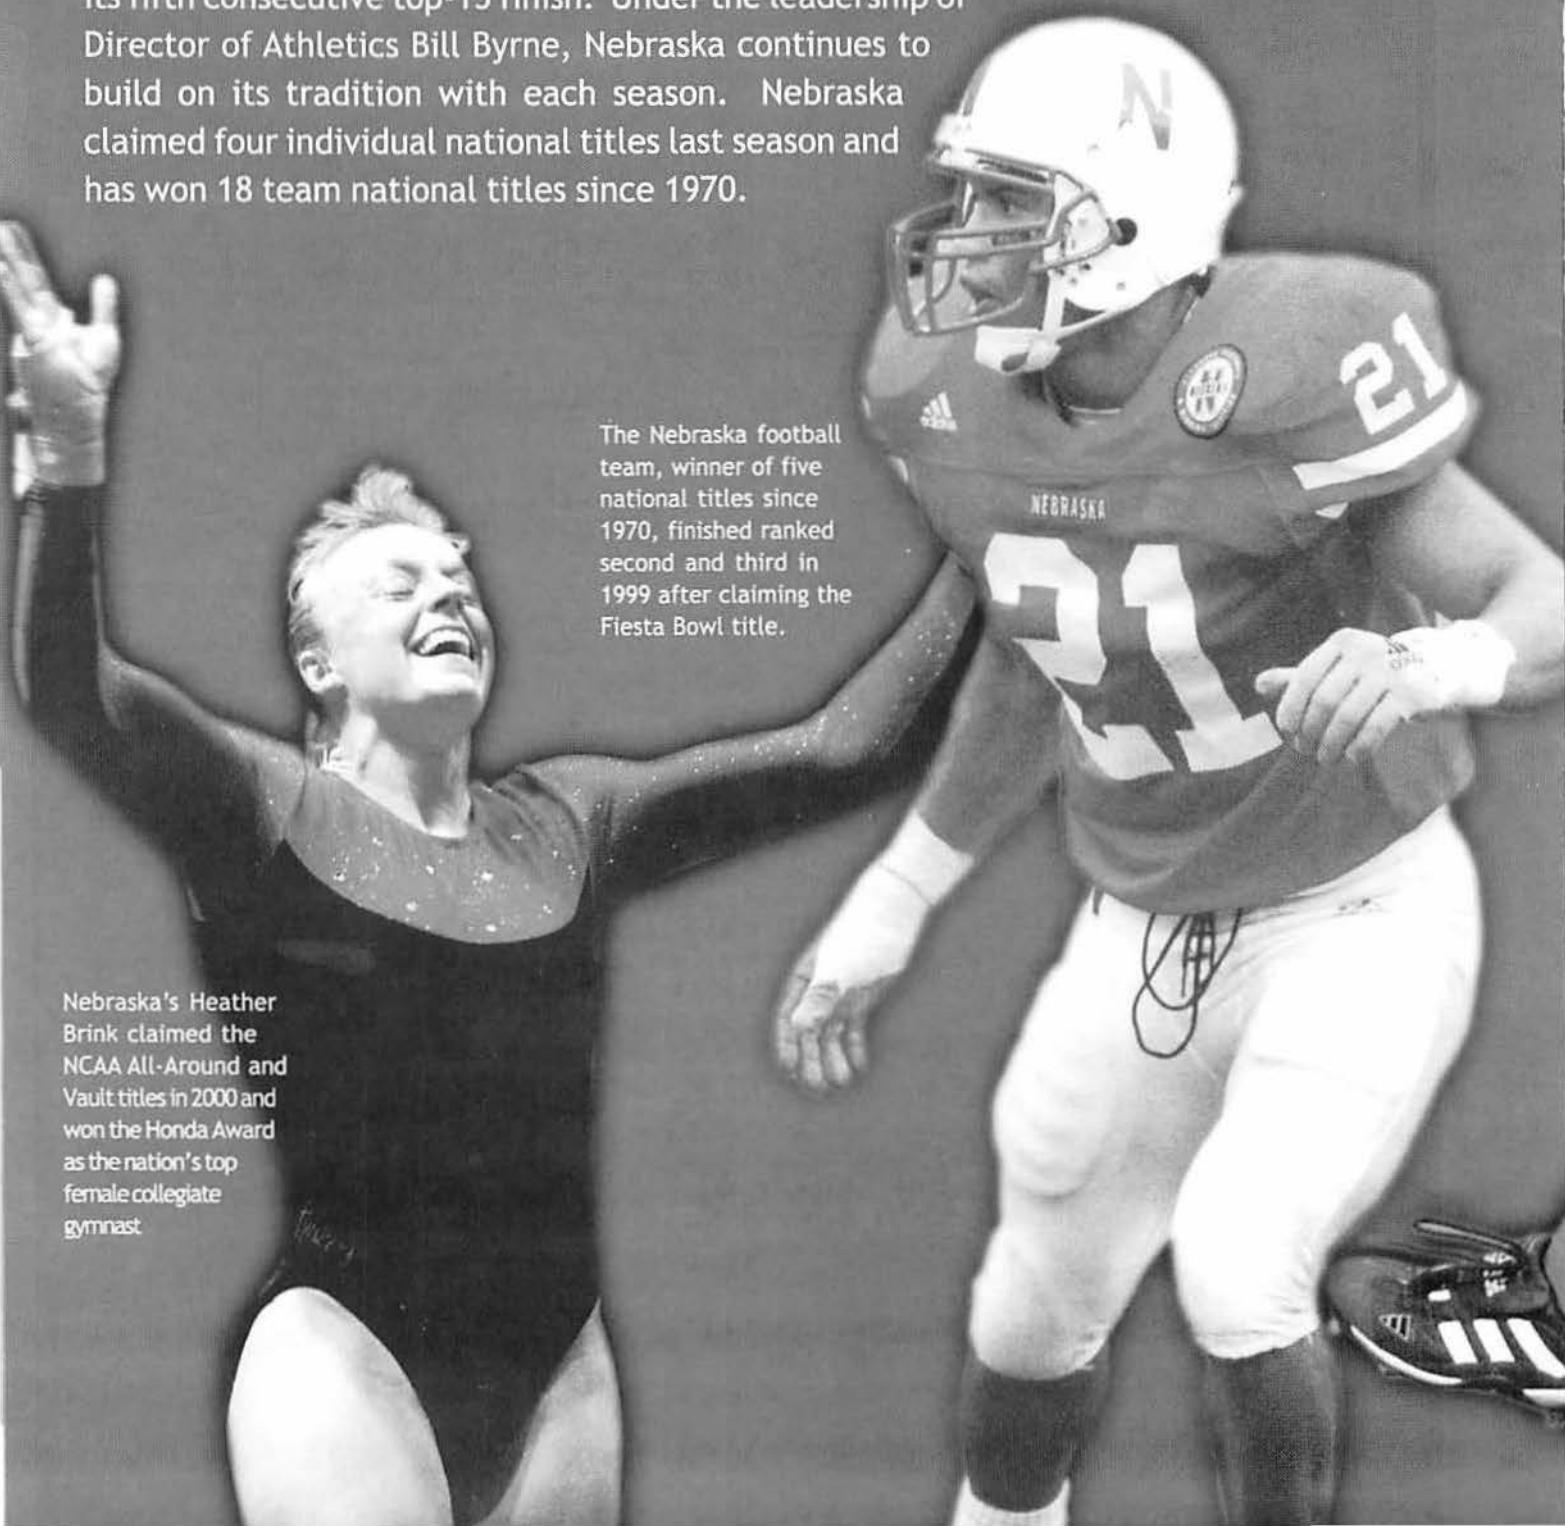

National Powers

One of the nation's premier athletic programs, Nebraska is dedicated to and successful in all 24 of its varsity sports. Nebraska finished sixth in the Sears Director's Cup Standings, its fifth consecutive top-15 finish. Under the leadership of Director of Athletics Bill Byrne, Nebraska continues to build on its tradition with each season. Nebraska claimed four individual national titles last season and has won 18 team national titles since 1970.

The Nebraska football team, winner of five national titles since 1970, finished ranked second and third in 1999 after claiming the Fiesta Bowl title.

Nebraska's Heather Brink claimed the NCAA All-Around and Vault titles in 2000 and won the Honda Award as the nation's top female collegiate gymnast.

► Nebraska's athletic teams took home conference titles in football, soccer, volleyball and men's and women's indoor and outdoor track. In addition the Husker baseball, softball and soccer teams each won a Big 12 Tournament title.

1999-2000 Sears Director's Cup Standings

There's a new face, but it's the same place!

Barry's
BAR & GRILL
9th & Q, Lincoln, Neb.

Open 11 a.m. to 1 a.m. 476-6511
Grill open 11 a.m. to 10 p.m.

There's a new look to our place, but Barry's still has the biggest menu around. Come and see us again and celebrate the changes while enjoying the same service and food you have come to expect.

Almost a half century of tradition. Headquarters for all your Husker rallies.

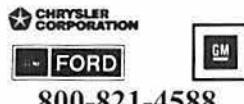

We're always looking for solutions. For instance, the airlines' top complaints are lack of leg room and lost luggage. We suggest more leg room in the lost luggage waiting area. If you're a horse and someone gets on you, falls off and gets right back on, you should buck him off right away. Remember sometimes you can use a foreign language to make your point. Consider French. Open a conversation with On t'a berce trop près du mur? Which means "As a child, was your cradle rocked too close to the wall?"

Husker Wheel Club

Automobile Dealers in Nebraska are contributing a large measure of help to the University of Nebraska athletic program through the loan of courtesy cars. Like other programs which are a part of the Cornhusker booster group activities, this project enables the Nebraska Athletic Department to make greater use of its funds. These sports-minded dealers around the state have earned a debt of gratitude from the University of Nebraska Athletic Department. They are an important part of the "team," which includes players, coaches, administration, faculty, staff, students, alumni, the Husker Educational Award group, the Husker Athletic Fund and the courtesy car program.

Long Chases Dream of Being Contributor for NU

Chace Long

By Tanya Wright
Chace Long always dreamed of playing in college, but it was a different kind of football the Huskers' kickoff man was enamored with.

Long, who grew up playing soccer in Missouri, never really gave football a thought, at least not the American version.

"I never thought about playing college football or even high school football for that matter, because it was always soccer, soccer, soccer," Long said. "That was all I played."

Born in Franklin, Neb., Long moved with his mother and older brother to Missouri, where he fell in love with the European version of futbol.

Long played on competitive soccer teams in Missouri and had hoped to play in high school, but when his mother took a teaching position in Wahoo prior to his freshman year, his soccer dreams started to fade.

"I just wanted to play high school soccer so bad," Long said. "I couldn't wait to play high school soccer, just to see where that went."

But Long would not be given the opportunity because Wahoo did not have a high school soccer team. However, it didn't take long for word to spread that there was a soccer player on campus.

Three weeks into his freshman year, a group of freshmen football players took him out to the football field with tee in hand, to test out his leg. Long wasn't too keen on the idea and at first refused to kick the oblong ball. After more prompting, Long relented and proceeded to boot the ball approximately 60 yards. That was enough for his classmates, and Long was told to be at practice the following day. A week later he was the starting kicker for the Warrior football team.

Even though he was successful on the football field, at one point he held the state record for the longest field goal, soccer was where his heart was. Long, who ironically played goalkeeper, often using his hands more than his feet, traveled to Lincoln several times a week to play soccer.

"I was just looking for the opportunity to not necessarily play Division I soccer, but Division II, and just see what happened. I was looking forward to playing college soccer. That was always my dream."

But a knee injury his junior year limited what he could do on the soccer field and he started paying attention to the recruiting letters he was receiving from various football programs.

"I didn't know I was Division I material, but my coaches always thought I was," Long said. "I wasn't quite sure. I didn't know how strong a leg you had to have or how accurate you had to be to play in college."

Long, who was contacted by Dan Young, the Huskers' offensive line and kickers coach, was also recruited by several small schools in Nebraska, but after a disappointing recruiting trip to South Dakota, he decided he'd like to be a Husker.

"I made up my mind that if Nebraska asked me to walk on, then I'd go there because by that time I felt that I could maybe contribute," Long said. "I knew it would take a few years, maybe four years before I'd even see the field or to actually be contributing all the time."

Long was convinced he could handle the rigors of Division I football the day Coach Tom Osborne showed up at Wahoo High and asked Long and teammate Josh Anderson to join the team.

"He came there to ask us to walk on, but he cared enough to actually show up," Long said. "He wanted us pretty bad to walk on. I just told him right then and there, 'I'll be there in the fall.'

His first few years in Lincoln, Long didn't see much playing time. Prior to this season, he had kicked off in only three games, twice as a freshman in 1997 and in last year's season opener against Iowa.

In the 2000 season opener, with All-American punter Dan Hadenfeldt unable to play against San Jose State, Long took advantage of his opportunity, sending his second kickoff after half time more than 75 yards into the stands in the north end zone.

Hadenfeldt returned for the Notre Dame game but Long won the starting job.

"He's a player that's been in the program five years and has continued to work at it," Coach Young said. "Finally his senior year, he had an opportunity and he took advantage of it."

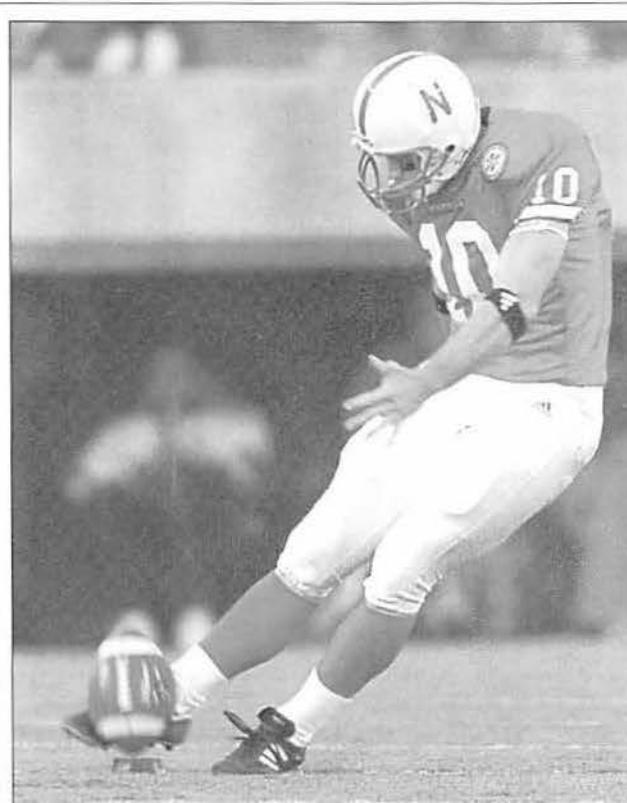

This season Long has seen action in nine games and has established himself as the Huskers' kickoff man.

"We probably should have used him a little bit more," Young said. "He demonstrated this year he had a little stronger leg than Dan."

Long's most impressive performance of the season came against Baylor where eight of his 10 kickoffs found the end zone for touchbacks.

Even though it has taken him five years to see regular playing time, Long says it has all been worth it.

"When I came here to walk on, I didn't just come here to say I was part of Nebraska. I came here to actually play. I knew that wasn't going to happen in one year, two years or maybe three years, but I knew eventually – as with anything – if you stick it out, good things will happen."

Hard-Hitting Finley Keeps Positive Attitude

By Jerod Dahlgren

Clint Finley's senior season may not be what he envisioned, but he is making the most of it.

A three-year member of the Blackshirts, Finley has started just one game this season after starting 11 games during his sophomore and junior seasons.

Despite that, Finley has kept a positive attitude while adapting to his new role.

"It's been hard," Finley said. "Really to tell you the truth, as a competitor you always want to do as good as you can. There's a lot of games that you wish you could be in there more. But all you can do is take what playing time comes your way and do the best that you can. Hopefully I have dealt with it the best that I can."

Finley credits his upbeat manner to his father. A SuperPrep and Bluechip All-American, Finley played quarterback for his father, Mickey, at Cuero High School in Texas.

"It comes from being a coach's son," Finley said. "You've got to do what is best for the team at all times. I can't sit here and tell you that I didn't feel bad at times, but you've got to do what you can to help out the other teammates, the guys that are on the field, and hopefully come out with a victory."

At Cuero, Finley was ranked among the top 10 quarterbacks in the Dallas Morning News' Top 100 State Recruits list, earning first-team all-state and Class 3A player-of-the-year honors.

While redshirting during the 1996 season, he made the position switch from a QB to free safety. According to Finley, his knowledge of the way quarterbacks see the field made for an easy transition.

Finley's 1997 season saw him climb to the No. 2 position on the depth chart at free safety behind current Kansas City Chief Eric Warfield. As a freshman, he had 14 tackles, including four solo stops, and one pass breakup.

During the Kansas State game that season, Finley cemented his reputation as a hard hitter. On Joe Walker's 71-yard interception return for a touchdown, he delivered a crushing block that paved the way for Walker.

Not uncharacteristic of Finley, he has a modest attitude about his shattering hits.

"I just give 'em all I got," Finley said. "I try to make positive contact and whatever happens, happens."

Although some Husker fans may remember Finley for that hit, most recall his interception return for a touchdown against Colorado in 1998. Finley's touchdown was the only one scored by the Huskers in the 16-14 win.

"The highlight of my career is the interception return against Colorado," Finley said. "It was nice for me to have a big play like that for the seniors that were going out. My last game is coming up, and the last thing I want to do is lose that game."

In addition to his interception against CU, Finley had two others, along with 28 tackles in 1998. He started NU's final six games at free safety after returning from a knee strain in fall practice, allowing Mike Brown to move back to rover.

Finley started the first eight games of the 1999 season at free safety before backing up Dion Booker in the last five. He had three-or-more tackles in six games, including a season-best five against Texas.

According to defensive backs coach George Darlington, Finley's big game experience has translated into strong leadership qualities.

"Clint is an extremely hard worker and a very diligent player," Darlington said. "He has a lot of skills, and he is an outstanding leader to our younger players. He has played in a lot of big ball games during his career and he's been in there when the game has been on the line."

Darlington also credits much of Finley's success to his work ethic.

"He puts in an honest day's work every single day at practice," Darlington said. "He gives his best effort everyday. I can never think of a time that he has taken a play off, and you have to admire that kind of effort. It says a lot about him as a player, and it says a lot about his character as a person."

Scheduled to graduate in May with a degree in sociology, Finley has aspirations of following in his father's footsteps by coaching.

"Football has always been a part of my life, since the time I was born," Finley said. "That is not going to change. That is what I identify with. Somehow, somehow, I want to be a part of it."

- 1999 Big 12 Commissioner's Spring Academic Honor Roll
- 1998 Honorable-Mention Academic All-Big 12
- Nebraska Position Record (DB) for Performace Index (2.663) and Pro-Agility Run (3.77)

Noting Finley:

One of the hardest hitters of the Nebraska Blackshirt defense, Clint Finley has 14 tackles this season while backing up both the free safety and rover positions. Finley started the last six games at free safety in 1998 and the first eight in 1999. In the 1998 season finale against Colorado, his first-quarter interception return for a touchdown in the first quarter for 42 yards was the only TD of the game for the Huskers, aiding the Big Red to a 16-14 victory.

As he enters his third season as head coach, he has proved to be the right choice to lead one of the nation's elite football programs. Solich has guided the Huskers

That stability was the primary reason that on Dec. 10, 1997, just moments after Osborne announced his retirement, Solich was named the 26th head coach in Nebraska's 110 years of football tradition. Solich fits the Husker model for success. Just as Osborne was groomed by Devaney to be the head coach, Solich was Osborne's heir apparent. He served on Osborne's staff for 19 seasons, first for four seasons as the head freshman coach and for 15 years as running backs coach. His last seven years as an assistant, Solich had the additional duties of assistant head coach.

But while his challenge was great, there was no other coach as prepared for the task as Solich, a veteran assistant in the Nebraska program. Solich is a product of the Nebraska football program that has been the model of stability, consistency and excellence in collegiate athletics for nearly 40 years. Three coaches were established by Coach Bob Devaney, then carried on for a quarter century by

Guidelines for NU Athletic Department Boosters

The University of Nebraska Athletic Department takes great pride in abiding by the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) and the Big 12 Conference rules and guidelines that govern Division I competition. For the benefit of the many alumni, fans and booster club members who are so active in supporting and assisting the Huskers throughout the year, we would like to remind everyone of a few definitions and rules that apply to all athletic representatives and boosters.

NCAA Principles

Institutional Control

It is the responsibility of the University of Nebraska to control its intercollegiate athletic program in compliance with the rules and regulations of the NCAA.

Responsibility

The University of Nebraska's responsibility for the conduct of its program includes responsibility for the actions of its staff members and for the actions of any other individual, booster or organization engaged in activities promoting the athletic interests of the institution.

Compliance

The University of Nebraska must monitor its program to assure compliance and to identify and report to the NCAA instances in which compliance has not been achieved. An institution found to have violated NCAA rules is subject to disciplinary and corrective actions as determined by the NCAA.

NCAA Definitions

Athletic Representative/Booster

You are considered to be a University of Nebraska athletic representative if you:

- ▶ Are a present or past member of a University of Nebraska booster club or agency that promotes the Huskers' intercollegiate athletic program;
- ▶ Have made financial contributions to the athletic department or to an athletic booster organization of the University of Nebraska;
- ▶ Are, or have been, providing benefits (e.g., summer jobs, meals etc.) to enrolled student-athletes, their family members or friends;
- ▶ Are, or have been involved in any manner of promoting the University of Nebraska intercollegiate athletic program.

Please note: Once an individual is identified as an athletic representative, that person retains that identity indefinitely. The University of Nebraska is ultimately responsible for the acts of all "representatives of athletic interests" in relation to NCAA rules and regulations.

Prospective Student-Athlete

A prospective student-athlete is a student who has started classes for the ninth grade or above, including students in prep schools and junior colleges as well as students who have officially withdrawn from a four-year institution and plan to transfer to another institution. In addition, a student who has not started classes for the ninth grade becomes a prospective student-athlete if the institution or a booster provides the individual or the individual's relatives or friends with any financial assistance or benefits that the institution does not provide to prospective students in general. A good rule of thumb is to treat ALL STUDENTS as prospects.

Student-Athlete

A student-athlete is a student whose enrollment was solicited by a member of the athletic staff or other representative of athletic interests with a view toward the student's ultimate participation in the intercollegiate athletics program.

Contact

A contact is any face-to-face encounter between a prospect, or the prospect's parent or legal guardian, and an institutional staff member or athletic representative during which any dialogue occurs.

Recruiting

Recruiting is any solicitation of a prospect or a prospect's family member (or guardian) by an institutional staff member or by athletic representative of the institution, for the purpose of securing the prospect's enrollment and ultimate participation in the institution's intercollegiate athletic program.

Guidelines and Reminders for Boosters

- ▶ A booster may not contact the prospect, prospect's coach, principal or counselor in an attempt to evaluate or recruit the prospect.
- ▶ A booster may not expend funds to entertain or provide transportation for a prospective student-athlete, family members or friends.
- ▶ A booster may not become directly or indirectly involved in making arrangements for a prospect, or the prospect's relative or friends to receive money or financial aid of any kind.
- ▶ A booster may not contact a prospective student-athlete through letter writing, telephone calling or other forms of communication.

However, here are a few ways that a Husker Booster may be involved:

- ▶ Do discuss summer employment opportunities with a prospect after he/she has signed a National Letter of Intent with the University of Nebraska.
- ▶ Do attend high school athletic events without contacting prospective student-athletes.
- ▶ Do continue existing friendships with families and friends of prospective student-athletes.
- ▶ Do send recommendation letters, newspaper clipping or similar information about prospective student-athletes to Husker coaches.

Extra Benefits Guidelines and Reminders for Boosters

Extra Benefit

An extra benefit is any special arrangement by an institutional employee or an athletic representative to provide a student-athlete or the student-athlete's relative or friend a benefit not expressly authorized by NCAA legislation.

Boosters may not provide any special arrangement considered to be an extra benefit by NCAA definition. Examples of extra benefits include but are not limited to:

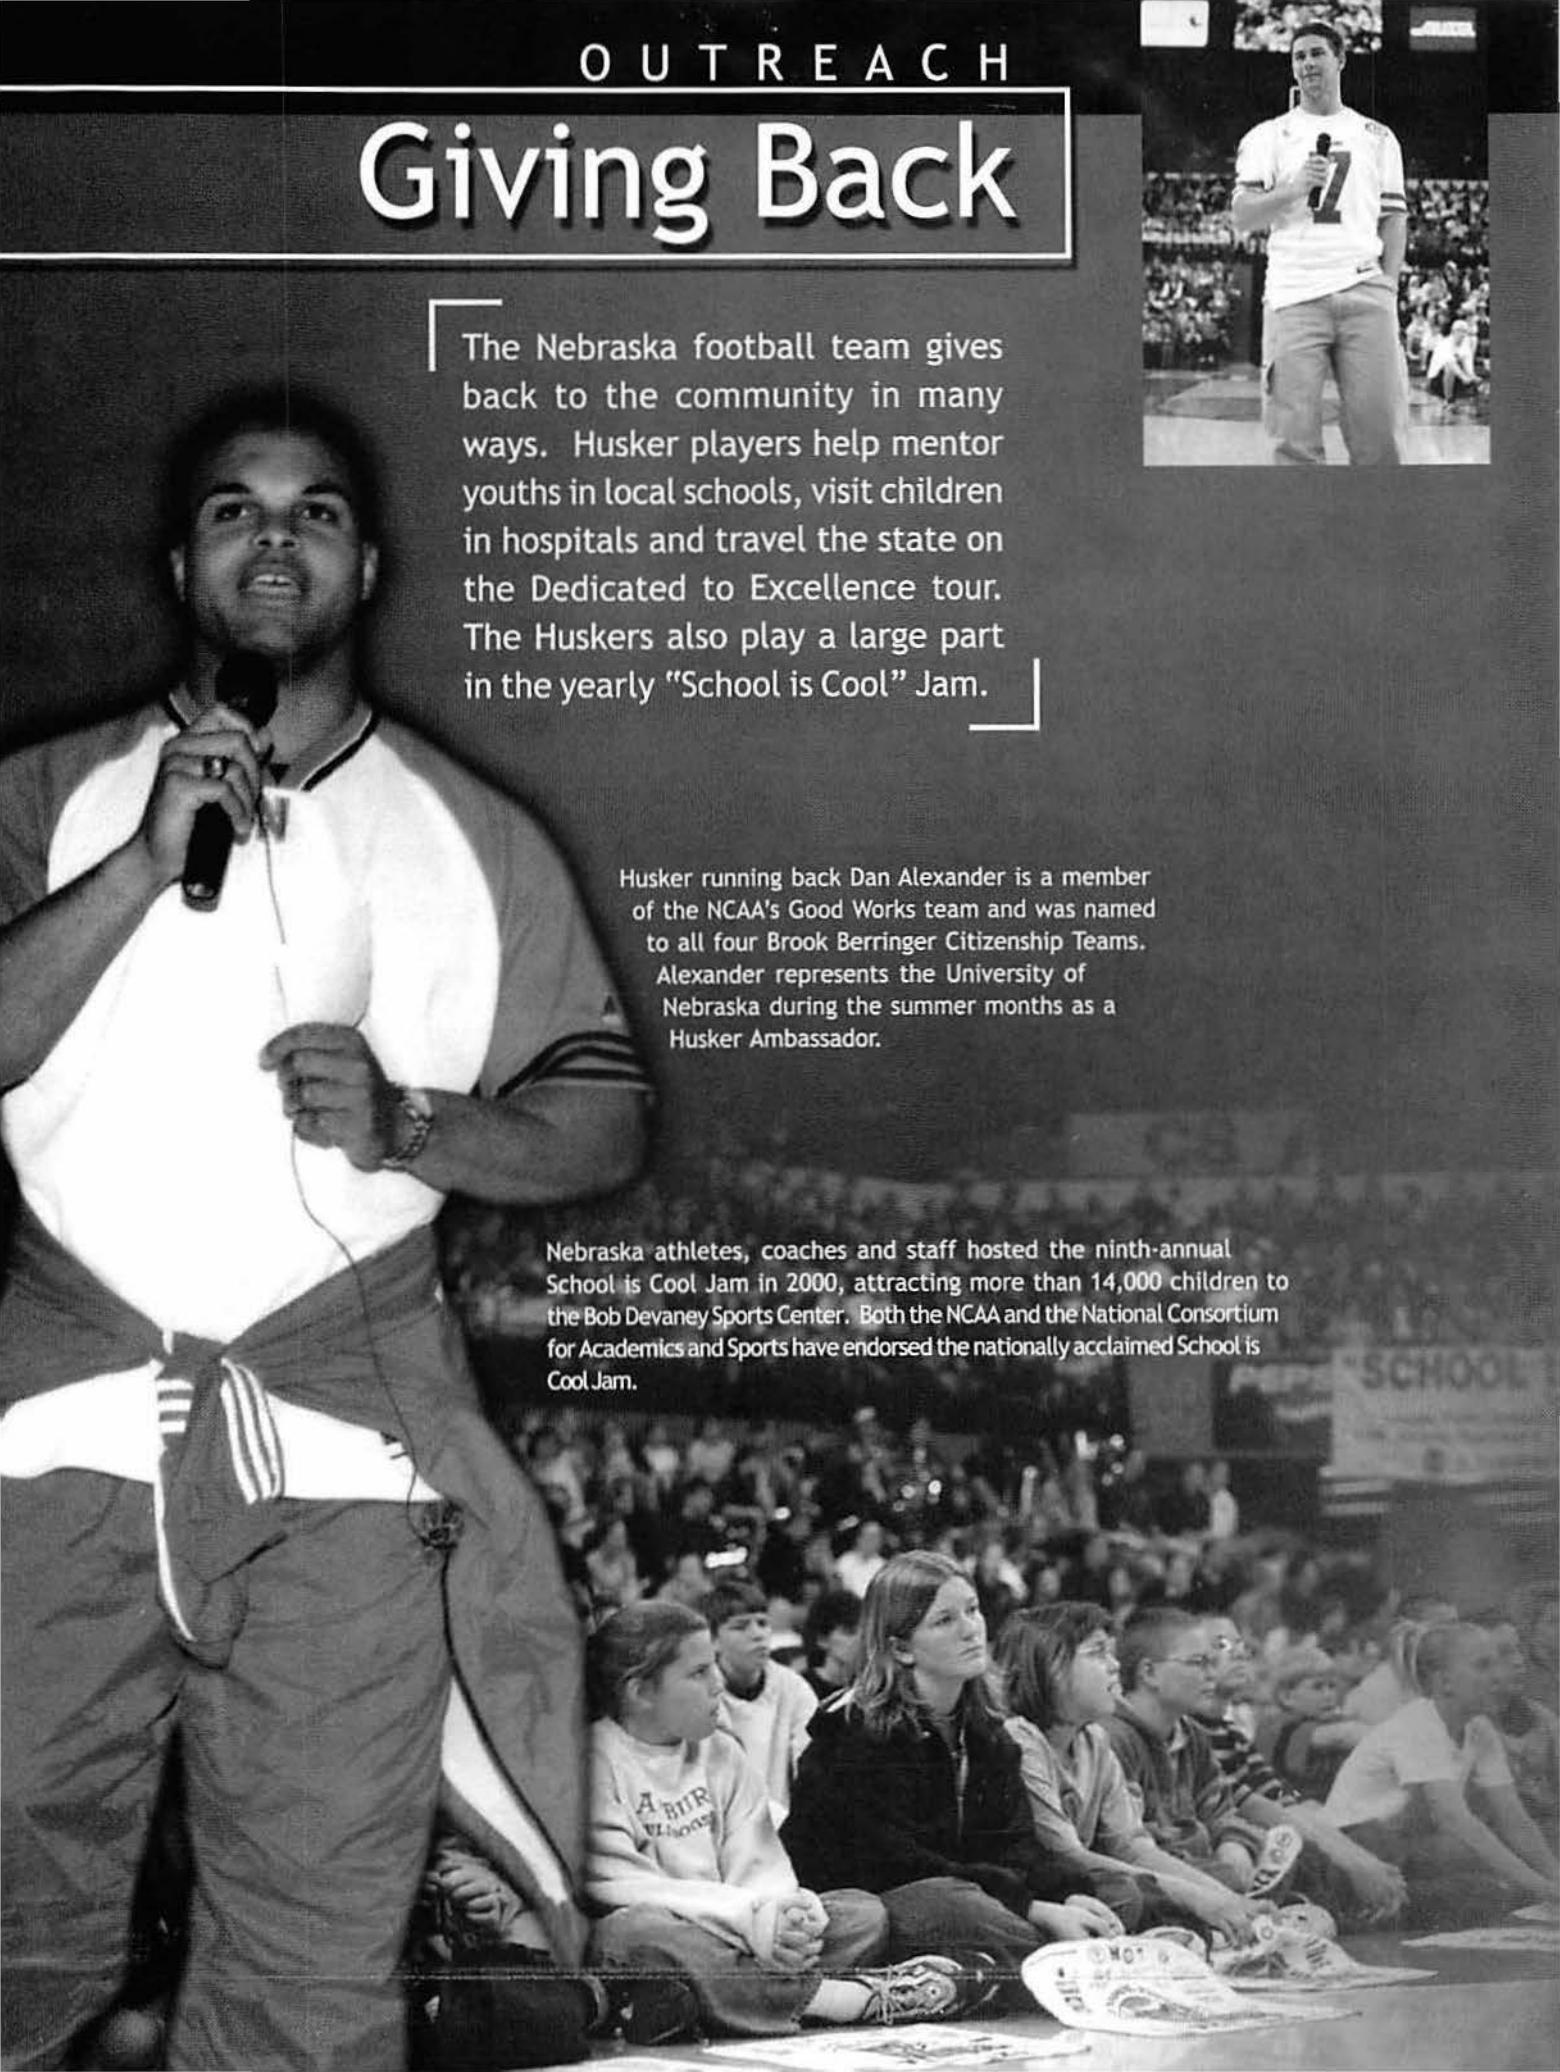

- ▶ Providing cash or loans of any amount;
- ▶ Signing or co-signing for a loan or other forms of financial assistance;
- ▶ Providing the use of a telephone to make local or long distance calls;
- ▶ Transporting a student-athlete or providing the use of a vehicle;
- ▶ Providing free or reduced rent housing;
- ▶ Giving gifts of any kind (i.e. birthday, Christmas, Valentine's Day);
- ▶ Promising a student-athlete post-graduate education or employment;
- ▶ Offering free services (i.e. clothing, airline tickets, laundry, car repair, haircuts, restaurant meals);
- ▶ Providing payment to a student-athlete for a booster club speaking engagement;
- ▶ Providing employment for relatives or friends.

However, here are a few ways that a Husker booster may help:

- ▶ Do invite a student-athlete to participate in non-profit, charitable or educational events.
- ▶ Do invite a student-athlete into your home for an occasional meal.
- ▶ Do contact the NU Athletic Compliance Office for approval prior to a student-athlete engaging in outside speaking or promotional activities.
- ▶ Do pay a student-athlete the commensurate rate for actual and legitimate employment.

For further information regarding NCAA Guidelines for Athletic Representatives, please contact the Athletic Compliance Office at (402) 472-2042 or 1-(800) 927-7220. Inquiries may also be mailed to the Athletic Compliance Office at 300 West Stadium, P.O. Box 880219, Lincoln, NE 68588-0219 or faxed to (402) 472-4609.

Giving Back

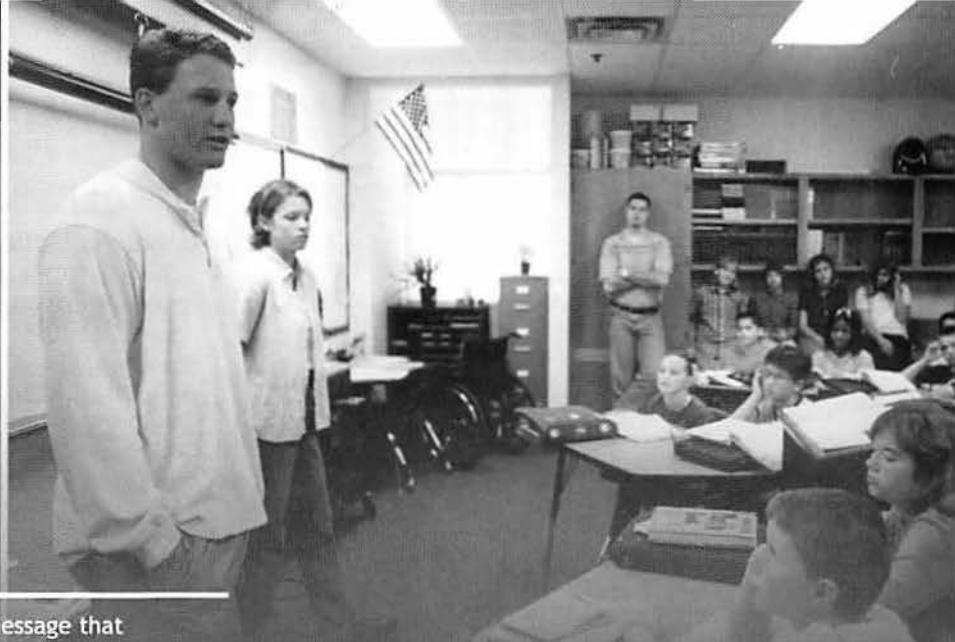

The Nebraska football team gives back to the community in many ways. Husker players help mentor youths in local schools, visit children in hospitals and travel the state on the Dedicated to Excellence tour. The Huskers also play a large part in the yearly "School is Cool" Jam.

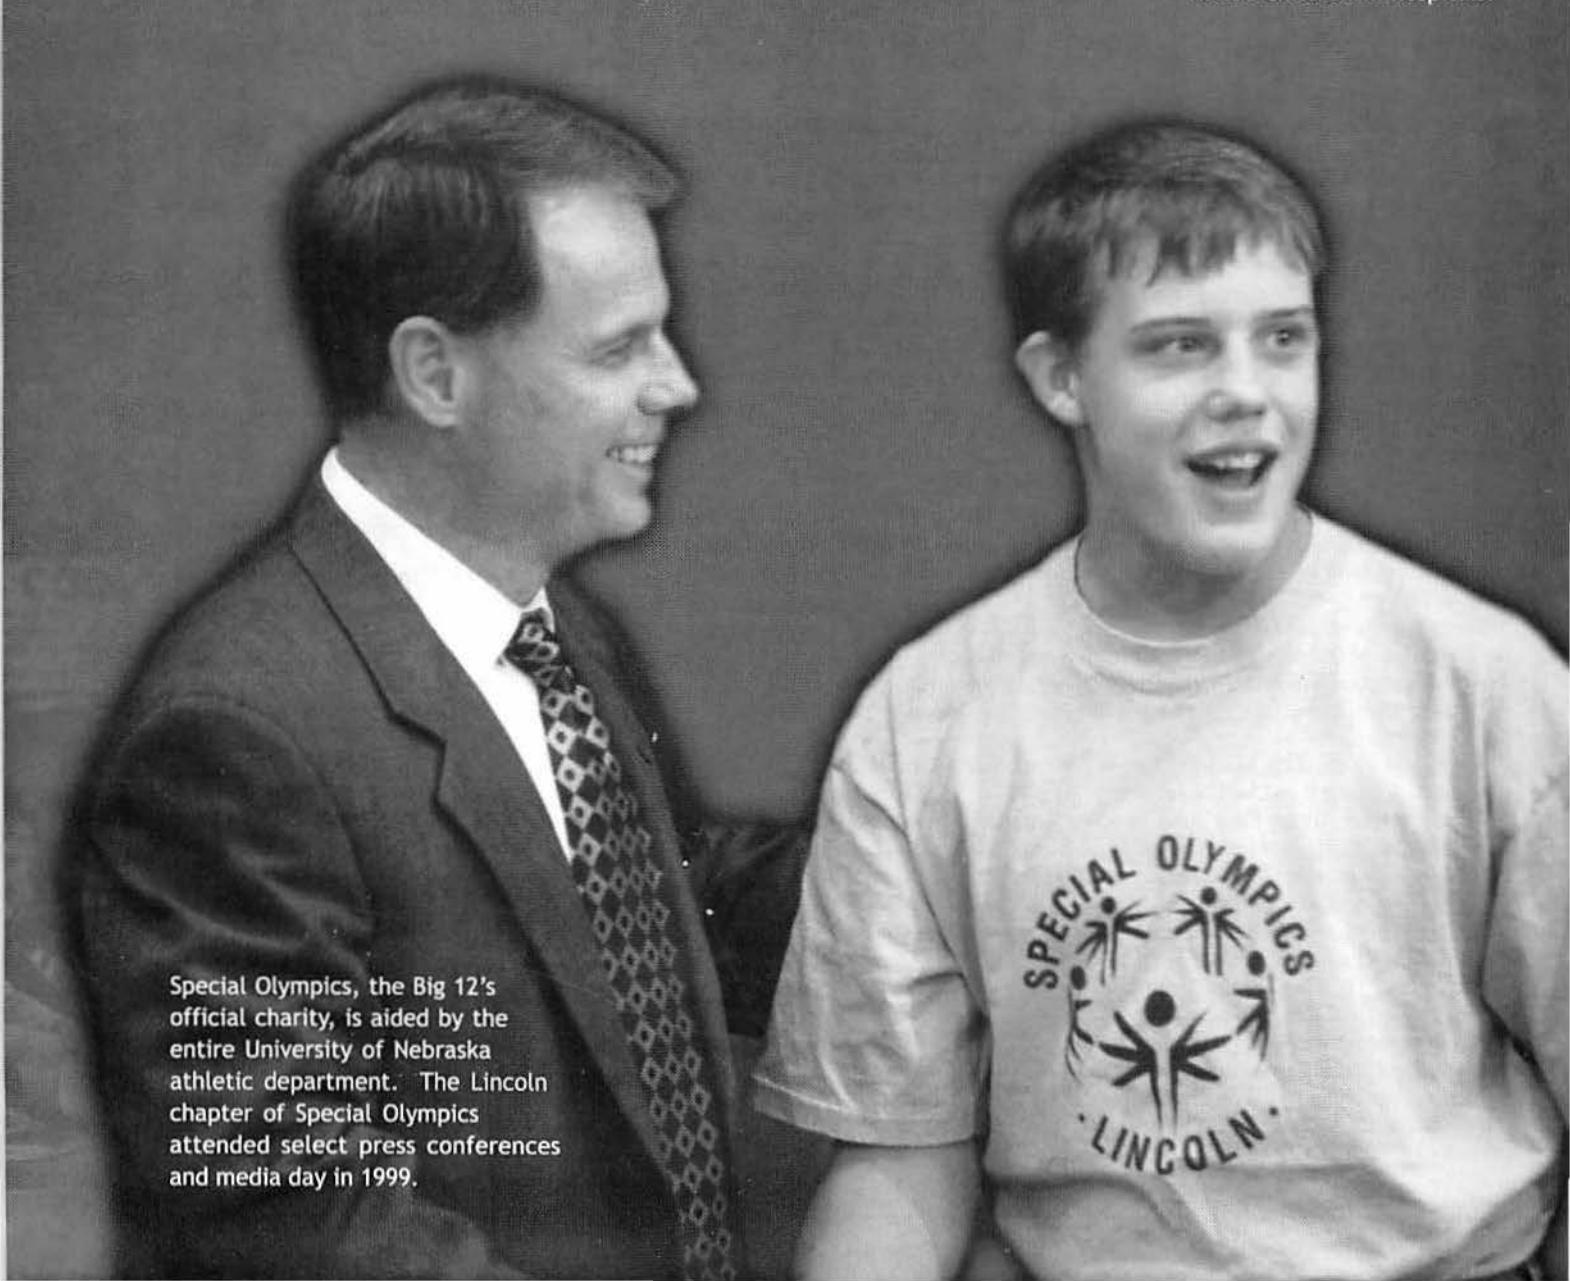

Husker running back Dan Alexander is a member of the NCAA's Good Works team and was named to all four Brook Berringer Citizenship Teams. Alexander represents the University of Nebraska during the summer months as a Husker Ambassador.

Nebraska athletes, coaches and staff hosted the ninth-annual School is Cool Jam in 2000, attracting more than 14,000 children to the Bob Devaney Sports Center. Both the NCAA and the National Consortium for Academics and Sports have endorsed the nationally acclaimed School is Cool Jam.

“The ability to deliver a motivational message that positively influences young people's lives is an intrinsically rewarding benefit of being a Husker.”
-Brian Shaw, B.K. Division I Scholar-Athlete of the Year

Husker team members visit children in area high schools and also find time to share with kids on bowl trips, where the players have visited children in hospitals.

Special Olympics, the Big 12's official charity, is aided by the entire University of Nebraska athletic department. The Lincoln chapter of Special Olympics attended select press conferences and media day in 1999.

Pinnacle Sports Productions

Pinnacle Sports Productions begins its fifth year of producing and marketing the live broadcasts of the University of Nebraska football, men's and women's basketball, volleyball, baseball and softball games. Pinnacle was first awarded the broadcast rights on Feb. 9, 1996. The University renewed the Pinnacle Contract in May, 2000 worth $10.4 million over an additional five-year term to begin Aug. 1, 2001 and to end July 31, 2006.

Criteria used in evaluating bids included guaranteed annual fees; confidence in the bidder's ability to realize such fees; ability to put together a network; additional proposed programming; availability of a viable radio production facility and personnel; coverage of women's sports; other sports coverage committed; air wave coverage of the state of Nebraska and key out-of-state locations; and willingness and ability to promote the University of Nebraska in all areas, including non-athletic concerns.

Pinnacle Sports Productions is owned by Paul Aaron of Elkhorn, Neb., and Dale Jensen of Phoenix, Ariz.

Pinnacle Sports Productions heads up a large network of state and national affiliates, allowing Husker games to be heard nationwide. For the 2000 season, KKAR (1290 AM) and KZFX (101.9 FM) are the Omaha affiliates and KLIN (1400 AM) and KFGE (98.1 FM) are the Lincoln affiliates. As of press time, Pinnacle Sports had put together a 59-station network, including 37 in-state and 22 out-state stations, covering 14 states.

The Pinnacle Sports Productions staff includes Paul Aaron, President; John Andrews, General Manager; Patricia Aaron, Marketing; Colleen Hitz, Marketing and Sales Manager; Jamie Linn, Marketing; David Lacey, Business Manager; Mike Elliott, Technical Director; Terri Elliott, Producer; Lesia Woodruff, Billing and Traffic Director.

Pinnacle Sports Announcers

Veteran sportscaster Warren Swain begins his fifth year as the play-by-play voice of Husker football and men's basketball. Swain has been in the sports radio business for nearly three decades and was the radio voice of University of Virginia football, basketball and lacrosse from 1986 to 1996.

Swain has also held play-by-play assignments at Drake University, the University of Oregon, Iowa State University and Hastings College. Swain was named Virginia Sportscaster of the Year six times, most recently in 1994, as well as earning Iowa and Oregon Sportscaster-of-the-Year honors.

After growing up in the Midwest, Swain welcomed the opportunity to work with the University of Nebraska.

Former Husker Adrian Fiala provides color for football broadcasts. Fiala played football (linebacker) and baseball (catcher) for the Huskers (1967-69). Fiala previously provided color commentary for KFOR radio in Lincoln, working with Ray Scott, Tim Moreland and Dick Perry. Since 1985, he has worked as the analyst for telecasts of the Omaha Golden Spikes games on the Nebraska ETV Network and in Omaha, on Cox cable. He has provided color commentary for the Nebraska baseball team for the past 10 seasons.

Jim Rose joins Swain and Fiala in the broadcast booth each week for his comments and insights. Rose is also the women's basketball play-by-play announcer and is the program director at KLIN. Sideline reports are delivered by KKAR's Gary Java. Other announcers and studio personnel include, KLIN's John Bishop, John Baylor and Gary Sharp.

2001 Big Red Football School

Dear Student-Athlete:

I know attending a camp can be very valuable to a young athlete, and the Nebraska Coaching Staff wants you to know that we will do everything possible to pass along personal instruction and individual techniques to every athlete to make your learning experience a truly enjoyable one.

Sincerely,

Frank Solich
Frank Solich

Registration

Athletes who will be in the 10th, 11th or 12th grades next fall are eligible to attend the Big Red Football School. The fee is $195. An advance registration deposit of $100 must accompany each application. The balance is due at registration time. There will be no refund of fees after the athlete has been accepted in school. Housing is provided in one of the University's residence halls, where breakfast, lunch and dinner are included in the $195 fee.

Campers that live close to the University may stay with their parents if approved--an adjustment in fees will be made in this case. Attached is an application form which should be filled out and sent at once to: Big Red Football School, 217 South Stadium, P.O. Box 880125, Lincoln, NE 68588. Make checks payable to: Big Red Football School.

Sessions

During each session, Frank Solich and his staff will give personal instruction on individual techniques and fundamentals daily from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. and from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. Lectures will be given after lunch by Coach Solich (motivation) and Nebraska Strength Coach Boyd Epley (strength training). Evening sessions will be devoted to specialty work and team competition. During the camp you will also have the opportunity to lift weights under the supervision of Boyd Epley and his staff. Although all four sessions are individual camps, groups of players or teams are encouraged to attend.

NOTE: Each session is limited. Get your application in early.

We wish to apply for the 2001 Big Red Football School (Please indicate which session):

FIRST SESSION--June 3-6

THIRD SESSION--June 10-13

SECOND SESSION--June 6-9

FOURTH SESSION--June 21-24

Enclosed is a check for $100 as a deposit, the balance of $95 to be paid upon arrival at the school.

Husker Soccer

Jenny Benson

After producing the best season in Nebraska soccer history in 1999, the Huskers want only one thing in 2000 -- more.

Nebraska advanced to the Elite Eight in the NCAA Tournament for the second time in school history and finished with a 22-1-2 record but came up one sudden death penalty kick short of its first trip to the Women's College Cup in San Jose, Calif. The Huskers did not advance after a four-overtime tie with Notre Dame in front of a school-record crowd of 3,702 at the Abbott Sports Complex.

Now, despite losing a senior class that included All-Americans Lindsay Eddleman, Isabelle Morneau, Sharolta Nonen and Amy Walsh, Coach John Walker and the Huskers think they have what it takes to repeat as Big 12 champions and advance to the Women's College Cup.

"We're not satisfied with what we accomplished last year," Walker said. "Sure it's nice to finish in the top five, but our goal is to get to the Final Four and win the national title. At Nebraska, the goal will always be to win the national championship."

The Huskers run for the Women's College Cup will be led by an experienced defense. Senior goalkeeper Karina LeBlanc, who ranked fifth nationally with a 0.51 goals-against average, returns after a summer as a starter for the Canadian National Team. Senior defender Christine Gluck, who has started 47 straight games, returns after earning All-Big 12 Tournament honors. Senior defender/midfielder Jenny Benson, who is Nebraska's all-time assist leader and one of the nation's most creative players, also returns as a three-time All-Big 12 pick.

Sophomore Breanna Boyd, who is a starting defender for the Canadian National Team, completes a solid backfield, while All-Big 12 midfielder Meghan Anderson is back to head Nebraska's attack. The junior from Omaha led the Huskers and ranked 18th nationally with 54 points on 21 goals and 12 assists.

Junior Shannon Tanaka and sophomore Kori Saunders should also find starting jobs in the midfield. Second-team All-Big 12 forwards Kelly Rheem and Christine Latham should help lead an offense that ranked second nationally with 4.32 goals per game in 1999. Juniors Becky Preston, Najah Williams and Danica Carey and senior Lauren Tatum will all battle for starting time in the midfield or at forward. Brooke Jones, Paige Phillips and Leah Lamale should see significant playing time.

Nebraska's returnees will be joined by a group of seven newcomers, including Lindsey Greenwood, Christy Harms, Kelly Haxton, Marie-Claude Henry, Becca Malesa, Erin Miller and Lacey Woolf.

"We want to finish our season in San Jose," Walker said. "We think we have the potential to get there."

Husker Rifle

Nicole Allaire

The Husker rifle team made history last year when it qualified for the NCAA Championships in just its second season. Not only did the Husker shooters fire their way to a third-place finish with three freshmen and two sophomores on the roster, but they were also the only all-female team in the competition.

Although it will be tough to duplicate last year's accomplishment, Head Coach Karen Anthony said she expects Nebraska to be among the top five teams in the country during the 2000-01 season.

"We will have excellent depth in air rifle, with five athletes capable of shooting 390 or better," Anthony said. "We're not as deep with the smallbore rifle, but we'll be significantly better than last year."

The Huskers will again rely on Nicole Allaire, who was named a National Rifle Association All-American in both air and smallbore rifles as a freshman. The reigning NCAA individual champion in the smallbore, Allaire also competed in the individual air rifle competition, placing 15th.

Nebraska will also be bolstered by the return of sophomore Amanda Trujillo, who earned second-team NRA All-America honors in both rifles, and junior Terim Richards, who finished fifth in the NCAA individual air rifle competition. Trujillo, who hails from Brush, Colo., placed ninth in the NCAA individual smallbore competition and could challenge for NRA first-team honors this year.

Lincoln native Rachel Spiry returns for her third season. The team leader, Spiry has added 66 points to her smallbore personal-best and has also improved in the air rifle.

Sophomore Victoria Ridge (Langhorne, Pa.) is also back and could challenge for a top-four spot on the smallbore team.

Three freshmen join the Huskers for the 2000-01 season, led by Heather Pisso from Wheeling, W.V. Pisso, a second-year member of the National Development team, finished second to Richards in air rifle and was the runner-up to Allaire in smallbore at the 2000 National Junior Olympic Shooting Championships.

The Huskers will also gain some international experience with the addition of Victoria, British Columbia, native Karen Aspden. Aspden, who shoots primarily air rifle, finished fourth at the 1999 Canadian National Rifle Championships and should contribute immediately to the team.

Rounding out the recruiting class is Melissa Downsbrugh from Bellefonte, Pa. Downsbrugh, only 17, competed at the 1999 USA Shooting National Championships, and should see marked improvement in her scores throughout the season, according to Anthony.

Husker Wrestling

Mark Manning

After three seasons as the head coach at Northern Iowa, Mark Manning will take over the helm of a Nebraska squad that finished eighth nationally last season and returns four NCAA qualifiers, three All-Americans and a national champion.

Although Manning is excited about his new position at Nebraska, he said he isn't quite sure when it will sink in that he is now a member of the scarlet and cream instead of the purple and gold of Northern Iowa.

"As the season gets going I think it will set in," Manning said. "This is a great opportunity for me professionally. I coach to help young men grow in wrestling and in life. I want to help each one of our team members meet their goals on and off the mat."

Manning will rely on senior Brad Vering to lead the Huskers toward those goals. Vering gave Nebraska its seventh national champion after defeating Iowa State's Zach Thompson in the 197-pound finals at the NCAA Championships in St. Louis last year. The Howells, Neb., native posted a 38-3 record during the 1999-2000 campaign and is at the top of InterMat's preseason rankings.

Senior Todd Beckerman enters the 2000-01 campaign as the second-ranked 133-pounder in the nation after earning his first All-America honor in 2000. Beckerman posted a 31-10 mark last season and was the team leader in major decision victories with 11.

Manning's third returning All-American is junior Bryan Snyder. The Easton, Pa., native was an All-American and Big 12 Champion at 157 pounds in both 1999 and 2000 and posted a 43-3 overall record, including a perfect 18-0 dual record last season. Snyder's 43 wins in 1999-2000 tied him for second on NU's single-season win chart.

Despite his regular season success, Snyder faltered at NCAAs, falling in the first round. With that loss still fresh in his mind, Snyder will be ready and focused when March 15 rolls around in Iowa City, Iowa.

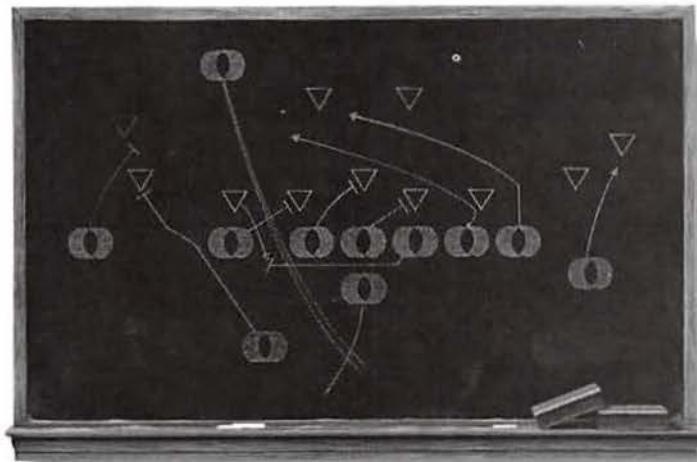

"Our whole regular season will prepare us for the NCAA tournament," Manning said. "Our guys will know that when they step on that mat in Iowa City, they need to be ready to go."

"I believe we have a number of guys who are very talented and have the wrestling experience to have a lot of success this season," Manning said. "We want to make a brand of wrestling that is exciting to watch."

Husker Women's Gymnastics

Amy Ringo

The question heading into the 2001 season for Nebraska Women's Gymnastics Coach Dan Kendig is what to do for an encore.

Last season, the Huskers went 25-5, won their first regional title in 17 seasons and placed fourth at the NCAA Championships, equaling the best finish at nationals in the program's 25-year history. In addition, Heather Brink won the NCAA all-around and vault titles, while also capturing the Honda Award, presented to the nation's top collegiate gymnast.

Despite the difficult task of replacing Brink and All-American Nicole Wilkinson, Kendig is optimistic about the upcoming campaign. The Huskers return six letterwinners, including a trio of All-Americans, and regain the services of Bree Dority O'Callaghan, who missed all of last season with a knee injury.

"We are excited about the upcoming season," said Kendig, who is 123-26 in seven seasons at NU. "We are going to miss Heather's consistency, but we will have a lot more routines to draw from because we gained five athletes and lost only two. On paper, we should be a better team than last season."

Much of the leadership will be provided by all-arounders Amy Ringo and A.J. Lamb, as the duo both earned All-America honors last season. The lone senior on the roster, Ringo was NU's most consistent all-arounder, scoring 39 or better in each of the last nine meets, placing fifth in the all-around at the Big 12 Championships and at the NCAA Region 3 Championships. Lamb made an immediate impact in her first season for the scarlet and cream, earning first-team All-America honors on floor exercise and finishing second in the all-around at regionals. She set freshman records in three events and was the Big 12 Co-Newcomer of the Year.

If the NCAA Championships were any indication, junior Laura Goss is poised to have a breakthrough season in 2001. The Austell, Ga., native scored 9.825 or better in all six of her routines at nationals, barely missing out on All-America honors on three events. She is also the Huskers' top returning vaulter, placing second at the Big 12 Championships with a career-best 9.90.

If Dority O' Callaghan can return to her freshman season form, the Huskers will have another top all-arounder in the lineup. She had an impressive freshman season in 1999, taking Big 12 Newcomer-of-the-Year honors and placing 17th in the all-around at the NCAAs in Salt Lake City with a career-best score of 39.175, barely missing out on All-America honors. O'Callaghan suffered a knee injury and was redshirted, but has been in the gym working on her routines since last spring.

In addition to Lamb, a trio of freshmen were mainstays in the NU lineup in 2000, and all have the potential to contend for conference and national honors this season. Julie Houk is the Huskers' third returning All-American. The sophomore from Hamilton, Ohio, won the Big 12 title on the uneven bars and was among the national leaders in the event all season. Fellow sophomores Jess Wertz and Jen French were both three-event performers last season. Wertz competed on all four events last season and is one of the Huskers' top performers on uneven bars and floor exercise, while French was one of NU's top beam workers and led off the Husker vault lineup last year.

Joining the returnees is one of the nation's top recruiting classes. Alicia Ingram was a former national team member who competed at the U.S. Nationals in late July. In addition, Gina Bruce, Tami Harris and Libby Landgraf all have extensive experience competing at Junior National competition.

Nebraska faces a tough schedule featuring the Masters Classic with LSU, North Carolina State and Denver the last weekend in February.

Husker Men's Gymnastics

Dusty Jakub

Nebraska men's gymnastics Coach Francis Allen predicts the Huskers will have luck on their side during the 2001 season after suffering through the unluckiest season in the program's history last year.

The Huskers lost national champions Jason Hardabura and Marshall Nelson as well as All-American Blake Bukacek to injuries in 2000.

"Last season, if we had not had the injuries that we did, there is not a doubt in my mind that we would have been a top competitor for the national championship," Allen said.

"But the thing is, this year's team could be even better than the squad we were going to have last year if everything goes according to plan and we have a little luck."

Allen has reason for optimism. Nebraska will field an experienced and talented squad despite the departure of a 2000 senior class that included one national champion and three All-Americans.

Jason Hardabura headlines the 2001 team. The 1999 NCAA all-around and floor exercise champion, Hardabura competed in just two meets during the 2000 season because of shoulder soreness. In late February, he underwent season-ending surgery to repair a torn labrum, fixing the tendon that connected his right shoulder to its socket.

Allen said Hardabura, who holds the NU record for all-around scores of 58 or higher in a single season with six, returned to full speed faster than expected.

"Even though Hardabura missed last season, he is still going to be a guy that everyone wants to beat," Allen said. "He has to be a favorite for the all-around title again this year."

The Huskers' second returning All-American is Dusty Jakub. A Lincoln High product, Jakub was a fixture in Nebraska's pommel horse and parallel bars lineups throughout the 2000 season before capturing All-America honors with a fifth-place finish in the parallel bars competition at the NCAA Championships in April.

Senior Grant Clinton and junior Martin Fournier also bring championship experience to the Nebraska lineup. Clinton advanced to the NCAA finals on high bar last season despite battling back and shoulder soreness throughout 2000. When healthy, Clinton competes in five events and is one of NU's best still rings performers.

Fournier competed in the all-around eight times for NU during the 2000 season and scored 54 or higher five times. His best event is parallel bars, where he captured three event titles.

"Martin Fournier will be a great gymnast," Allen said. "He hurt his wrist in December last year and never really recovered. I'm expecting much more out of him this year."

Junior Jeff Kelly, a ring specialist, and sophomores Nick Battiner and Ryan Sneed also return for NU. They will be joined by freshmen Steven Friedman, a South African national team member, and Orzata Julian and Suciu Silviu, both Romanian national team members.

The three newcomers will not join the Huskers until the second semester because each will compete in the 2000 Olympics this fall.

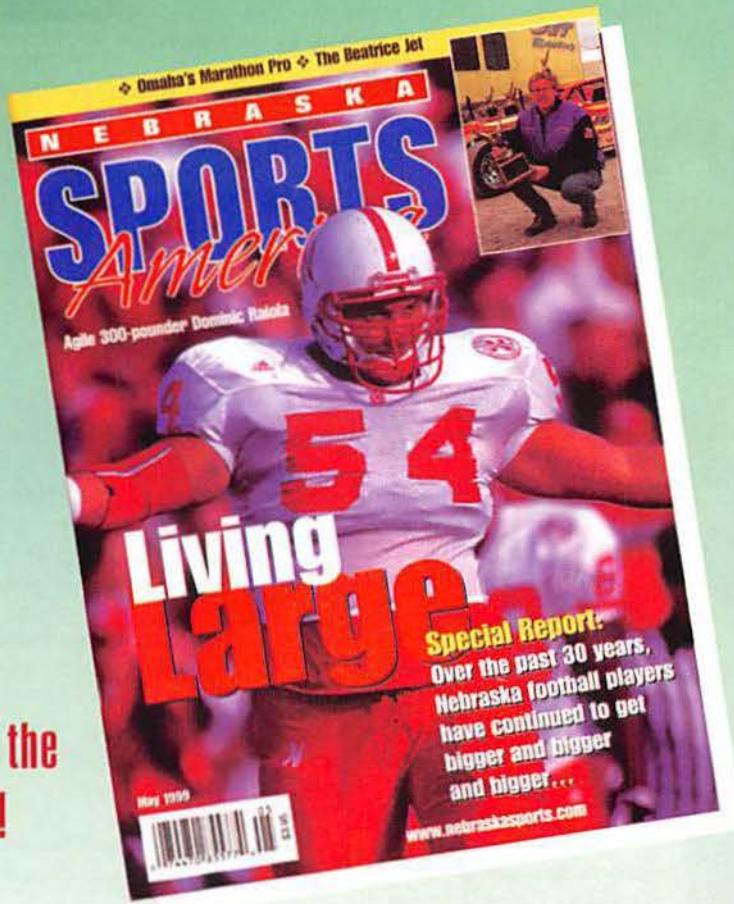

"Both Romanian guys are tough, rugged gymnasts," Allen said. "They are scoring 56 all-arounds at the Olympic level, which is like a 57 or 58 in college. Steven Friedman is also very talented, and he's a great rings guy. I'm expecting to see terrific things from all three of the new guys."

Husker Cross Country

Amie Jorgensen

With the loss of All-Big 12 Conference runner Michelle Brooks and 1999 team captain Jaime Pauli, the 2000 Nebraska women's cross country team would appear to be hard pressed to duplicate its 16th-place finish at last year's cross country championships.

In addition to Brooks and Pauli, the Huskers will also find themselves without the services of Jeannette Zimmer, who was Nebraska's top finisher in each of the meets in which she competed as a freshman. Zimmer, who was limited to four meets last year, was forced to give up running because of stress fractures in both legs.

However, NU Coach Jay Dirksen still has reason for optimism. Nebraska returns three runners from the 1999 squad that earned the program's highest finish at the national meet since 1994.

"I think we've got four pretty solid returnees, and we've added some really good freshmen," Dirksen said. "This is one of the toughest conferences in the nation, and we're hoping to place in the top half."

Leading this year's squad will be Amie (Finkner) Jorgensen (Kearney, Neb.) and Jaimie Kruger (Pierce, Neb.), a pair of seniors who were among Nebraska's top runners last season. Injuries have plagued Jorgensen her entire collegiate career, and she missed the 2000 indoor track season with a stress fracture. However, with a great spring track season in which she placed eighth at the conference meet in the 10,000-meter run, and a solid summer of training, Jorgensen is on pace to have her best season ever this fall.

Kruger, who now has a year of Division-I experience after transferring from Nebraska-Kearney in 1998, could battle for a spot in the top three.

Another returner who will compete for the top spot on the team is sophomore Kathryn Handrup (Aurora, Neb.). Handrup was consistently among the top four runners on the Husker squad despite starting her collegiate career on only half a summer of training because of injuries. Last season she finished 22nd in the competitive Big 12 and will look to improve that finish in 2000.

Also returning to the team is senior Deb Osteen (Clayton, Calif.), junior Jenna Lucas (Rapid City, S.D.) and sophomore Melissa Drozda (Omaha, Neb.).

Osteen has been slowed by a pelvic injury, which may cause her to redshirt this season.

Lucas (Rapid City, S.D.) could be among the top five runners on the team. Last year Lucas made tremendous strides in cross country and on the track, but Dirksen believes she has yet to reach her full potential.

Drozda (Omaha, Neb.), who struggled last season because of complications with her allergy medication, will also attempt to break the top seven. Sophomore Christy Linnell (Papillion, Neb.) has taken a little longer to adjust to running at the collegiate level, but after turning in some good races last year, she is expected to add depth to the team.

Dirksen has added three freshmen to the squad for the 2000 season, including Ann Gaffigan from Springfield, Ill. Gaffigan, the 1998 Illinois cross country champion, suffered from mononucleosis her junior year but rebounded to win the 2000 Illinois Class AA 3,200-meter run in a personal-best time of 10:27.6. If Gaffigan can adjust quickly to running at the collegiate level, Dirksen expects her to battle for the top spot on the squad and to rank among the top runners in the conference.

Joining Gaffigan are Morgan Hartman (Scottsbluff, Neb.) and Hillary Laird (Kansas City, Mo.). Hartman missed the entire high school cross country season because of injury but came on strong in the spring. She suffered a stress fracture before her high school district meet and just resumed training in July. Laird, the Missouri state two-mile Class AA champion, came on strong her senior year in high school and will provide depth to a strong Nebraska team.

The 2000 Husker men's cross country team could be the surprise of the year in the Big 12 Conference. The Huskers, a very young squad last year with four freshmen among the team's top seven runners, have gained a year of experience and hope to improve on last year's sixth-place finish at the conference meet.

"I'm really excited about our men's team," Dirksen said. "We have two seniors who are really good leaders, and that's something we haven't had in a while. We also gained three really solid recruits. I think that makes for a pretty darn good team."

Senior Marcus Witter (Kearney, Neb.), Nebraska's top runner in 1999, returns, along with classmate Aaron Carrizales (Morrill, Neb.), who ended the season as the Huskers' No. 2 runner.

Witter has made tremendous improvement throughout his collegiate career and has the potential to be among the top 10 runners in the conference, Dirksen said. Smith, a tough competitor and hard worker, could also be among the top runners in the league.

Last season Carrizales was knocking on the door of being one of the top 25 runners in the conference, finishing 31st at the Big 12 meet and 26th at the NCAA Regional meet.

The Huskers also boast six solid sophomores, who will battle for a spot in the top seven.

Perhaps the key to this year's squad is how Ian Gray (Eugene, Ore.) performs. Gray missed the first three meets of the season in 1999 while he recovered from a broken foot suffered the previous summer. Although inexperienced in collegiate racing, his ability to train at high levels should bridge that gap quickly.

Jed Barta (Idaho Falls, Idaho) struggled during the cross country season last year because of sinus trouble but has recovered and should be among the top five runners on the team.

Dirksen is also looking for big things from Mike Kamm (Bellevue, Wash.). Kamm came out of high school as a good track runner but surprised everyone with his ability on the cross country course. Another strong sophomore, James De Brühl (Ontario, Calif.), is a very talented middle distance runner with tremendous speed and the ability to be a good distance runner.

Phillip Davis (Watertown, S.D.) and Hunter Kosman (Scottsbluff, Neb.) have improved and will add depth to an extremely talented team.

Three freshmen will join the squad but may find it hard to crack the team's top seven. Headlining this year's recruiting class is Eric Rasmussen (North Platte, Neb.), the Nebraska 3,200-meter champion. Joining him is Kyle Wyatt (Albion, Neb.), the Class C mile champion, and Jon Jenkerson (La Crosse, Wis.).

1970 National Champions - 11-0-1

Early in the 1970 season, Jerry Murtaugh predicted Nebraska would win the national championship. Murtaugh was a senior linebacker and co-captain who, in just three seasons, set the Cornhusker career record for tackles. A quarter of a century later, Murtaugh's mark still stands.

It was obvious that Murtaugh was capable of backing up whatever he said, which, in the case of the 1970 season was not without some justification. Nebraska had been 9-2 the previous season, winning its final seven games, including a decisive 45-6 victory against Georgia in the Sun Bowl.

After the Sun Bowl game, Georgia coach Vince Dooley said the Cornhuskers hadn't belonged in El Paso, Texas; they deserved better competition than his team could provide.

Still, 1970 was a new season. And though Nebraska had several starters returning on offense, Murtaugh was one of only three defensive starters returning. Dave Walline and Jim Anderson were the others.

Besides, winning a national championship wasn't something over which a team had complete control. It would depend not only on being successful, but also on the votes of writers and broadcasters in the Associated Press poll or of selected coaches in the United Press International poll.

Two games into the season, Murtaugh's brash prediction became a longshot, at best. After opening with a 36-12 victory against Wake Forest, the ninth-ranked Cornhuskers played Southern California to a 21-21 tie at the LA Coliseum. The Trojans tied the score with 8:16 remaining, after a failed 12-yard field goal attempt, resulting from a poor center snap, kept Nebraska from putting the game away.

"We should have won the game," Johnny Rodgers said years later.

Rodgers was a sophomore in 1970, his first varsity season.

A tie at USC was certainly no disgrace. Coach John McKay's team was ranked No. 3. Nebraska even moved up in the next week's Associated Press poll. But No. 8 was still a long way from No. 1.

And the Cornhuskers' record had a blemish, however slight.

Nebraska returned to Memorial Stadium to defeat Army 28-0 the next week, to begin what would be a 23-game winning streak and include not one but two national championships.

The Cornhuskers rolled through the Big Eight, moving up to No. 3 in the AP rankings after a 51-13 victory against No. 20 Kansas State in the next-to-last game of the regular season. Nebraska intercepted Wildcat quarterback Lynn Dickey a school-record seven times, and Cornhusker I-back Joe Orduna rushed for 105 yards and four touchdowns against what had been the conference's best defense.

Orduna, a senior who sat out the 1969 season as a medical redshirt, led Nebraska in rushing in 1970.

A week later, the Cornhuskers won the Big Eight championship outright by defeating Oklahoma 28-21 at Memorial Stadium. Though unranked, the young Sooners could have earned a share of the conference title with a victory. Nebraska had to come from behind twice during the game. Junior quarterback Jerry Tagge scored the winning touchdown, capping a 53-yard drive, with 7:42 remaining.

Nebraska finished 10-0-1, its first undefeated regular season since 1965, and ranked No. 3 in both wire service polls, behind two unbeaten and untied teams: No. 1 Texas and No. 2 Ohio State. The UPI didn't conduct a poll after bowl games, so Texas was its national champion for 1970.

The Cornhuskers were matched against No. 5 LSU in the Orange Bowl game on New Year's night. Texas played Notre Dame, which had been

No. 1 until a late-season loss to USC, in a rematch of the previous year's Cotton Bowl. And Ohio State drew Stanford in the Rose Bowl.

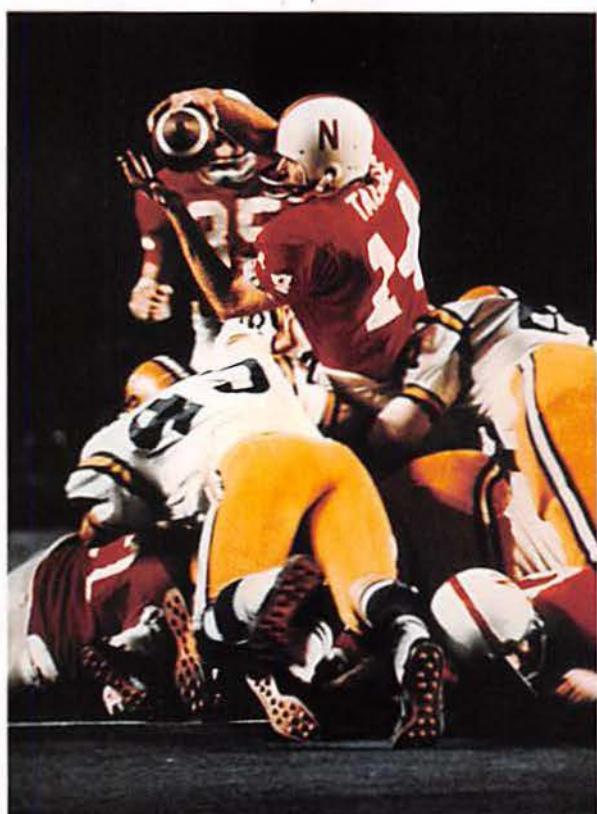

Nebraska's hopes of earning the AP version of the national championship were slim. Both Texas and Ohio State would have to lose, and the Cornhuskers would have to win. But it happened.

Notre Dame upset Texas 24-11, and Stanford staged a fourth-quarter comeback to defeat Ohio State 27-17. Nebraska learned of the latter result during the Orange Bowl's pregame warmups.

The Cornhuskers appeared ready to seize their opportunity, jumping ahead of LSU 10-0 in the first 13 minutes of the Orange Bowl. But the Tigers controlled the ball during the second and third quarters, scoring on a 31-yard pass on the final play of the third quarter to take a 12-10 lead.

Nebraska responded by driving 67 yards for the winning touchdown, scored by Tagge from 1 yard away with 8:50 remaining. Junior linebacker Bob Terrio, a junior college transfer who had arrived at Nebraska as a fullback, preserved the victory by intercepting a Bert Jones pass with 45 seconds left.

Notre Dame Coach Ara Parseghian argued that his team should be the AP national champion because it had defeated top-ranked Texas. But Nebraska was a decisive No. 1 in the final AP poll. "I was afraid Ara's comments might influence the voters, but I guess the writers are too smart to take some coach's word," Cornhusker Coach Bob Devaney said. "The writers knew who was best."

Nebraska also received a national championship endorsement from President Richard Nixon, who proclaimed the Cornhuskers No. 1, to the delight of 8,000 at the NU Coliseum, on Jan. 14, 1971. Co-captains Murtaugh and fullback Dan Schneiss joined Devaney alongside Nixon.

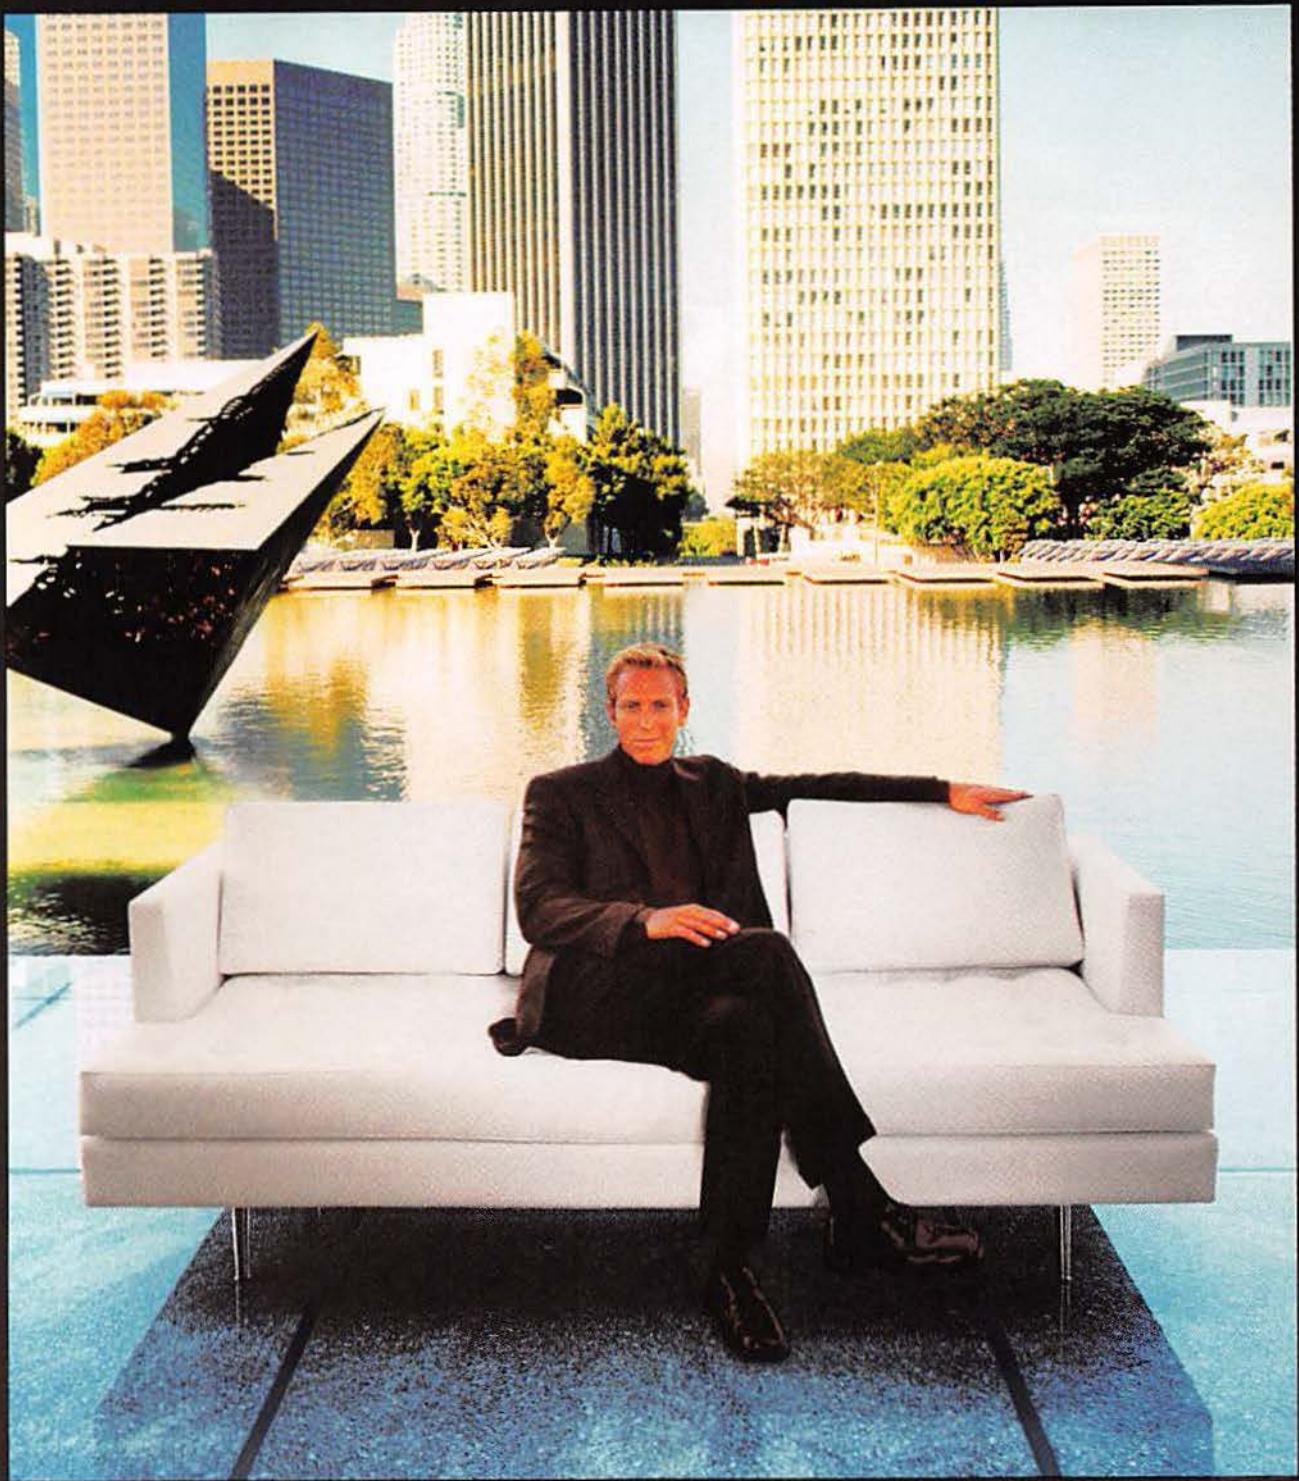

It was just as Murtaugh had predicted.

1971 National Champions - 13-0

Nebraska's 1971 season came down to a single game at Owen Field in Norman, Okla., on Thanksgiving Day. At least, that's how it is most often remembered. The No. 1-ranked Cornhuskers played No. 2-ranked Oklahoma in what still is regularly regarded as college football's "Game of the Century."

The teams were undefeated and untied, and they included 17 of 22 first-team All-Big Eight players. Nebraska had the nation's top-ranked defense. Oklahoma had its most productive offense.

The cover of the issue (November 22, 1971) of Sports Illustrated published the week of the game included photographs of Nebraska linebacker Bob Terrio and Oklahoma running back Greg Pruitt, nose-to-nose, beneath the headline: "Irresistible Oklahoma Meets Immovable Nebraska."

The game was equal to its buildup. Johnny Rodgers opened the scoring less than four minutes into the first quarter with a 72-yard punt return, and Rich Sanger finished it by kicking an extra point with 1:38 remaining, following a dramatic, 74-yard drive capped by Jeff Kinney's 2-yard run.

Rodgers' punt return is among the most memorable moments of the game. But he also made a key play to keep the winning touchdown drive alive, improvising on a pass route to get open on third-and-8, then making a diving catch of a Jerry Tagge pass for a 12-yard gain and a first down.

Cornhusker middle guard Rich Glover, who made 22 tackles that afternoon, put the finishing touches on Nebraska's 35-31 victory, deflecting a fourth-down, Jack Milden pass with barely a minute left.

Except for the Oklahoma game, Nebraska was never seriously challenged in its quest to repeat as national champion. The Cornhuskers overwhelmed 12 other opponents, including Alabama in the Orange Bowl, to earn themselves a place among the best teams in college football history.

Coach Bear Bryant's Crimson Tide went to Miami undefeated, untied and ranked No. 2. It left a 38-6 loser, providing proper payback for Nebraska's 39-28 and 34-7 bowl losses to Alabama following the 1965 and 1966 seasons. The first of those losses, in the 1966 Orange Bowl game, cost Coach Bob Devaney's Cornhuskers a perfect season and, most likely, a national championship.

Although Nebraska averaged what was then a school-record 437.7 yards on offense, including a Big Eight-leading 179.3 yards passing, and ranked third nationally in scoring, averaging 39.1 per game, it was defense that set apart the Cornhuskers — as the Sports Illustrated headline pointed out.

Nebraska ranked second in the nation in rushing defense (85.9), third in scoring defense (8.2) and fifth in total defense (202.9). The Cornhusker Blackshirts included seven first-team All-Big Eight selections, four players who would earn consensus All-America recognition during their careers and two Outland Trophy winners: Glover and tackle Larry Jacobson. Glover would win both the Outland and Lombardi awards in 1972. They were joined in the starting lineup by junior end Willie Harper, like Glover, a two-time All-American. John Dutton, an All-American in 1973, was a sophomore backup.

Besides Glover, Jacobson and Harper, the other first-team all-conference defenders were Terrio, Jim Anderson, Bill Kosch and Joe Blahak. Anderson, Kosch and Blahak played in the secondary.

Anderson and Tagge, one of five Cornhuskers on the All-Big Eight first-team offense, were the captains. Both were from West High School in Green Bay, Wis., as was starting monster back Dave Mason, a junior who had sat out the 1970 season as a medical redshirt.

The other first-team offensive players were Rodgers, Kinney, Carl Johnson and Dick Rupert.

The Cornhusker defense was opportunistic as well as immovable, contributing to a school-record plus-26 turnovers. Nebraska recovered 20 opponents' fumbles and intercepted 27 passes.

Nebraska was No. 2 in the Associated Press pre-season rankings but moved to No. 1 after opening with a 34-7 victory against Oregon at Memorial Stadium. Bobby Moore, now known as Ahmad Rashad, scored the Ducks' lone touchdown with just over three minutes remaining in the game.

Only three opponents scored more than one touchdown against the Cornhuskers. Oklahoma State and Kansas State each managed two touchdowns, and Oklahoma, of course, scored four. The only time all season that Nebraska even trailed during a game was against the Sooners.

Wingback Johnny Rodgers was a key to the Huskers' national title run in 1971. Rodgers made a name for himself as a junior in 1971, before winning the Heisman Trophy in 1972.

The Cornhuskers opened conference play with back-to-back shutouts against Missouri (36-0) and Kansas (55-0), during a stretch in which they posted 12 consecutive scoreless quarters.

In addition to everything else, the Cornhuskers almost always had good field position because of the punt and kickoff returns of Rodgers, a key to their success, according to Tom Osborne, an assistant who designed and coordinated the offense. "As great as that team was, take Johnny Rodgers out of there on kickoff and punt returns, and it probably wouldn't have gone 13-0," Osborne said.

Nebraska extended its winning streak to 23 games and its unbeaten streak to 32 games in 1971. Repeating as national champions "wasn't automatic," Rodgers said.

But going into the season, "we were pretty doggone confident."

1994 National Champions - 13-0

Byron Bennett's 45-yard field goal attempt sailed wide left in the final second of Nebraska's 18-16 loss to Florida State in the 1994 Orange Bowl game. With that miss, an 11-game Cornhusker winning streak ended. And the run to Coach Tom Osborne's first national championship began.

Nebraska's focus for the 1994 season was finishing the business that had been left incomplete on the night of Jan. 1, 1994, in Miami. The actual process started with a 31-0 victory against West Virginia in the Kickoff Classic in late August, and it concluded with a come-from-behind, 24-17 victory against Miami, on the Hurricanes' home field, in the 1995 Orange Bowl game. To a degree, that game characterized the season.

An important subplot to the drama of 1994 involved the Cornhusker quarterbacks. Junior Tommie Frazier, a two-year starter, opened the season as if he might run away with the Heisman Trophy before being sidelined by blood clot problems in his right knee after the fourth game.

Frazier's misfortune represented an opportunity for junior Brook Berringer, who came off the bench to lead Nebraska to the Big Eight championship and the Orange Bowl game. Berringer was 7-0 as a starter, passing for 1,295 yards (14th on Nebraska's all-time, single-season list) and 10 touchdowns, in what amounted to only eight full games. He threw just three passes in the first three games.

When Berringer was slowed by a partially collapsed lung, a problem that occurred in back-to-back games, sophomore walk-on Matt Turman stepped up and directed the Cornhuskers. Although Berringer had been cleared to play, Turman gained a 7-6 lead against Kansas State at Manhattan that ended 17-6.

Turman had come on to replace Berringer the previous week, directing Nebraska to 23 second-half points in a 32-3 victory against Oklahoma State in the Cornhuskers' Big Eight opener.

The quarterback sequence was somewhat similar in the Orange Bowl victory. Frazier, who had been included on the travel roster for the final regular-season game at Oklahoma (but did not play), started against Miami. Berringer replaced him and got Nebraska on the scoreboard in the second quarter, with a 19-yard touchdown pass to tight end Mark Gilman. Then Frazier returned to finish it and earn game MVP honors.

Nebraska trailed the Hurricanes 10-7 at halftime and fell behind 17-7 less than two minutes into the third quarter. But during the intermission, Osborne had described to the Cornhuskers the way the second half would go if they maintained their composure and continued to play smart physical Husker football. They did.

Afterward, Osborne's halftime speech was made public. It was eerily prophetic.

Even though Nebraska finished its business by going 13-0, it remained for voters in the Associated Press and USA Today/CNN polls to certify the Cornhuskers as national champions. Penn State also went through the season undefeated and untied at 12-0. The Nittany Lions argued to no avail.

Nebraska began the season ranked No. 4 by the Associated Press, moved to No. 1 after the Kickoff Classic, then inexplicably dropped to No. 2 following a 42-16 victory at Texas Tech. Sophomore safety Mike Minter suffered a season-ending knee injury during the game televised by ESPN.

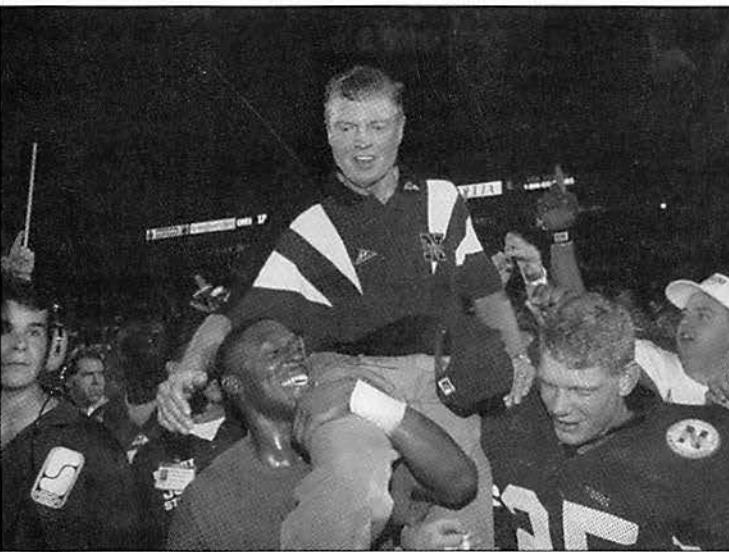

In many ways, Minter was to the defense what Frazier was to the offense. His loss was significant; a fact underscored during an unexpectedly close, 42-32 victory against pass-happy Wyoming.

The Cornhuskers dropped to No. 3 in the AP poll after the Kansas State victory, before finally moving to No. 1 following the Colorado game. The Buffaloes came to Lincoln undefeated, untied and ranked No. 2 by the AP and No. 3 by USA Today/CNN. Nebraska was No. 2 according to the coaches. The Cornhuskers remained No. 2 in the USA Today/CNN rankings another week, before ascending to the top spot on the strength of a 45-17 victory over Kansas, despite a Penn State victory against Indiana.

Nebraska earned the voters' respect with an offense that featured one of the best lines in school history and a new 4-3 defense that allowed only 55 points in conference play. Led by linebacker Ed Stewart, a consensus All-American, the Cornhuskers ranked second in the nation in scoring defense, fourth in total defense and rushing defense, and 10th in pass defense.

The offensive line included Outland Trophy winner Zach Wiegert at tackle. Along with winning the Outland, Wiegert was a consensus first-team All-American. His linemate Brenden Stai earned All-America honors of his own at guard.

Rob Zatechka, the other tackle, was a four-time academic All-Big Eight who graduated with a perfect 4.0 grade-point average in biological sciences. Along with Joel Wilks, the other guard, and center Aaron Graham, the only non-senior among the starters, the group was nicknamed the "Pipeline."

Nebraska led the nation in rushing, with sophomore Lawrence Phillips gaining 1,722 yards, the second-highest single-season total in Cornhusker history. He finished eighth in the Heisman Trophy voting.

Phillips, Graham, Wiegert and Stai all earned first-team all-conference honors on offense.

Stewart, Troy Dumas, Donta Jones, Barron Miles and Tyrone Williams represented the defense on the All-Big Eight first team. Stewart, Wiegert, Zatechka and Terry Connealy were the Husker captains.

A crowd estimated at 14,000 to 15,000 stood in line and braved frigid temperatures for an opportunity to cheer the Cornhuskers at the Bob Devaney Sports Center on their return from Miami.

"We didn't just win this for ourselves, we won this for the whole state of Nebraska," Connealy said.

1995 National Champions - 12-0

Tom Osborne's 23rd Nebraska team was arguably his best. The 1995 Cornhuskers were among the best in college football history.

Though such a sweeping assertion cannot be proven, it can be supported. Nebraska's 1995 national championship team was No. 1 on a list of the top major college teams since 1956. The list was compiled by computer analyst Jeff Sagarin, whose rankings are regularly published in USA Today.

The 1971 Cornhuskers were No. 2 according to Sagarin's power ratings. Both were well ahead of the remaining 23 teams on the list, which also included the 1972 and 1970 Cornhuskers.

Nebraska was never seriously challenged in 1995, as it extended a school-record winning streak to 25 games and repeated as national champion — something that has been accomplished only eight other times since the Associated Press initiated its national college football rankings in 1936.

The closest any opponent could come to the Cornhuskers was 14 points. But even that was deceptive. Washington State trailed Nebraska 28-7 after three quarters, in the fifth game of the season. The Cornhuskers scored 20 points in the second quarter to overcome a 7-0 first quarter deficit.

After that, the outcome was never in serious doubt. The final score was 35-21.

Nebraska, which began the season ranked No. 2 by the Associated Press, didn't move to No. 1 until back-to-back victories against No. 8 Kansas State (49-25) and No. 7 Colorado (44-21). After completing a third consecutive undefeated and untied regular season and winning a fifth consecutive Big Eight championship, including four in a row outright, the Cornhuskers eliminated any doubt about their claim to a second consecutive national title by overwhelming No. 2 Florida, 62-24, in the Fiesta Bowl.

Despite the Cornhuskers' success, the 1995 season was one of mixed emotions, resulting from much-publicized off-the-field problems. "It was a terrible year, and it was a great year," Osborne said after the Fiesta Bowl. "It was taxing. On the other hand, it was very gratifying to work with a group of players who had the kind of focus and drive to carry them through. That was the redeeming factor."

"There were times I was running on empty. I take my spiritual life very seriously. I relied on my faith more than I ever have. I was grateful for the sustaining strength that was there."

The star-crossed nature of the 1995 team was further underscored in the spring, when Brook Berringer, a quarterback who had just completed his eligibility, died in the crash of a light plane.

Osborne again had to turn to his faith to handle the tragedy.

"The Brook I knew, there was nothing he could have done better," Osborne said. "The length (of his life) was not what you would have liked. But the quality couldn't have been better."

Berringer, who had stepped in for an injured Tommie Frazier during the 1994 national championship season, accepted his role without complaint and contributed as a proven backup in 1995.

Frazier, fully recovered from the blood clot problems that sidelined him much of his junior season, broke the Cornhusker career record for total offense (5,476) and touchdowns produced (79). He earned All-America recognition, finished second to Ohio State's Eddie George in balloting for the Heisman Trophy and received the most valuable player award in the Fiesta Bowl game.

Frazier, whose record in four years as a starter was 33-3, established himself among the best quarterbacks in Cornhusker history.

"I would say if I were to choose one player who has had the most impact on the outcome of the greatest number of games over the longest period of time since I've been at Nebraska, it would be Tommie Frazier," said Osborne, who began as a graduate assistant in 1962.

Under Frazier's direction, Nebraska's offense was even more productive than that of the "Scoring Explosion" team in 1983. The Cornhuskers ranked No. 1 in the nation in both rushing (399.8) and scoring (52.4) and No. 2 in total offense (556.3). The 1983 team was slightly better rushing the ball, averaging a school-record 401.7 yards, but it averaged slightly fewer points (52.0) and total yards (546.7).

Ahman Green, who began fall camp down the list on the depth chart, became the starting I-back and broke the school rushing record for a freshman. He gained 1,086 yards and scored 12 touchdowns.

Green would have broken the school scoring record for a freshman were it not for Kris Brown, the place-kicker. Brown, like Green a true freshman, scored 97 points — a school record for kicking.

In addition to Frazier, center Aaron Graham and outside linebacker Jared Tomich earned first-team All-America honors. Graham also was a Cornhusker co-captain, along with tight end Mark Gilman, defensive tackle Christian Peter, safety Tony Veland and linebacker Phil Ellis.

Tomich, a junior who originally walked on, was among five Blackshirts who received first-team a 11 - c o n f e r e n c e recognition. The other defensive players were Peter, linebacker Terrell Farley, rush end Grant Wistrom and cornerback Tyrone Williams. Frazier and Graham were joined on All-Big Eight first-team offenses by Green, tackle Eric Anderson and guards Chris Dishman and Aaron Taylor.

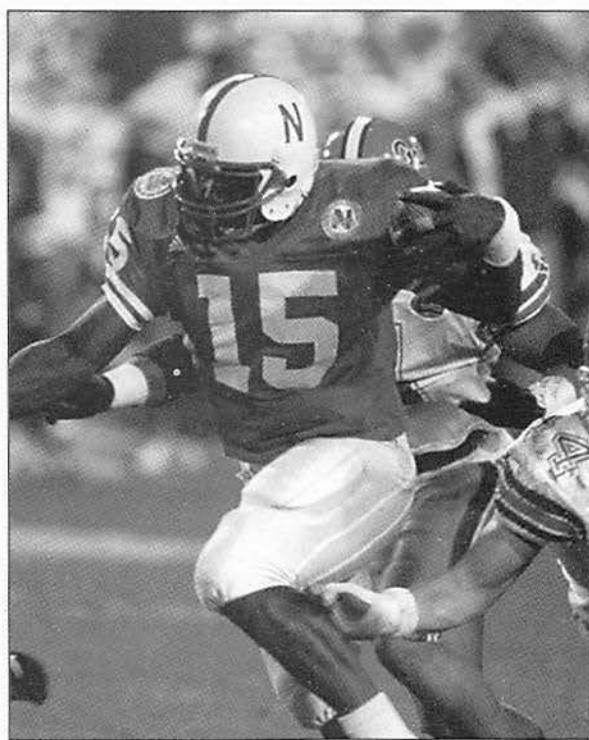

Rarely has college football seen such a team. Maybe never.

1997 National Champions - 13-0

A pajama-clad Tom Osborne was packing for home in the early-morning hours of Jan. 3, 1998, when he heard the news. "By that time, I was wrung out enough that there wasn't much emotion left," he would say later that morning during a post-Orange Bowl game news conference.

His response to the news was typically low-key.

"Naturally, I was very pleased, very gratified," he said.

The source of his pleasure had been the announcement on ESPN — the television set in his room at the Sheraton Bal Harbour on Miami Beach had been tuned to the network "by chance," he said — that his 25th and final team had been voted the USA Today/ESPN coaches' national champion.

The Cornhuskers, No. 2 going into the Orange Bowl game, had squeezed ahead of Michigan in the coaches' poll on the strength of their 42-17 victory against No. 3-ranked Tennessee.

The Wolverines retained the top spot in the Associated Press media poll.

"Being a coach, I know a little bit how they think," said Osborne, who was among those with a vote in the USA Today/ESPN poll. "They probably looked at the fact we were 13-0, and to be unrewarded in some way would be . . . I don't mean to say an injustice. But it wouldn't be a good thing."

No major college football team has gone 13-0 and been deprived of a national title. On the other hand, Michigan argued, no No. 1 team had ever won its bowl game and been dropped from the top.

The split title seemed a reasonable solution.

That was Cornhusker quarterback Scott Frost's point immediately after the decisive victory against Tennessee. "I can't see how any coach outside of the Big Ten or Pac-10 would vote for Michigan because if somebody from North Carolina, Florida State, wherever it might be, Notre Dame, coaches from there, if they were undefeated and won the Alliance bowl game, they would expect to share the national title," the senior from Wood River, Neb., said on the field, in front of CBS television cameras.

"It's been split before. It's OK to split it. It should be split."

Frost was well-versed on national championship history. The title had been split nine times previously since the coaches' poll was established in 1950, most recently in 1990 and 1991.

Nebraska's first national championship in 1970 was split with Texas. Cornhusker defensive tackle Jason Peter was less sharing than Frost.

"If you ask me, I don't think it should be a split title," he said after the Orange Bowl game. "I mean, we proved today that we're the best team in the country, without a doubt."

There probably wouldn't have been much doubt in anyone's mind had it not been for Nebraska's dramatic 45-38 overtime victory at Missouri in November. The Cornhuskers traveled to Columbia with the No. 1 ranking in both polls but returned to Lincoln ranked No. 4.

That same weekend, Michigan went from No. 4 to No. 1 on the strength of a 34-8 victory against No. 2 Penn State, and Florida State, which subsequently lost to Florida, went from No. 3 to No. 2.

Michigan might have slammed the door on Nebraska's national championship aspirations with a more decisive victory against Washington State in the Rose Bowl game, but the door was open "at least a crack," Osborne told his team after it watched the Wolverines win 21-16 on New Year's Day.

Coaching the Cornhuskers to a third national championship in four seasons was a fitting conclusion to Osborne's Hall of Fame career. The National Football Foundation waived its three-year waiting period for induction, allowing Osborne to be enshrined alongside the game's greatest coaches without delay.

Nebraska became only the second major college football program since the Associated Press began ranking teams in 1936 to earn three national titles in four seasons. Notre Dame won national titles in 1946, 1947 and 1949.

Peter and rush end Grant Wistrom, the Lombardi Award winner and two-time Big 12 Defensive Player of the Year, were the heart and soul of Nebraska's 1997 national champions.

"Those two guys, among some others, ramrodded that football team," Osborne said. "They decided a year ago they were going to come back and get the thing done. Their leadership was invaluable."

Peter and Wistrom earned All-America honors, as did offensive guard Aaron Taylor, the first Cornhusker to be named an All-American at two positions. He played center in 1996. Taylor was voted the Outland Trophy winner, with Peter being one of two runners-up.

Frost and I-back Ahman Green were among other key players on offense. Frost became only the 10th player in major college history to rush for 1,000 yards and pass for 1,000 yards in the same season, finishing with 1,095 and 1,237, respectively. His 2,332 yards of total offense were one short of the Nebraska single-season record, set by Jerry Tagge in 1971.

Green rushed for 1,877 yards, which were second in the nation. His yards also ranked second on the Cornhuskers' all-time single-season list, behind 1983 Heisman Trophy winner Mike Rozier's 2,148 yards.

Every Cornhusker, from freshman Matt Davison, whose touchdown catch of a deflected Frost pass on the final play of regulation against Missouri kept the title hopes alive, to scout team players such as senior Doug Seaman, contributed in varying degrees to Nebraska's fifth national title.

The 1997 national championship team was "somewhere in between" the 1994 and 1995 national championship teams, according to Osborne. It was "probably a little more talented than '94, certainly not near as controversial as '95. That was nice," he said. "So it was just kind of a nice way to go."

"Great leadership on the part of the players, and I didn't have to do much."

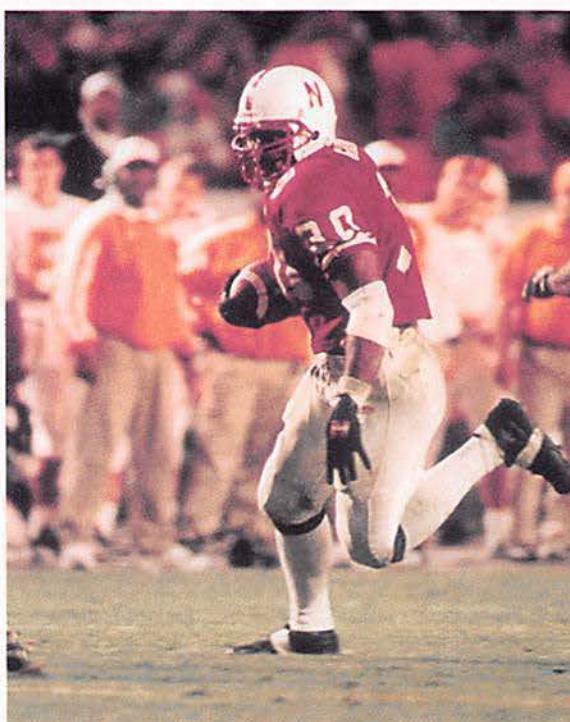

He was being overly modest, of course. The record will attest to that.

The University of Nebraska

The Esther L. Kauffman Academic Residential Center, under construction north of the Nebraska Union, will provide a high-tech living and learning environment as home to the J.D. Edwards Honors Program in Computer Science and Management. The program prepares graduates to use computing foundations, information technology, and business principles to meet the challenges of industry in the 21st century.

For 131 years, the University of Nebraska-Lincoln has been the leading institution of higher education in the state. With more than 22,000 current students and about 190,000 graduates, the University of Nebraska-Lincoln is the largest campus in the university system and its principal doctoral degree-granting institution. While dedicated to providing the best educational experience for its students, the University also is committed to serving the citizens of the state with a variety of outreach and extended education programs.

The University of Nebraska was chartered by the Legislature in 1869 as the state's public university and land-grant institution. It was the first college west of the Mississippi River to confer graduate degrees. As the University system's most comprehensive entity, the Lincoln campus includes the agricultural components organized within the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources.

The University is a Carnegie Foundation Research Institution I, a member of the Association of American Universities and has been accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools since 1913.

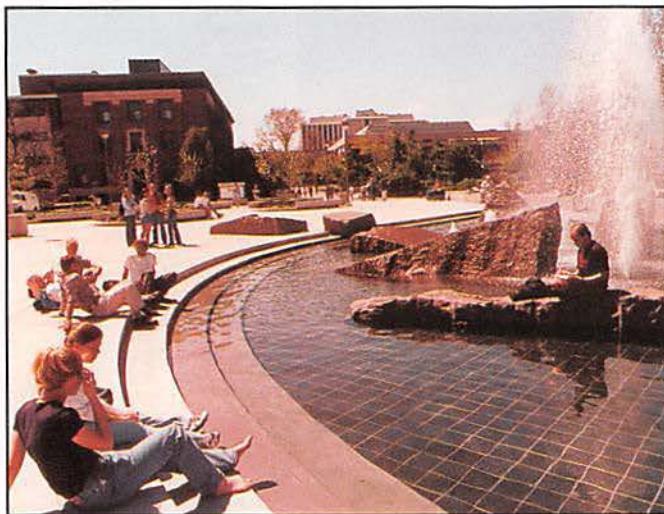

The university offers 36 doctoral programs, 63 master's degree programs and five six-year specialist degree programs. The College of Law has a professional degree program and jointly administers with the Graduate College eight programs that combine a master's or doctoral degree with a law degree. Nine undergraduate colleges (Agriculture and Natural Resources, Architecture, Arts and Sciences, Business Administration, Engineering and Technology, Fine and Performing Arts, Human Resources and Family Sciences, Journalism and Mass Communications, and Teachers) offer more than 120 baccalaureate degree programs in the arts, sciences, humanities and professions.

A Comprehensive Education Program embodies the ideals of a liberal arts education. The program acquaints all undergraduates with the basic research tools and the global human context and introduces them to a wide variety of academic subject areas. It emphasizes strong written and oral communication skills and critical thinking. A co-curricular component encourages student leadership and involvement in campus activities and in the wider community.

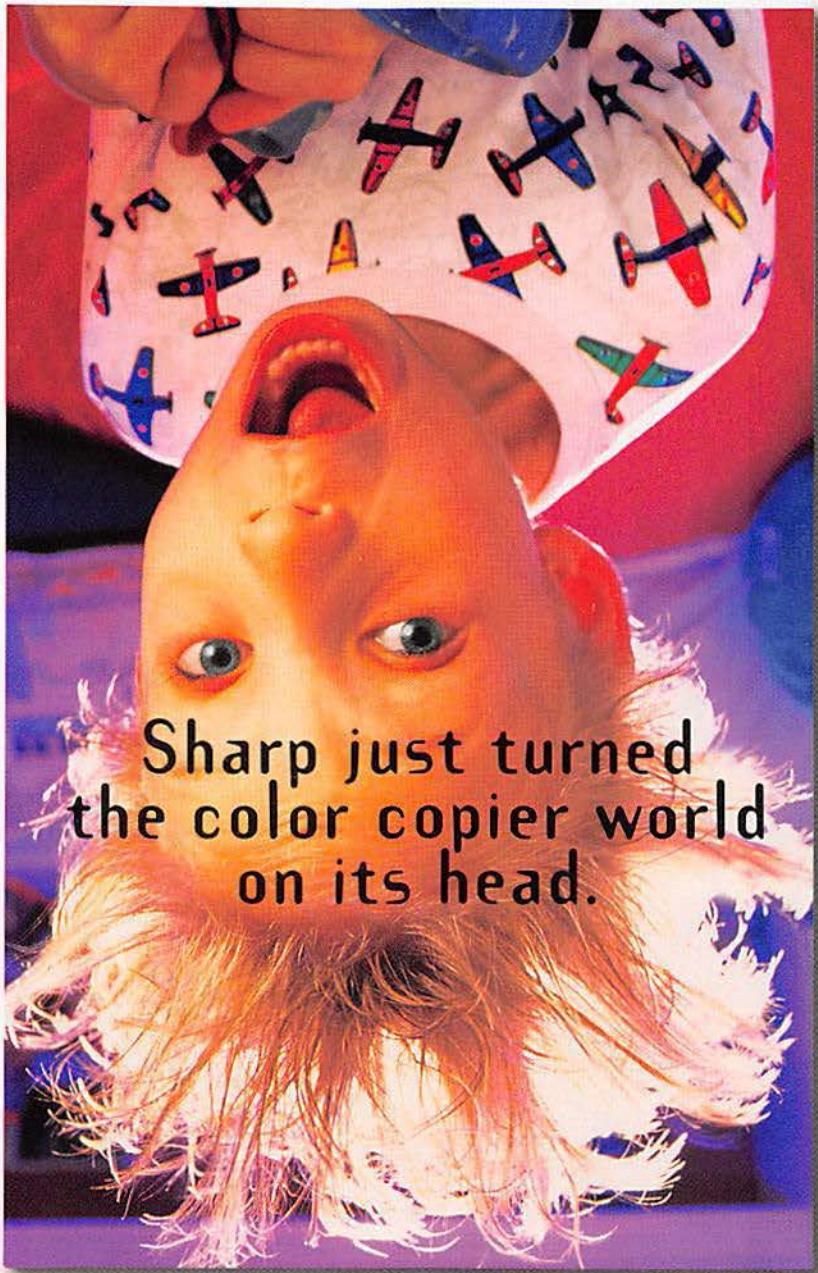

The George W. Beadle Center for Genetics and Biomaterials Research was dedicated in 1995 and is one of the University's major facilities for science and technology. The center contains state-of-the-art laboratories devoted to research and development in biotechnology, biochemistry, biological materials and related fields. The center is named in honor of a Nobel Prize-winning geneticist and University alumnus.

The University reaches thousands of citizens across the state each year through outreach activities. The Cooperative Extension Service provides all Nebraskans with information and assistance in agriculture and natural resources, home economics, family living, 4-H and community resource development. Continuing Studies offers alternatives to formal on-campus education with programs, including Internet courses, summer reading courses, evening classes, independent study by correspondence, telecourses and study tours.

A number of specialized centers offer assistance to the state's citizens. For example, the Bureau of Business Research is a valuable resource for individuals and local governments. The Food Processing Center has helped hundreds of businesses with everything from product development to marketing, and the Technology Transfer Office expedites the movement of university-developed knowledge into real-world products and processes. The campus is home to the nationally renowned Sheldon Memorial Art Gallery and Sculpture Garden, the Christlieb Collection of Western Art and several other galleries. The Lied Center for Performing Arts draws big-name acts in contemporary entertainment, and the University of Nebraska State Museum boasts a world-class fossil collection.

Beveridge Appreciates the Small Things

Tom Beveridge

By Shannon Heffelfinger

When Tom Beveridge reflects on his career at Nebraska, he remembers and appreciates the small things.

Practices, meetings with coaches, inside jokes he shares with other Husker receivers, and most of all, a short conversation he had with NU receivers coach Ron Brown during the spring of 1999.

At the time, Beveridge was struggling with what could have been a life-changing decision, and the 6-foot, 190-pound split end wasn't finding much meaning in the small things. Beveridge, a recruited walk-on from Sutherland, Neb., was questioning his value to the Huskers after playing in just three games as a redshirt sophomore the previous fall.

He began pulling away from the team in subtle ways. He thought about quitting.

Then, Beveridge skipped a few off-season workouts. That was all the reason Brown needed to give Beveridge a call.

"Tom was having a hard time that spring," Brown said, "and when I talked with him, I found that he seemed to be numb inside."

"He was trying to figure out a lot of things, not just about football, but about life. He didn't need to be challenged, he just needed someone to listen to him. So I tried to do that, and tried to give him some room. He was questioning what he meant to this team and whether it was really worth it or not. It was an interesting talk, and for whatever reason, it seems that it was a turning point for him."

Beveridge also referred to the conversation as a turning point.

"I was really thinking about quitting," Beveridge said, "But I talked to Coach Brown, and we talked about what my place on the team was and about what he could see me doing at the position. We talked about everything I was feeling, and he really helped me through it."

After the short pep talk, Brown said he sensed that good things were about to happen for Beveridge.

And so they did.

Beveridge, now a senior, is listed as NU's third-team split end for the second straight season. He rotates with Matt Davison and Wilson Thomas, playing 15 to 20 snaps a game. Beveridge has played in every game for the Huskers this season and saw action in nine games, including the Fiesta Bowl vs. Tennessee, as a junior in 1999.

Brown said Beveridge has built his identity as a receiver around his excellent blocking skills. The coach ranks Beveridge's blocking ability among those of the top two or three receivers on the team.

"Tom excels at blocking and making the big hit," Brown said. "He really worked hard to find that niche for himself. The role may not get him noticed by most people in the stands, but it gets him on the travel squad and gives him a role on the team."

Finding that role, Beveridge said, has been a key to his success with the Huskers.

Beveridge joined the Huskers in 1996 as a recruited walk-on. A Huskerland Prep Report Class C-2 all-state linebacker, he helped the Sutherland Sailors to an 11-1 record as a senior and a No. 4 rating. Beveridge played in the 1996 Shrine Bowl game for the North Team and caught the game-winning touchdown pass.

Brown said Beveridge's athleticism prompted the Huskers to encourage the three-sport prep athlete to give himself a chance with the Huskers. Beveridge agreed to try.

"Every kid wants to be a Husker when they are growing up," Beveridge said. "I could have gone somewhere else to play football, but I had always envisioned myself at Nebraska, so I wasn't that hard to convince."

Beveridge soon encountered the difficulties faced by most walk-ons.

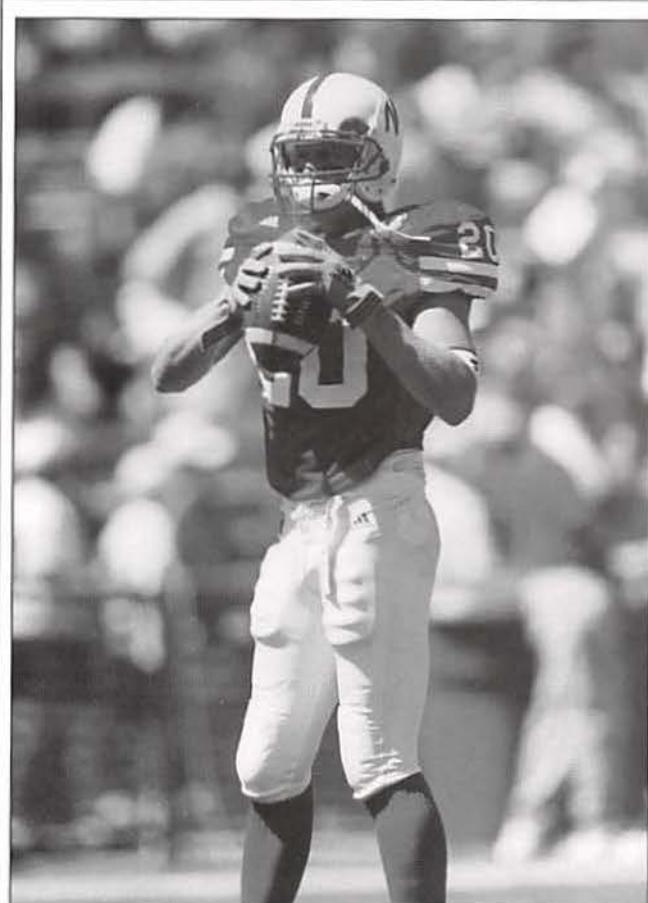

"I think that as a walk-on, you have to put in so much more effort than some guys do," Beveridge said. "You have to work extremely hard in practice and in the weight room, and there's not much glory in it for you."

It takes a lot to stick it out, but I did it. There were times when I wasn't happy. But now, I'm just really glad that everything fell into place. I'm just proud of making it and making a name for myself."

Beveridge has also found success off the field, earning second-team academic All-Big 12 honors in 1999. A three-time member of the Big 12 Commissioner's Fall Academic Honor Roll, Beveridge will graduate in May with a secondary education degree.

"The last few weeks, I've really started to reflect on everything that I've been through over the past few years," Beveridge said. "There are some things that I'm going to miss a lot. I won't leave with any regrets."

NU Aims for New Heights Under Collier

by Aaron Babcock

Nebraska will have a new look on the sideline for the 2000-2001 season as Barry Collier takes over as head coach. While Collier and his coaching staff will be new faces in the Big 12 Conference, Husker fans will recognize some key returning faces on the court this season.

Collier comes to Nebraska after 11 seasons at Butler University, where he posted a 196-132 record. He guided his Bulldog teams to six postseason tournament appearances, including NCAA berths in 1997, 1998 and 2000.

Collier's first Nebraska product will be a junior and senior dominated group. The Huskers return five players with significant starting experience and eight lettermen from the 1999-2000 season.

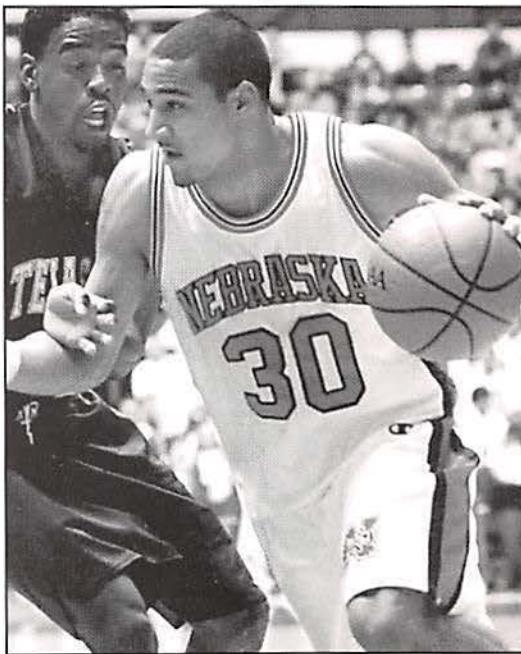

Leading the way for Nebraska is senior guard Cookie Belcher, who is back for a fifth season in a Husker uniform. Belcher, a three-year starter from 1997 to 1999, played in four games last season, then sat out the remainder of the season with a wrist injury and was granted a medical redshirt.

Regarded as one of the nation's toughest defenders, Collier will call on the 6-4 Belcher for backcourt leadership. Belcher ranks 21st on Nebraska's career scoring list and is the Huskers' game, season and career steals record holder. A third-team All-Big 12 pick in 1998-99 and a two-time All-Big 12 defensive team selection, Belcher leads all active NCAA players with 271 career steals and could break the all-time NCAA steals record of 376 by Eric Murcock of Providence.

Nebraska's frontcourt will give the Huskers added firepower and a solid one-two inside punch. Center Kimani Ffriend, a pre-season All-Big 12 selection, earned second-team All-Big 12 honors last season. The 6-6 Ffriend averaged 12.0 points and a team-high 8.8 rebounds per game last season, while connecting on 54 percent from the floor. He also led the Big 12 Conference in blocked shots at 2.8 per contest. In addition to being named second-team all-conference, Ffriend was a member of the league's all-newcomer team and was the Big 12 Rookie of the Week three times a year ago.

Joining Ffriend in the Husker frontcourt is senior power forward Steffon Bradford. The 6-6 Bradford averaged 11.1 points and 8.1 rebounds per game last season, while starting 25 games. Bradford posted eight double-doubles last season and had three games with 15 or more rebounds.

In the backcourt, Collier has two veterans with starting experience to team with Belcher.

Senior Cookie Belcher returns for his senior season as the NCAA active steals leader. Dick Vitale tabbed Belcher as one of the nation's top five defensive players and five-most creative dunkers in college basketball.

Senior guard Rodney Fields started 19 games last season at the off-guard spot. Fields averaged 4.2 points and 1.9 rebounds per game last season, while playing nearly 21 minutes per game.

The third backcourt returnee with starting experience is junior Cary Cochran. Cochran started 11 games late last season and averaged 7.9 points per contest. He is Nebraska's top returning perimeter threat, as he knocked down a team-leading 39 percent from long range. Cochran also finished second on the team in assists (78) and steals (37).

Two other Huskers will make their Nebraska debuts this year, after being in the NU program last season. Brian Conklin is a 6-11 center who redshirted as a freshman last season and should be a versatile player on the Husker frontline this season. John Robinson transferred to Nebraska from New Mexico last year and will be eligible to compete for the Huskers beginning on Dec. 22. Robinson started 30 games at point guard for New Mexico as a freshman in 1998-99 and will contend for playing time at the point this season.

The Huskers' final two returning lettermen are third-year walk-ons Ross Buckendahl and Craig Wortmann. Buckendahl appeared in 14 games last season, but will miss this season after having knee surgery in the off-season. Wortmann saw limited duty as a backcourt reserve, but should see his playing time increase this year.

"As I find every season, your success is really tied to your senior class. With Belcher, Ffriend, Bradford and Fields all in the starting lineup most of last year, that will play a key part in our season," Collier said. "It doesn't mean that somebody has to be your leading scorer, or even play a major role in terms of minutes, but their attitude and leadership is the real key."

According to Collier one of the main keys to success this year will be the development of a winning attitude.

"We'll be working on the development of our team as well as the fundamentals of the game and fundamentals of a winning attitude," Collier said. "It's an exciting time because each team's makeup changes from year to year. Consequently, the challenge each year is to find the strengths and weaknesses."

Collier's spring recruiting period was limited after his April 5 hiring, but the NU staff did add five players for this year.

Kevin Augustine is a 6-0 point guard, who comes to Nebraska from Fullerton (Calif.) Community College. Augustine played 1 1/2 seasons at Southern California, before moving on to Fullerton. At USC, Augustine started 10 of 26 games as a freshman and averaged 6.3 points, 3.7 assists and 2.3 rebounds for Coach Henry Bibby's Trojans. As a sophomore, Augustine played in just seven games before leaving the team after the first semester. He did not play basketball at Fullerton and will have two seasons of eligibility at Nebraska.

Collier and his staff also inked two players from the Kansas junior college ranks. Kedrick Ford, a 6-2 guard from Neosho County CC, averaged 10.4 points and 2.0 rebounds per game last season, while connecting on 40 percent from three-point range.

The third spring signee is 6-4 guard Danai Young from Cowley County CC in Kansas. Young averaged 14.0 points and 5.3 rebounds per game last season, while also leading his team with 61 steals. However, Young will miss the entire season after undergoing wrist surgery on Sept. 29 to repair a broken bone.

Nebraska's final backcourt signee was Marques McCarty, an athletic 6-5 freshman guard from Sugarland, Texas. McCarty is a slashing scorer with the ability to score from the three-point line. McCarty has a promising future with Nebraska but has opted to redshirt this season.

Junior Justin Boeker, a 6-9, 240-pound power forward, will give the Huskers depth in the paint after playing at McLennan Community College in Waco, Texas.

The five new players give Nebraska a deep

Belcher Poised For Big Senior Season

backcourt and added depth under the glass. Overall, Collier is excited about having multiple options at most positions.

"Our players will set our starting lineup. It is wide open right now because we haven't seen anyone do anything yet," Collier said. "The players are the ones who make shots and get stops and rebounds. The five that do that the best as a group will be our starting lineup, always subject to change based on what happens the next day."

"With a senior and junior dominated team, there should be tremendous competition for playing time. Competition makes you better. That is the essence of sport."

Husker Schedule at a Glance

Barry Collier's first NU basketball team will face a tough non-conference slate, including four 2000 NCAA Tournament teams and one NIT participant. The non-conference schedule is highlighted by appearances in the Orange Bowl Classic and the San Juan Shootout in Puerto Rico.

Nebraska opened the 2000-2001 regular season with a Nov. 18 road test at Oral Roberts. The Huskers open regular-season home action against Eastern Illinois on Nov. 21 and face 2000 NCAA qualifier Winthrop on Nov. 27 at the Devaney Center. NU takes to the road for a trip to Pittsburgh on Dec. 2, before returning home for the Husker Team Classic, on Dec. 8-9 at Devaney. The field for Nebraska's 14th annual event includes UMKC, Alaska-Fairbanks and Pacific.

Nebraska hits the road for a four-game road trip to Miami and San Juan from Dec. 16 to Dec. 22. The first stop on the trip is a Dec. 16 game against 2000 Sweet 16 qualifier Miami, Fla., in the Orange Bowl Classic. From Miami, Nebraska will travel to San Juan for three games in the San Juan Shootout from Dec. 20 to 22. Pairings for the tournament have yet to be announced, but the field includes Nebraska, host American-Puerto Rico, 2000 NCAA qualifier Iona, 2000 NIT participant Southern Methodist, Clemson, Evansville, Northwestern and Florida International.

Following a Christmas break, Nebraska faces a tough three-game stretch to complete non-conference play. The Huskers travel to Minnesota on Dec. 28, then return home for games against perennial Ohio Valley Conference power Murray State (Dec. 30) and in-state rival Creighton on Jan. 2. The Bluejays made a second consecutive trip to the NCAA Tournament in 2000.

Including league opponents, Nebraska will play 13 games against 2000 NCAA Tournament teams with three contests against NIT teams from last season.

"I think everybody on our schedule has the potential to beat us," Collier said. "But I also think that we are capable of beating any one of our opponents, because attitude is so critical in the ability to prepare for an opponent."

"The highlight of the season is the Big 12 schedule, so we will build toward that. That is definitely the focus of the season. It will be a tremendous challenge. We'll know after six to eight games where we stand because we'll have seen different scenarios. It's a matter of preparation, building toward conference play."

NU Looks for Return to Postseason Play

Last season, Nebraska's streak of reaching postseason play ended at nine seasons. In the previous nine seasons, the Huskers had participated in five NCAA Tournaments and four postseason NIT tournaments.

Overall, Nebraska has made 18 postseason trips in 104 seasons of intercollegiate basketball. Fifteen of Nebraska's 18 all-time postseason tournament appearances have come in the past 18 years.

Nebraska made five NCAA Tournament appearances in the 1990s (1991, 1992, 1993, 1994 and 1998) and also qualified for the NCAA Tournament in 1986. The Huskers, however, are winless in their six NCAA Tournament appearances.

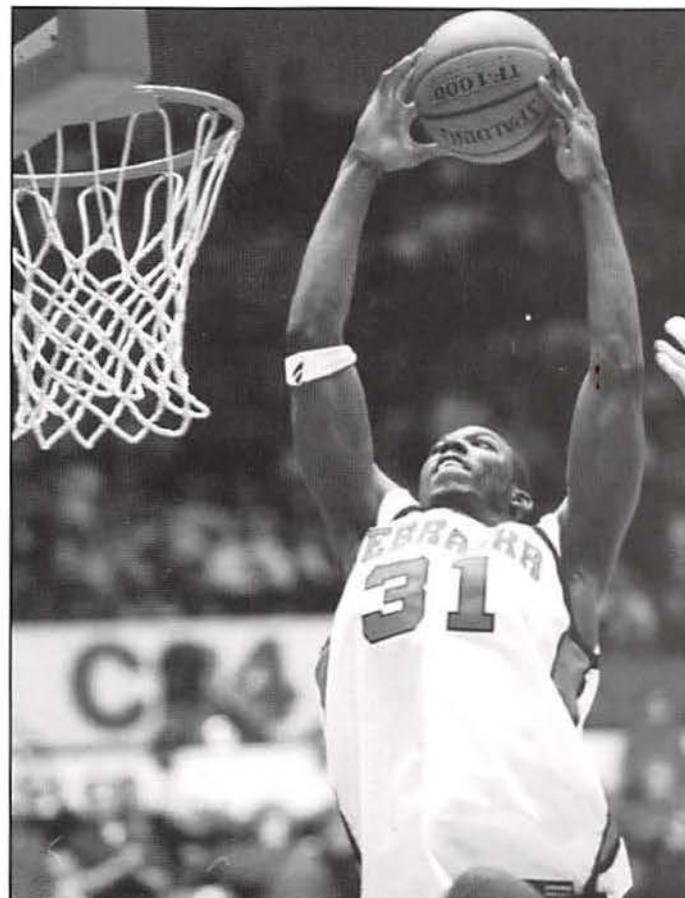

The Huskers have made 12 appearances in the NIT, most recently in 1999. Nebraska captured the NIT title in 1996 and advanced to the NIT semifinals in New York City on two other occasions (1983 and 1987). The Huskers own a 20-11 all-time record in the NIT. Overall, the Huskers are 20-17 in postseason play, excluding a loss in the 1949 NCAA playoff game between the Big Seven and Missouri Valley Conferences.

Huskers Hope Packed Devaney Center Provides Big Homecourt Advantage

The Nebraska athletic department has begun an aggressive campaign to sell season tickets. Fans are able to buy tickets on the internet at huskers.com and NU is introducing a new Husker student section called the "Red Zone." The Huskers are hopeful that a packed Devaney Center will add to an already strong homecourt advantage.

Nebraska is entering its 25th season in the 13,500-seat Bob Devaney Sports Center and owns an all-time record of 288-84 (.74), including a 172-22 (.887) mark vs. non-conference opponents and a 116-62 (.652) record against league opponents. The Huskers, who are 125-34 (.786) at home since the start of the 1990-91 season, are 77-8 (.906) in that stretch against non-league opponents and 48-26 (.649) vs. conference foes.

Nebraska finished 10-6 at home last season, marking the 10th straight year NU has had 10 or more home wins. However, the six home losses marked just the third time in 10 years, NU had dropped five or more home games. Since 1990-91, only 14 schools have exited Devaney with a win (34 times), including just eight who have won more than once in the building. Six of the last 15 teams to win at Devaney were ranked 20th or higher.

Senior center Kimani Ffriend earned preseason Big 12 honors from both conference coaches and media. The 6-11 Jamaican native led the league in blocked shots and ranked second in rebounds in his first season with NU.

Hire a Husker Program

The student-athletes at the University of Nebraska know what being part of success is all about. They understand the commitment that they make each year to their coaches and teammates will serve them well in their "quest to be the best" on the field of competition. During the summer, players make tremendous gains physically and the "team chemistry" starts to come together. In order to work out in Lincoln each summer, most players need some help financially. Huskers also realize that everything they do as student-athletes in preparation of winning championships will transfer with them throughout life into a successful employment opportunity and professional career.

When you hire a Husker, you are employing young adults who have qualities and strengths that will complement your business and associate needs. Husker student-athletes are self-motivated, disciplined and responsible. As they work to master their sport skills for competition, they too are gaining valuable experience in time management and organizational skills. A student-athlete from the University of Nebraska understands the demands of a full day, which typically includes attending classes, practice, strength and conditioning workouts, team meetings and studying. Huskers are prepared to accept the challenges of your employment opportunity. They are willing to learn and capable of doing the job you request.

Why is the Program Important?

Because of NCAA limitations on the number of athletic scholarships that are allowed to award each year, not every student-athlete who is a member of the football team is receiving a scholarship. Many of our athletes are walk-on team members who must endure the expenses of attending the university on their own. These athletes must work during the summer vacation period as well as during the academic year to offset registration fees and cost of living expenses. These non-scholarship athletes play an integral part in the success of our football program and without employment, would not be able to attend the university or participate on the football team. An employment opportunity for these young men simply make their dreams of becoming a Husker come true.

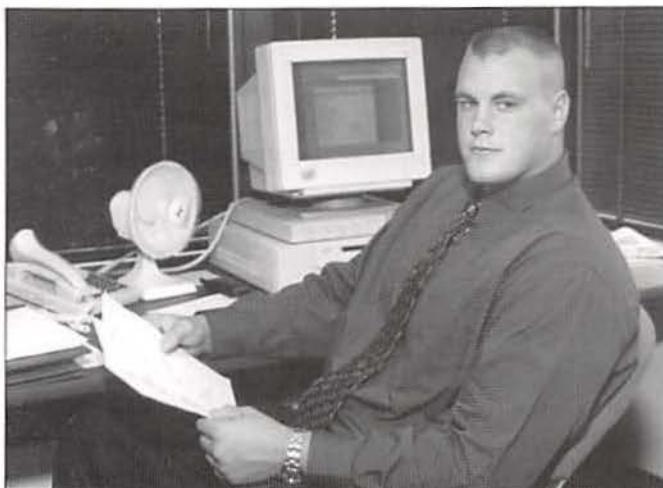

A football student-athlete who is receiving an athletic scholarship has all of his academic related expenses provided. These expenses include tuition, room and board and books and fees. However, all other personal expenses, such as return home travel, clothing needs, medical or dental services, telephone access, etc., are the responsibility of the student-athlete. The student-athletes who receive athletic scholarships also benefit greatly from summer and academic year employment. Employers who provide job opportunities for any of our football athletes play a very important role in the support system for our student-athletes.

Who to Contact About the Student-Athlete Employment Program

If you are interested in employing a Husker football player during the summer vacation period, you should contact the Nebraska Football Office at (402) 472-3116. Coaches Turner Gill and Dan Young along with football secretary Joni Duff will coordinate the placement of football athletes for your employment needs.

During the academic year, contact should be made with Theresa Becker, Assistant Compliance Director for the Athletic Department, located at 300 West Stadium. Proper forms and documentation regarding the employment of a student-athlete must be completed before beginning of employment as well as at the conclusion of the employment appointment. Feel free to call (402) 472-7009 with questions or concerns.

For more information regarding NCAA rules on student-athlete employment, please contact the University of Nebraska Compliance Office at (402) 472-2042.

Russ Hochstein was one of the Nebraska football players who participated in the "Hire a Husker" program last summer.

2000 Husker Employment Sponsors

Although the following listing may not adequately thank all of the individuals and businesses who have helped out the Husker work program over the years, the NU athletic department thanks these businesses for their support by allowing Husker student-athletes to gain valuable on-the-job experience. If your name or business was inadvertently omitted, we apologize. Thank you for your continued support of this program.

Hewit Place Latest Arts Venue for University

By Robb Crouch, NU Foundation

The opening Oct. 21 of Hewit Place makes downtown Lincoln home for two world-class art collections and respected research programs at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln: The Center for Great Plains Studies, Great Plains Art Collection, and Lentz Center for Asian Culture. University representatives, donors and the community celebrated the opening of the new facility located at 1155 Q St. across the street from the Lied Center for Performing Arts.

Interim Chancellor Harvey Perlman said that Hewit Place offers greater accessibility and increased public programming in its downtown location.

"The location of both the Great Plains Art Collection and Lentz Center for Asian Culture closer to the arts core of campus provides tremendous synergy," Perlman said. "And it offers the citizens of Lincoln and Nebraska opportunities for arts enrichment that have not been easily available before."

The building is named in honor of Bill and Betty Ruth Hewit, longtime supporters and alumni of the University of Nebraska. In addition to many important areas of support, the Hewits created two professorships: the Earl Dunlap Law Professorship and the James K. Ludwickson Distinguished Professorship in Mechanical Engineering.

"UNL is justifiably proud of its history of scholarship in the arts as well as its collections of art objects," said L. Dennis Smith, University of Nebraska president. "But collections are more valuable to both scholars and citizens when they are presented in an accessible and attractive setting. It is because the Hewits understand this that we have this wonderful new addition to the UNL campus."

The Center for Great Plains Studies is the oldest and largest interdisciplinary, intercollegiate, regional research and teaching center in the United States. It was created in 1976 by the University of Nebraska to study people and the environment of the Great Plains.

With its new home in Hewit Place, it's now able to house all personnel and offices under one roof - a dream for more than 25 years. The employees of the center were located in several spots on campus, including Love Library and Oldfather Hall.

"With plenty of room and office space, this world-class center of scholarship will surely surpass its own formidable reputation for excellence," Perlman said.

The Great Plains Art Collection formed in 1980 when John M. and Elizabeth Christlieb donated their collection of western art and western Americana library to the Center for Great Plains Studies. They also provided an endowment for the care and maintenance of the collection.

Now valued at more than $10 million, the 1,400-piece collection features masterworks by Frederick Remington, Charles Russell, Albert Bierstadt and Karl Bodmer. Acquisitions of works by artists including Keith Jacobshagen, Hal Holoun and others have augmented its value and stature.

The Lentz Center for Asian Culture opened in 1986 as Nebraska's only museum dedicated solely to works of Asian origin. Don and Velma Lentz, motivated by their many years of work and study throughout Asia, donated their collection to the University in 1983 and established an endowment to care for and grow the collection. Don Lentz was the director of University of Nebraska Bands from 1937 to 1973 and a professor of woodwind instruments at UNL.

A 40 percent increase in gallery space, increased space for collection storage and larger offices will help this center attract traveling national and international exhibitions, attract exhibitions or donations of works held by local community members, and solve work space problems.

"We are grateful for the support of so many individuals who have made this wonderful new building possible," said Terry Fairfield, University of Nebraska Foundation president and chief executive officer. "This building, and the beautiful new galleries, house important collections that will be even more accessible to the entire community in this new location. This project is truly a testament to the altruistic intentions of these outstanding individuals."

The contributions of many individuals have made the Hewit Place project possible. In addition to the Hewits, the Christliebs and the Lentzes, Paul and Florence Schorr and Harold and Jane Hines have also made a difference in the lives of students, faculty and staff at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

Paul and Florence Schorr have made gifts to support the needs of the NU president and the UNL chancellor. Through their plans, the Hewit Place project continues this effort. The Schorr President's Suite in Hewit Place will serve as a perfect location for the president and chancellor's meeting needs.

Harold and Jane Hines always had an interest in education, Nebraska and the Great Plains, ranging from music to the history of the Great Plains. Their plans for the university were crucial in making Hewit Place a reality.

Betty Ruth and Bill Hewit have a closer look at "Horse Thief" by artist Carl Korba, following dedication ceremonies of the Hewit Place, 1155 Q St. on Oct. 21. The Hewit Place now houses the Center for Great Plains Studies, the Great Plains Art Collection, the new Christlieb Gallery and the Lentz Center for Asian Culture.

11th Edition of Venerable Art Text Co-Authored by Mamiya

By Kathe Andersen, Hixson-Lied Fine and Performing Arts

For 76 years, Art Through the Ages has been the leading textbook for students in the field of art history. It's the text used by all sections of the two-semester introductory survey classes, Art History 101-102 at the University of Nebraska.

Christin Mamiya, professor of art history, has co-authored the 11th edition of this esteemed art history textbook, which has just recently been published by Harcourt College Publishers.

"It is indicative of the high esteem in which Christin's scholarship is held that she was chosen to rewrite it," said Andrea Bolland, assistant professor of art history. "What the publishers perhaps didn't realize when they asked her is that she is also an award-winning teacher, making her even more qualified to undertake the task of writing such a book."

Mamiya's work included not only writing the chapters, but selecting images and working with photo editors to secure photos/transparencies and permissions, as well as reviewing transparencies for color accuracy, editing four sequential stages of page proofs and providing input on design and production issues. She also provided input for all ancillaries, such as the Instructors' Manual, pronunciation guide, website and slide sets.

"The scope of the text itself is about as comprehensive as you can get," Mamiya said. "Covering art and history from prehistory to the present. The scope of the publication project was even more overwhelming. This book has more illustrations (1,400) and a greater percentage of those in color than any other art history textbook."

Almost 80 years ago, Helen Gardner, a teacher at The School of Art Institute of Chicago, had a vision to provide students and lecturers with a textbook that would introduce them to an artistic legacy spanning the globe. That vision, realized as Art Through the Ages, was published in 1926 and soon became the market leader. The text was written with students in mind, to introduce them to art from the Ice Age through successive civilizations of the Near East, Europe, the Americas and Asia, to the 20th century.

"This book is one of the most important titles published by Harcourt College Publishers," said Steven Drummond, marketing strategist for Gardner's Art Through the Ages at Harcourt. "We are very proud of its history and very excited about the prospects for the new (11th) edition. The introductory art history marketplace has approximately 250,000 students annually and Art Through the Ages 10th edition was used by about 30 percent of that number. We predict that the new edition will significantly increase that market share."

To introduce the previous 10th edition, the senior acquisitions editor at Harcourt visited various universities in 1995, including UNL, to talk to faculty. Mamiya spoke with her about the text and possible improvements. Mamiya received a call in early 1996 from the editor, who met with her at a conference they were both attending. At that dinner, the editor asked if Mamiya would consider rewriting the text for the 11th edition.

"Needless to say, I was rather taken aback, and it took me awhile to agree to assume this huge responsibility," Mamiya said.

Her work on the project began near the end of 1997 and continued until the 11th edition went to press at the end of May 2000. However, she completed it without the benefit of a leave or research assistants.

"At times I would complete a chapter at 5:30 a.m. and then go straight to campus to prepare for my 8 a.m. class," Mamiya said.

The book has two parts: prehistory through the medieval period and Renaissance to the present. Fred S. Kleiner, professor of art history and archaeology at Boston University, a specialist in Roman art and archaeology, wrote the first half; Mamiya wrote the second half. Richard G. Tansey worked on the fifth through 10th editions, but passed away shortly before work on the 11th edition began. His name remains on the author page for the 11th edition.

"Because this is an introductory survey text, I think one might assume that only general sources need to be consulted to write such a book," Mamiya said. "In fact, the opposite is the case. In order to ensure that the text incorporated the most accurate information and the most up-to-date scholarship, I found myself doing extensive and detailed research in order to distill that research down to a paragraph or two, sometimes a sentence or two. I also relied on my network of scholarly colleagues. I'm especially indebted to my fellow art historians in my department to answer questions that arose in the process of research."

The book is used by a range of students, from community colleges to Ivy League universities.

"I had to satisfy both traditional and progressive scholars, quite a balancing act," she said.

Considering all the parameters involved in this project, Mamiya is happy with the finished product.

"Given the amount of work that went into this text and the number of people involved in its production, I'm very pleased with the final book," she said. "The design and production teams at Harcourt did a great job. There are, of course, aspects that I think could be improved: passages rewritten, better transparencies obtained, but overall I think it's a beautiful book, and I'm very proud to have been a part of its publication."

Mamiya is quick to name her next project: "a really long nap!"

"Seriously, perhaps because of my work on this text, I've been approached by another publisher about writing a contemporary art textbook," she said. "However, I'm anxious to revive my research program. In addition to a few articles, I'm working on a book on contemporary photography. Also, in response to requests from museums and scholars, I'm working to have my Pop art book republished in revised form."

Mamiya has been at the University of Nebraska since 1987, currently serving as professor of art history and vice chair of the department of art and art history and adjunct curator of contemporary art at the Sheldon Memorial Art Gallery. In addition to Gardner's Art Through the Ages, she has written Pop Art and Consumer Culture: American Super Market (University of Texas Press, 1992). Her articles include several invited reviews for The Journal of American History, including a review of Meghan Morris' Too Soon, Too Late: History in Popular Culture published last March.

She has lectured extensively, including a presentation of her juried scholarly paper "The Writing of Hawaiian Art History: The Colonization of Knowledge?" at the College Art Association Annual Meeting in Toronto, Canada, in February 1998.

Mamiya received her A.B. cum laude in art history from Yale University and her M.A. and Ph.D. degrees in art history from the University of California, Los Angeles.
